Georgian Assails Misstatements in New Orleans Resolution as to Population and Growth of This City

CRESCENT CITY'S PROTEST IS PROVED UNREASONABLE

Shows Atlanta's National Banking Capital Exceeds Orleans' and Increased 400 per Cent to Latter's 17 in Ten Years

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—New Orleans scored another goose egg today when Senator Bandell presented and had read the resolution passed by the New Orleans chamber of commerce in criticism of the federal reserve organization committee at the loss of a regional bank. Senator Hoke Smith presented a comprehensive argument in refense of the committee's selection of Atlanta, and Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississota, was unsparing in his criticism of New Orlean's Attitude.

"New Orleans is actually so unreasonable, so violent in her protest that her citizens have actually petitioned one of the Louisiana senators to vote against the repeal of free tolls because New Orleans failed to get a reserve bank," said Williams. He said the performance of the Crescent City tended to confirm the off-repeated assertion of the republicans that the democratic party is incapable of exercising authority, and cannot even control or govern itself.

After having the New Orleans resolutions read, Senator Bansdell fought to have published in the congressional record the arguments submitted by Sol Wexler before the organization committee in support of a regional bank for New Orleans. Senator Martin, of Virginia, objected and Bansdell said he would read the arguments himself at some subsequent date.

"New Orleans will not rest her case with the recision of the organization committee," said Bansdell. "She intends to appeal to the entire membership of the reserve board, and our plan now is to create public sentiment by getting these arguments before the people of the country."

"Oh, New Orleans is just a little hysterical," declared Martin. "She takes herself too seriously, but will get over it all right. If New Orleans' argument is to be printed in the record, then the argument of all other cities should be published also, and I can see no reason for this."

HITCHCOCK IS DISPLEASED.

Senator Hitchcock, who is displeased because Omaha was placed in the Kansas City district, thought all of the arguments should be printed.

"There is a serious question," he said, "as to whether the organization committee followed the spirit of the law in locating the banks, and the whole matter should be aired. I hope the senator from Virginia will not insist on his objection against the publication of New Orleans' argument."

But the senator from Virginia objected just the same and insisted on his motion.

It was during the running debate between Senators Bansdell and Hitchcock that Senator Cummins, of Iowa, observed that the Republicans were treasuring the internal dissension in the Democratic party, but he couldn't hear what was being said.

"Let us have order, Mr. President," asked Cummins.

John Sharp Williams got into action with the strength of Cummins' applause. After reading a severe lecture to New Orleans he went on to deprecate the fact that the once old Democratic party" was disintegrating, and showing evidences of inability to work in harmony. Perhaps it never had.

"The poor old foolish Democratic party," he said, "is going through the same old grand jury goes through with it, time over she comes into power. Why, if the twelve apostles were on this committee and settled these reserve cities with divine inspiration, there would be some scurrilous criticism."

Notwithstanding the fact that Senator Bansdell was blocked in his efforts to have New Orleans' argument printed in the senate, Senator Smith succeeded in having Atlanta's reply to the New Orleans resolution read, in substance, as follows:

SENATOR SMITH'S REPLY.

The statement by the New Orleans resolutions that Atlanta has a population of not more than 154,829 is unfounded. Census reports shows the population of Atlanta from 1900 to 1910 increased at the rate of 75 per cent. No one familiar with the growth of this city will doubt that the percentage of increase since 1910 has been even greater. Atlanta now has a population between 210,000 and 220,000. While Atlanta increased in population from 1900 to 1910 at the rate of 75 per cent, New Orleans increased at the rate of only 18 per cent. Atlanta's percentages of growth continued it will be in excess, while until the population of Atlanta exceeds that of New Orleans.

The national banking capital and surplus of Atlanta now exceeds that of New Orleans. The national banking capital and surplus of Atlanta is $5,166,000. That of New Orleans only $6,730,000. The national banking capital of Atlanta increased from 1902 to 1912 400 per cent. The national banking capital of New Orleans increased from 1902 to 1912 1-2 per cent. Atlanta already has more national banking capital than New Orleans, and will contribute $113,000 more to the capital stock of the reserve bank than will New Orleans.

"Georgia has national banking capital and surplus $24,615,910. It will contribute one-third of the capital stock to the reserve bank of the sixth district.

"How unreasonable it would have been to decline placing the reserve bank in the state which contributes much more

Weatherman Gives Prediction of Some More Cold Weather

Says Two Cold Days Are Coming, but Is Non-Committal on Easter Conditions

The weather man predicts freezing temperature for Thursday night and a cold snap that will last at least two days. He says that the temperature will drop almost to freezing Wednesday night with the probability of reaching freezing by Thursday night.

Thursday will be fair but much colder, and the indications are that Friday will be cold also. The forecaster was too wise to commit himself as to the outlook for Easter Sunday, but there is a probability that warmer weather will follow Friday. A high area over North and South Dakota is responsible for the predicted cold, says the weather man.

Tuesday night the thunder and lightning gave a good imitation of a Mexican battle for a little while, and rain came down quite heavily during the night. A precipitation of .66 was recorded at the weather bureau.

Special Bulletin Gives Warning of Frost

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Warnings of April frosts over the gulf and south Atlantic states in the next forty-eight hours were contained in a special weather bulletin today.

"Abnormally high pressure and low temperatures prevail over the great interior basin of the country, the line of freezing temperature extending to the Oklahoma-Texas line," states the bulletin. "These conditions will move eastward and southeastward over the gulf and Atlantic states during the next twenty-four to forty-eight hours, and frosts may be expected Wednesday night to the gulf coast, with temperatures near or below freezing in the interior and frosts on Thursday night over northern Florida.

"In Georgia and the Carolinas freezing temperatures are likely on Thursday night, while in the northward they will be from ten to twenty degrees lower. Over the great central valleys and the west low temperatures will continue for another day or two."

Record Is Broken For Cold in April

(By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, April 8.—The lowest temperatures ever recorded so late in April were registered over most of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma and in north Texas today and local offices of the United States weather bureau predicted temperatures several degrees lower throughout this territory tonight.

The temperature here was 26 degrees, which breaks the local bureau records of 28 years standing. At Springfield, in the heart of the Ozark fruit belt, the mercury registered 26 degrees.

Temperatures unprecedented for this time of the year were precited for tonight at Dallas, Fort Worth and other Texas cities.

Snow in Texas Injures Fruit But Aids Cattle

DALHART, Texas, April 8.—Snow came back to Texas panhandle today when a temperature of 10 above zero was registered. All fruit in this section, it is believed, has been killed. An inch of snow has fallen. The snow is of great benefit to the cattle ranges which have been suffering from lack of moisture.

MAYOR WILL RECOGNIZE LEE AS FIRE CHAIRMAN

Says if Fifth Ward Councilman Insists, He Will Not Press the Point

Mayor Woodward said Wednesday that Councilman Thomas Lee, not Councilman B. Lee as chairman of the fire committee, in as much as Councilman Lee insists on being the chairman, chairman in as much as the city attorney has ruled that the mayor, once having named the committees of council, cannot change them.

"There are thirty members of council and thirty standing committees, which makes one chairmanship for each member of council," said the mayor. "Councilman Lee insists that he, Chairman of the fire committee in place of the late Alderman Grant, I overlooked the fact that this would leave Alderman Seawright, the successor to Alderman Grant, without a chairmanship. When I noticed the omission I sent council a communication explaining that I would like to make Mr. Seawright chairman of the fire committee. Of course I did not anticipate that anybody would object, much less Mr. Lee, and especially since I had already given Mr. Lee more than his share of committee chairmanships. But if he insists, I shall not press the point, and I am satisfied Aldermen Seawright and the other members of council (except possibly Mr. Lee) will understand my position."

This means that fire department vouchers signed by Councilman Lee as chairman of the fire committee will be approved by Mayor Woodward if they come to him in the regular way.

MR. WILSON INDORSED BY TARHEEL DEMOCRATS

(By Associated Press.)

RALEIGH, N. C., April 8.—Hearty approval of the administration of President Wilson was voiced at a mass meeting of the democratic party, the progressive North Carolina Democrats, Governor Locke Craig, permanent chairman of the meeting, praised the stand taken by the president on the tariff, currency and other questions. He paid tribute to Secretary of State Bryan and Secretary of Navy Daniels. A resolution indorsing the action of the administration without qualification was adopted unanimously.

Secretary Daniels and Senator Atlee Pomerene, of Ohio, will address tonight's session.

REPRESENTATIVE CLARK DIES AT HOME IN ALBANY

ALBANY, Ga., April 8.—C. M. Clark, representative in the state legislature from Dougherty county, died at his home here today, after an illness of several weeks. He was seventy-nine years old.

He constructed the first telegraph line into Albany and was the first telegraph operator here. He was in the telegraph service with the Confederate army.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. His wife and four sons survive.

BURNS AND DORSEY MEET AND DISCUSS LEO FRANK'S CASE

NEGRO JIM CONLEY WILL BE BRANDED AS SLAYER

Sleuth, in His Report, Will Declare Frank Is Not Guilty of Crime for Which He Has Been Convicted

The much heralded conference between Detective William J. Burns and Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey took place in the latter's offices Wednesday.

Burns called on the solicitor in order that he might have an opportunity to examine the physical evidence in the case, and nothing else was discussed, both gentlemen say.

The solicitor was asked if Mr. Burns had convinced him of the innocence of Leo M. Frank.

"He didn't even try," smilingly answered Mr. Dorsey.

Burns, after the conference and after his examination of the physical evidence, the notes, the clothing worn by the slain girl, etc., asserted that he was more firmly convinced than ever that the crime was committed by a pervert.

This means that Burns in his report will declare Frank innocent of the crime for which he has been condemned and will brand the negro Jim Conley as the real murderer. Burns is already on record as having repeatedly stated that Frank is not a pervert, but a normal man.

DOCTORS EXAMIE FRANK.

During the past twenty-four hours six physicians, among them specialists on nervous diseases, have made thorough physical examinations of Frank. While the physicians refuse to discuss the visit to Frank's cell, it is said they made the examination for Detective Burns.

The physicians who made the examination are Dr. J. Claxton King, Dr. J. A. McCleay, Dr. W. A. Gardner, Dr. L. M. Gaines, Dr. James N. Brawner and Dr. Hansell Stenhaus.

While Burns has never so stated it is known that his men, working on his theory that the crime was committed by a pervert and that Leo Frank is normal, have been collecting evidence which seeks to show that Conley himself, not the man he accuses, is abnormal.

Burns has declared in interviews that when a man is not normal that the fact can always be established by the proper sort of an investigation.

EXHIBITS SHOWN HIM.

Mr. Burns, accompanied by Dan S. Lehon, one of his lieutenants, C. W. Burke, a detective in the employ of the solicitor general's office, and Hooper, an attorney, who is interested in the case, called on the solicitor's office in the Thrower building shortly before noon Wednesday.

Mr. Burns, after examining the entire party left for Mr. Dorsey's Kiser building office, where the exhibits in the case are stored. They remained in conference until 1 o'clock.

On leaving the conference, Mr. Burns when questioned by a reporter, said:

"We called on the solicitor simply to see the various exhibits in the case. Mr. Dorsey received us very courteously, and readily showed us the physical evidence and gave us the information we came to get."

After examining the clothing worn by Mary Phagan, when she was murdered, Mr. Burns fully confirmed the fact that the crime was committed by a pervert.

"In fact that is one point the solicitor and I agree upon," he added smiling.

"We are one step nearer the end," he continued, 'and everything is working to establish the theory. I am absolutely confident of success."

CONFERENCE STOVER GIRL.

That Burns has secured evidence with which to contradict the statements made by Monteen Stover at the trial of Leo M. Frank is indicated by his declaration Wednesday that he does not believe the girl's story.

The girl was one of the state's best witnesses at the trial, and if Burns has found a way to disprove her story an important point for the defense, which will be used in the extraordinary motion, has been scored.

Miss Stover testified at the trial that she went to Frank's office at 12:05 o'clock on the day of the murder and failed to find Frank there. Solicitor Dorsey argued Frank was then in the act of room strangling Mary Phagan to death.

Recently Monteen Stover, her mother and her step father, Homer Edmondson, were called to the office of Attorney Samuel M. Inman.

Burns states he was telephoned that they were there and went over immediately to see the girl. As he walked into the office Mr. Boorstein, he says, remarked, "Other questions for Mrs. Stover and her mother, as if they had been frightened at the name, jumped up and left the room.

Burns says that then he remarked to the stepfather, who had remained, that he didn't believe the girl's story and asked him if he thought she visited the factory on the day of the tragedy.

BURNS IS INCENSED.

Burns was incensed at a published version of the meeting and declared the published report made it appear as if he was "putting up a job" on the girl.

"I am trying to get the truth," says Burns, "but I am not trying to talk to any one who is not willing to talk to me. It's not necessary in the case and I am not going to do it.

"I said as much to Mr. Edmondson when the girl and her mother ran out of the room, and I also told him I didn't believe the girl's story."

Edmondson is quoted as saying the detective told him he knew the girl was not telling the truth.

SPANIARDS DRIVEN FROM MEXICO ARE NOW ON U. S. SOIL

Colony of 800, Expelled by Rebels From Torreon, Cross Border Under Protection of United States

(By Associated Press.)

EL PASO, Tex., April 8.—Eight hundred members of the Spanish colony of Torreon, expelled from Mexico by General Villa after having passed through the recent battle that resulted in the capture of Torreon by the rebels, entered the United States today. They had been stripped of their property temporarily at least but supplied with temporary funds. They expressed relief as they crossed the wooden bridge over the Rio Grande to American soil.

They had refused to leave the train in which they and their baggage had come from Torreon to Juarez until George C. Carothers, special agent of the department of state, arrived to advise them. They sent word by a newspaper reporter to Carothers who left his breakfast and went to the train.

CARRANZA IS FIRM.

Carothers was unable to assure any that they would be restored to their homes, his interviews with General Carranza yesterday having met with the flat statement that expulsion of Spaniards from Mexico was a settled policy of the rebels and would be modified only in the cases of individuals who might be found innocent of mixing in politics.

Joaquin Pestinanez, an exile, said while Villa had not especially declared Spanish property would be confiscated, that it was "pretty well taken for granted in Mexico."

"I have personal knowledge that no one in this party did anything inimical to the rebel cause," he continued. "We are not rebels or Huertistas. Mexico is our home and we cannot but hope that some day we will be left to dwell in peace and security there."

All sorts of vehicles were called into service to transport the refugees and their belongings from Juarez to El Paso. There were trunks, wash boilers stuffed with bedding and clothes, clocks, parrots and kitchen utensils, all showing the haste with which they were collected after the order of expulsion was issued.

Two Towns Reported Captured by Rebels

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Official dispatches to the state department today report that Dona Cecilia, the town near Tampico, from which Rear Admiral Mayo ordered the removal of American women and children, and Arvol Grande, has fallen into the hands of constitutionalists.

Zapatistas again are active southwest of Mexico City.

They have attacked the mountain town of Iguala, cut the telegraph lines to Mexico City and are reported pressing on to the Pacific port of Acapulco. American interests there will be protected by the cruiser California, the French warship Montcalm has put in there.

USE OF RED CROSS NAME BRINGS FIGHT IN FEDERAL COURT

Red Cross Society Officials Here Begin War on Persons Using Symbol for Advertising or Other Purposes

Heralding the establishment here of a branch of the American Red Cross society, Charles Jenkinson, director of the Atlantic division of the society, had his attorneys served Wednesday afternoon on Dr. W. B. Lingo, surgeon at the Red Cross hospital on Cooper street, charging him with violating a government statute in using the name Red Cross for his hospital.

His case, announces Mr. Jenkinson, is but the first gun in a war to prevent all societies, manufacturing concerns, doctors and the like in Atlanta from using the red cross as a symbol.

Dr. Lingo was brought before United States Commissioner Colquitt Carter Wednesday morning. The hearing was postponed until Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The warrant against Dr. Lingo charges him with violating an amendment to an act of congress passed in January, 1905, the amendment approved June 23, 1910, providing that it shall be unlawful for any person in the United States outside the army and navy and the Red Cross society, to pass himself off as a member of the Red Cross society or to use the Red Cross as an insignia.

Dr. Lingo says not only is he not violating this law, but that he will prosecute Jenkinson for charging him with its violation.

"I have been using the red cross in my practice since 1904," he declared on Wednesday morning. "Jenkinson says that the act applies only to those who used it after 1905, and yet, it applies chiefly only to those using it since the amendment was passed, June 23, 1910. Why, I got a permit from the city of Atlanta in 1908 allowing me to operate the Red Cross hospital, training school for nurses, training me as a physician and graduate college for physicians. And I applied for a charter from Fulton county incorporating me as the Red Cross hospital on May 20, 1910. It was granted June 28, 1910. This very woman, Mrs. E. S. Tupman, who is assisting Jenkinson in the prosecution, came down here and lectured to my nurses in 1912. And she looked over my papers at that time and told me they were all right.

"Then Fellow came out here Sunday and told me I would have to discard the red cross from my ambulances and take the red cross from my nurses and take it from hospitals name. He actually told the nurses they would be subject to $100 fine if they wore the red cross. 'I told him I didn't mind taking it off my ambulances, but that the name Red Cross hospital was the one I had been making my living under here for years and that I simply couldn't discard it and that I didn't have to, as I was chartered.

Mr. Jenkinson says: "All who use the red cross symbol in Atlanta have been notified that they will have to abandon it.

"If they haven't done so by Monday, I will force prosecution against them.

HARDWICK ATTACKS GEORGIA'S RULES ON SENATE NOMINATIONS

Declares Plan Adopted by the State Executive Committee Is "Unjust to People—Astonishing and Indefensible"

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick, who is a candidate for the short term United States senatorship from Georgia, today gave out a statement scoring the rules adopted by the state executive committee to govern the nomination of United States senators. He asserts that the action of the committee is astonishing and indefensible.

"The plan is unjust to the people of Georgia," he declares, "and will in all probability imperil their right to choose their senators at the ballot box, and transfer the real choice to a curiously constituted convention, where all sorts of log rolling, trading and combining will hold high carnival."

The congressman asserts that no candidate for the United States senate in Georgia has ever been nominated by the county unit plan, or county system. He calls attention to the fact that Speaker Crisp was nominated by the popular vote of the entire state in 1896; that Senator Clay was thus nominated in 1902 and 1908; that Senator Bacon's nominations were won in this way in 1900, 1906 and 1912.

"Why are the unbroken precedents of eighteen years thrown to the winds, without compunction or hesitation?" he asks.

The statement follows:

"The action of the state committee in providing a convention plan for the nomination of United States senator from Georgia is both astonishing and indefensible. It is unjust to the people, not only violates every precedent of the past, but is, in my judgment, a backward step in the direction of a more pronounced character. More than that it is most unjust to the people of Georgia, and, in the event of a real contest, will in all probability imperil their right to choose their senators at the ballot box, and transfer the real choice to a curiously constituted convention where all sorts of log rolling, tradig and combining may hold high carnival.

"I challenge any defender or apologist for this action to point to a single senatorial primary that the Democratic party of Georgia have ever held in which any county unit plan or convention scheme was adopted, or in which our senators were nominated in any other way except by the consolidation of the popular vote of the entire state, and the bestowal of the nomination upon the candidate with the largest number of popular votes in the entire state. Speaker Crisp won his nomination in such a primary in 1896. Senator Clay was nominated in that kind of primaries in 1902 and 1908 and Senator Bacon likewise nominated in 1900, 1906 and 1912. The very unexpired term that we are about to fill was awarded to Senator Bacon as the result of a state-wide primary, with the total popular vote of the people of the ballot box determining the issue, and not by the juggling convention plan.

Then I ask what sudden emergency

STOP-OVER TICKETS TO END OLD FIGHT ON MILEAGE BOOKS

Agreement Between Railroads and Traveling Men's Representatives Is Approved by State Railroad Commission

INTERCHANGEABLE FORM WILL GO BACK ON SALE

With Coupons Traveler Can Buy Ticket After June 1 Permitting Him to Make Stops Within Five-Day Limit

By agreement filed with the railroad commission Wednesday morning and the commission's compliance in it, the traveling men of Georgia and the trunk line railroads of the state have ended their long fight over the question of mileage-coupon pulling by train conductors.

Under this agreement, the railroads will restore within ten days all theif former interchangeable mileage coupon books—forms Z, ZZ, F. I. M. and penny scrip which they withdrew from sale after the commision's order that mileage must be pulled on trains had been upheld by the state supreme court.

Further, under this agreement, the railroads will put on sale what will be known as stop-over tickets, whereby a traveler can stop at as many points as he desires between his starting point and the ultimate destination of his ticket. These tickets will be good for five days after the date of issue.

ORDER REPEALED.

In approving this agreement, the railroad commission repealed its order of November 8, 1912, whereby the railroads were directed to "pull" mileage on trains. That order followed a long fight between the commercial traveling men in Georgia and the railroads, the latter having issued orders prohibiting the pulling of mileage on trains and requiring that it be exchanged at ticket windows for train tickets. The traveling men say that is because the delay of exchanging mileage for tickets at small stations where the agent is general factotum often inconvenienced them considerably. The railroads resisted in the courts the order of the commission. The supreme court finally decided in favor of the commission and the order was sustained. Thereupon the railroads withdrew from sale the interchangeable mileage. The commission followed this with rules now served on the railroads, directing them to show why they were not liable to penalties prescribed by law for refusing to sell tickets without the commission's previous approval.

STOP-OVER TICKETS.

The new stop-over tickets will be on sale at all regular ticket offices after June 1, and will be subject to the usual regulations as to checking of baggage and redemption of unused portions.

By purchasing one of these tickets from Atlanta, say to Macon, the traveling man can spend five days at each stop he desires between these cities, stopping off wherever he desires and boarding a later train bound toward his destination. He will obviate the necessity of buying a ticket after every stop.

The parties of this agreement are R. A. Broyles, representative of the Georgia division of the T. P. A.; James L. Mayson, attorney for both the preceding, and the following railroads:: Southern, A. C. L., N. C. & St. L., S. A. L., Macon and Birmingham, A. B. & A., Macon, Dublin and Savannah, Central, A. & W. P. and Georgia railroads.

CONFERENCE HELD ON M'PHERSON SUPPLIES

Way Practically Worked Out to Buy Supplies for Fort From Atlanta Merchants

A way in which supplies for Fort McPherson can be bought in Atlanta without violating the terms of a general order recently issued by the war department in reference to purchases for all the army posts was practically worked out Wednesday at a conference in the chamber of commerce between the wholesale trade committee of the chamber and two army officers.

Lynn Fort, chairman of the committee, presided, and Walter C. Cooper, secretary of the chamber, was secretary of the meeting. The army officers present were Colonel John B. Bellinger, chief quartermaster at Governor's Island, and Major L. F. Garrard, of Fort McPherson.

$25,000,000 PAID TO COLOMBIA FOR CANAL

U. S. Comes to Terms With Republic for Panama Zone Rights

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Twenty-five million dollars is the amount the United States agrees to pay to Colombia for the partition of Panama and the acquisition of the canal zone in the treaty signed in Bogota by American Minister Thompson and the Colombia authorities. This was stated here today at the Colombian legation.

No rights for a new inter-oceanic canal across Colombia by the Atrato river route and no coaling privileges on St. Andrews and Providencia islands off the Colombian coast, it was added, were contained in the treaty.

While the Colombian minister, Senor Betancourt, received a cable from his foreign office, informing him of the signing of the agreement, the state department still was awaiting word from Mr. Thompson.

The boundary between Colombia and Panama is to follow the line laid down in an earlier treaty which was signed but never approved by the Colombian congress.

GAVE UP FREE PASSAGE.

One important demand which the South America republic has been insisting upon the free passing of her merchant vessels through the canal, was given up because of President Wilson's attitude for repeal of the tolls exemption. That had been a stumbling block in the way of final agreement.

The Colombian congress will be called in special session to pass on the treaty before it is submitted to the senate here.

Acceptance of the latest treaty will end ten years of negotiations and friction between the United States and Colombia and relieve strained diplomatic relations which have been watched with the keenest interest by all Central and South American republics. Colombia has insisted all along that the United States either pay a lump sum for the canal zone it required when the little republic of Panama was set up overnight with guarantees of integrity from Washington or that the whole question be submitted to The Hague for arbitration.

The last negotiations was just at the close of President Taft's administration when Minister Dubois, instruction of Secretary Knox offered a settlement on this basis:

TRI-PARTITE TREATY.

Ratification by Colombia of the so-called tri-partite treaty of 1909, also known as the Knox-Arosemena treaty, by which Panama agreed to apportion with Colombia the annual payment of $250,000 which she receives from the United States as rent for the canal zone for a sufficient period to liquidate any claim of Colombia's up to $10,000,000.

Payment of $10,000,000 cash to Colombia by the United States for an option on the Atrato river canal route and coaling sites at St. Andrews and Old Providencia.

An offer of the friendly influence of the United States with Panama for an adjustment between Panama and Colombia over the partition.

ATRATO CANAL OPTION.

The Atrato canal option would have continued for seventy-five years during which Colombia would have received the sum of $10,000,000 with interest; she might has recovered about $16,000,000 on the Panama railroad claims had an arbitration been in her favor; other claims were estimated at some $25,000,000. In all, the Colombian view all her contentions her resovery would have totaled more than $50,000,000.

Just then going out of office, President Taft transmitted a letter to congress containing Secretary Knox's report of the negotiatoins saying that Colombia, by refusal, had "closed the door to any further overtures by the United States." Secretary Hay had previously denied to submit Colombia's claims to arbitration on the ground that they were political and not justiciable; and, further, that they might call in the question of the right of Panama to exist as a sovereign state.

Soon after President Wilson took office the negotiations were re-opened and have been proceeding steadily to the conclusion reached yesterday.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY COUNCIL TO CONVENE

M. E. Church Workers to Hold Convention in Fort Worth Until April 17

(By Associated Press.)

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 8.—With delegates present from practically every state embraced in southern Methodism, the woman's missionary council, Methodist Episcopal church, south, will convene in Fort Worth tonight and continue in session until April 17.

Unusual interest is attached to this year's meeting, as it is believed several important questions affecting the government of the council will be acted upon for presentation to the quadrennial session of the general conference of the Methodist church, south, which meets in Oklahoma City in May.

While the missionary council proper will not open until tonight, conferences will be held during the afternoon, the most important of which, led by Mrs. Bessie W. Lipscomb, home base secretary, of Nashville, Tenn., will discuss methods of home and foreign mission work. Secretaries of the forty conferences embraced in the council and the executive committee were expected to attend this meeting.

PRICE OF CRUDE OIL IS CUT 5 CENTS OF BARREL

(By Associated Press.)

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., April 8.—Reckoning it is said, of overproduction, pipe line companies in the Oklahoma-Kansas fields today reduced the price of crude oil from $1.05 to $1 per barrel.

This is the first reduction in six years when the price began to advance from a 35-cent basis.

The Real Irony of Fate

The Authors' club in New York one evening a number of members were swapping stories, when one told a tale during the course of which he more than once used the term "the irony of fate."

"That expression," remarked one of his listeners, "may well have fitted the emergency of your story, but I have a better one. Once, in San Francisco, when I was nearly down and out, I received a money order from home for the sum of $40, and the only man who could identify me was one to whom I owed $38."

Gen. Villa's Night Attacks Inspire Foes With Terror

Rebel Chief's Military Movements Have Weird and Sinister Aspect—Men View Him With Peculiar Mixture of Fear and Confidence

EL PASO, Texas, April 8.—Embroiling the salient facts of the successful constitutionalist campaign against Torreon are a multitude of incidents hardly less interesting," said J. R. Taylor, who, as Associated Press correspondent, accompanied General Villa. He reached El Paso Monday night.

"What struck one chiefly during the campaign was the mixture of fear and confidence which Villa's name inspired in his followers. General Villa says he will shoot anybody who cuts the telegraph wires by shooting from the train, called out an officer to soldiers on top of a troop train who were improving their marksmanship by shooting at the insulators on telegraph poles. Instantly the careless firing ceased. Nobody doubted that Villa meant what he said.

"Send this telegram at once,' said a newspaper corespondent to a military operator in his field office under a tree near the railroad track. 'I can't Senor,' was the regretful response. "General Villa has just notified us that no messages must go out until further orders from him or he will shoot us if we send this one, even though it is approved by his private secretary,' ' to which there was no obviously ne answer.

"The camp at Verjel, just above Gomez Palacio, was alive with sinister rumors. A man started to lead his horse to drink from one of the numerous irrigation ditches in the vicinity. 'Don't drink that water—don't let your horse drink it,' came a warning cry from a number of soldiers. That water comes from near Torreon and it is poisoned by the federals. Two men and two horses drank of it this morning and died at once.'

EVIDENCE OF WAR.

"To this camp returned the long line of wounded from the first day's fight at Gomez Palacio. Previously the campaign had been a sort of holiday. But these pitiful evidences left no doubt that this is war. The wounded endured their sufferings with remarkable fortitude. In the little improvised hospital near the raiload hospital train at Verjel were probably seventy men lying on cots and not a single groan came from one of them.

"Courage in the hospital was matched by courage in the field—by a willingness to venture everything for the great prize of death in battle. Never were raw soldiers more easily turned back from flight into the thick of death and conflict. During the first daylight artillery and infantry attack on Gomez Palacio, the federal fire grew so hot that things seemed to be going badly for the rebels. Men began to leave the trenches and make their way to the rear. Two cannons were attached to caissons that were waiting to be placed in position at a certain point and began also to move backward, the drivers urging the mules on in plain incipient panic.

"All at once, a Mexican boy about 15 years old, rode on horseback through the mesquite in the direction of the rearward movement. 'Vuelva!' (go back) he yelled again and again, putting spurs to his horse. And at the word from a mere boy the cannons were stopped and turned, fac men faced the shot and shell from the south once more and all marched cheerfully back to the field they were about to abandon.

"In simple justice it must be said there were few evidences of vandalism. During Gomez Palacio, some soldiers rode up to a well-kept cottage on the ground of the soap factory. The proprietor from the front yard watched them anxiously. One soldier approached the gallery where a magnificient climbing rose vine was brilliant with red roses. He took one, waved it gaily to his companions and all rode on, leaving the house owner astonished at this illustration of military moderation. The incident is typical. In battle, and too often out of it, the Mexican is ruthless. Under ordinary circumstances he is apparently the most pólite and agreeable of men.

"There is one branch of the federal service, however, for which the rebel has a constant store of ferocity. That is the volunteer branch, made up of followers of Orozco in the anti-Madero revolution, called "Colorados" in the military slang of the day. The constitutionalists believe all 'Colorados' must and should die.

"A prison train to the north seldom reaches Chihuahua without making a halt enroute to shoot two or three men identified as former followers of Orozco. It is said Bachihuia, the place where Orozco was defeated by Huerta, is a favorite place for such summary executions. On the other hand the regulars, the 'Pelons,' are regarded with a certain respect and treated almost with consideration. They are forced into the service, rebel officers explain, and only fight because they have to.

"Through the whole campaign Villa has been direct and simple in his methods. Torreon was taken by main strength and tenacity. When will Torreon fall?' a newspaper correspondent asked Villa at headquarters the day after the failure of a night assault from which success had been expected. 'I don't know,' he said simply. 'All I know is the town is going to be taken before we quit.

"The taking of Torreon has confirmed Villa in his belief in night fighting—his principal contribution to date to the science of Mexican warfare. It is true that at night there may be confusion and the troops may fire on their own side, as is said to have occurred once when Torreon was taken, but on the other hand, he holds, night attacks give the assailants protection they would not otherwise have, keep the garison in constant suspense and have a greater moral effect on the enemy.

"The three salient features of the campaign against Torreon, features which will no doubt be carried into the campaign against other cities to the east and south, were the comparative efficiency of the sanitary arrangements said to be unequaled in the history of Mexican warfare; the remarkable quickness with which the wrecked railways in front of the advancing army were made passable and the continuance of night attacks giving the combatants a wierd and sinister aspect which the struggle by day would always lack."

AD MEN WILL DISCUSS PLAZA PLAN AT LUNCH

Architect Haralson Bleckley Will Explain Details at Meeting Thursday

"Now we have a topic in which every body is interested," comments the announcement by the Ad Men's club of the subject to be talked about at its next luncheon—the plaza plan.

Haralson Bleckley, the architect, who originated the plan and has worked out many of its details, will explain it fully, his address being the feature of the club's luncheon.

"The proposed bond issue of $2,000,000 to finance a scheme to cover over the railroad tracks in the center of the city and make the cover both useful and ornamental is coming before the voters in a short time. Every member of the Ad Men's club should know the plan in detail. Come to the meeting Thursday and get the particulars," says the announcement.

Don't Trifle With Your Health!

—it is too precious a possession. It is trifling to neglect the little every-day kind of ailments. It is trifling, too, to take medicines of unknown or doubtful ingredients. If your stomach gets out of order, your food is not digested and, of course, your blood gets thin and you become weak, ready to be a prey to the disease germs always ready to attack the run-down and the anaemic. If your liver can't do its work, your blood becomes impure and many troubles follow. If your bowels are irregular, poisons accumulate in your body.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

(In Tablet or Liquid Form)

helps the stomach to digest food properly, strengthens the liver, regulates the bowels. As a consequence you are vigorous, full of snap and life! Forty years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that a glyceric extract of Golden Seal and Oregon grape roots, of queen's root and bloodroot with black cherry bark would aid and greatly strengthen the digestive organs to work as Nature intended they should. Thousands have found that the Golden Medical Discovery he then introduced to the world has restored them to health when suffering from stomach and liver troubles. Now is the time for you to try this famous remedy and to secure for yourself a larger share of health and strength.

You can get the Golden Medical Discovery in tablet or liquid form from dealers in medicines—or send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's tablets.

The knowledge you ought to have about your body—and to enable you to avoid sickness—you will find in Dr. Pierce's great book, The Common Sense Medical Adviser. Thousands of copies have been sold at $1.50 each, but you can get a copy free if you will send 31 one-cent stamps merely to pay for the wrapping and mailing of the newly revised and up-to-date edition. Address: Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y.

Now a Well and Happy Woman

"I took Le Grippe—had terrible pain in my side, and the doctor said one lung was affected," writes Mrs. S. Taylor, of Arnold, Kansas, Route 1. "I commenced using 'Medical Discovery.' Was in bed five weeks. Had cold sweats and was like one to two was dying. I did not think I would ever get strong again. So I commenced using Golden Medical Discovery' for about five months, and now I am strong and well and no cough of any kind. We used Dr. Pierce's medicines in the family for a number of years, but the winter I tried them myself and they are all right. They are claimed to be. I cannot praise them enough, and hope others using these remedies will do as well. I am capable of doing as myself; before I was so weak and discouraged but thanks to Dr. Pierce's family medicines I am a well and happy woman."

SERIOUS CATARRH YIELDS TO HYOMEI

Be wise in time and use the Hyomei inhaler at the first symptom of catarrh, such as frequent head colds, constant sniffling, raising of mucus, or droppings in the throat. Do not let the disease become deep-seated and you are in danger of serious if not fatal ailment.

There is no other treatment for catarrh, head colds, husky voice or bronchitis, like the Hyomei method, none just as good, so easy and pleasant to use, or that gives such quick, sure and lasting relief. You breathe it—no stomach dosing, always sold with agreement to refund your money if you are not benefited.

Try Hyomei at once and see how quickly it clears the head, stops the sniffling, and banishes catarrh. Hyomei will help you to enjoy good health. All druggists sell it. Ask for the complete outfit—$1.00 size.—(Advt.)

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, overworked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy can do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcels Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

WANT PART OF FULTON TO FORM NEW COUNTY

Citizens Would Merge South Section With Parts of Clayton and Campbell

A movement has been started to form a new county from the southern portion of Fulton, parts of Clayton and Campbell counties and a small part of DeKalb. It is in the hands of a committee of citizens representing the country districts in the area covered by the plan and the municipalities of East Point, College Park and Hapeville. It is suggested tentatively that with the creating of the proposed new county, the towns of Hapeville, College Park and East Point could be merged into one, with a combined population of more than 12,000, the new city to furnish a site for the courthouse.

Headquarters of this movement are to be established at an early date, and an active campaign among members of the Georgia legislature is contemplated. The leaders in the plan expect to place it before the assembly this summer.

Alleged neglect by the county road authorities of the roads in south Fulton is the basis of the argument for the new county. Citizens at the head of the movement claim that north Fulton has been improved unreasonably, notwithstanding considerable sums in taxes more are paid by the property owners in in the south of the county.

NEGLECT IS CHARGED.

Neglect is alleged also against the road authorities in the three other counties affected. The argument is advanced that with the seat of government closer at home, more benefits from their money will be realized by the taxpayers.

The citizens interested in the movement are not antagonistic to public improvements in any part of the county, but argue that the work should be more equally distributed and that with the proposed new county improvements could be made on the south side equally as good as those on the north end of Fulton, says a statement issued in behalf of the plan.

The statement says the territory covered by the proposed new county will show a population of more than 16,000 with tax valuations of more than $12,-000,000.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS DISCUSSED

Harry Hodgson, of Athens, to Lead Debate at Education-al Conference

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8.—Early sessions of the Conference for Education in the South today were occupied in discussion on the best methods of organizing and conducting farmers' co-operative associations. The conferences on this subject were participated in by several government experts from the department of agriculture who explained the conditions necessary, the principles embodied in the idea and the methods which have been most successful.

This is business men's day at the conference and program calls for an address at the mass meeting by Thomas C. Powell, of Cincinnati, vice president of the Southern railway. Representatives of commercial bodies in the south submitted reports at the business men's conference on what these organizations are doing to develop agricultural life. Later in the day, Harry Hodgson, of Athens, Ga., will lead the discussion on the question: "Will the Growth of Farmers Co-operative Associations be Disadvantageous to Business Interests?"

TWO COUNTRIES LEAD U. S. IN MEAT EATING

Australia and Argentina According to Population Lead the World

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Australia and Argentina are the only two countries known to have a greater per capita consumption of dressed meat than the United States, according to the department of agriculture in a statement today.

"Australia and Argentina," says the statement, "are countries of sparse population and vast herds and flocks, hence meat is exceedingly cheap and native consumption large and probably wasteful."

The per capita consumption of meat for Australia and Argentina is estimated to be about 250 pounds per annum. The corresponding consumption for the United States was completed by the Peteta bureau of animal industry to be 172 pounds in 1909 and it is estimated to be about ten pounds less now. This, according to the department is much greater than the British consumption the largest in Europe, which is slightly less than 120 pounds per inhabitant per annum.

LARGE SEISMOGRAPH IS BEING ERECTED

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 8.—Construction of what will be one of the four largest seismographs in the United States was begun today at the University of Chicago. TEA AND SUGAR DUTIES LIKELY TO BE REDUCED

LONDON, April 8.—The question has been much discussed recently as to whether Chancellor Lloyd George, with a budget surplus of about $8,750,000 will make reductions in taxation. It has been rumored that he would reduce tea and sugar duties but nothing is known on this point. Apparently the chancellor's idea is to obtain the good will of the farming class by his proposed land reform and in other ways.

Easter Dresses of Delightful Charm

Staged in the Easter Parade, They Will Command Admiration

BEFORE we ring up the curtain on these new styles, take this peep behind the scenes. Our buyer hurried to New York in mid-March, attended the fashion expositions and selected his styles. Our makers then copied or adapted these styles; the dresses have only recently left their hands. Newness and charm mark each gown. Such a delightful array! All the pretty styles that a woman admires—and at just the prices she expected to pay. In many instances, less than she had expected to pay. There are chiffon, taffetas, Pussy Willow taffetas, moires, crepe de chines and novelties. Black and soft springlike shades. Dresses that deserve a place in the Easter parade. $16.75, $25, $29.50 to $60.

"Good-Bye Old Hook & Eye"

Koh-i-noor DRESS FASTENER

Our dresses are fitted with the Kohinoor dress fastener, that does away with the tedious and cumbersome hook and eye. Snap; everything is fast to stay.

Separate Skirts Are in High Favor

Just why skirts should give such indications of popularity this season is a mystery. Perhaps it is because waists are unusually pretty, perhaps because the manufacturers of women's coats have produced such happy effects, or maybe it's just a turn of fashion's wheel that has brought Skirts to the front. But here they are, in the greatest diversity of materials and styles—

Prices from $5 to $15

Of serges, poplins, crepe weaves, plaids and checks and soft taffeta, faille silk and crepe and silk moires, which lend themselves so readily to the new flounces and tunics. One-side pannier effects are pronounced and some new yoke-style are in evidence. (Ready-to-Wear, Second Floor.)

The Silk Petticoat for Your Easter Suit or Gown

Should be a "Klosfit"—the petticoat that fits without a wrinkle. Petticoats are sized for the slender, average and full figures. Slip into your size petticoat—we have them all—and it at once adjusts itself snugly and without a wrinkle over the hips.

There's a gusset seam at side to take up any fullness; also an elastic at top. The top elastic and silk are stitched through and through together so that they cannot slip apart or roll in a lump.

Klosfit petticoats are made of guaranteed silk messaline, and silk jersey. Also jersey with messaline flounce. Black, white and every desirable shade. $5. (Petticoats, Second Floor.)

Regal Black Laces at $1.19

Regularly $2.50 to $6.50

—Women who know the charm of black laces for blouses or as trimmings for dresses, coats and wraps, will be glad to choose from these sumptuous styles at $1.19. There are edges, bands and galloons in widths from 8 to 15 inches. Favored patterns are included—Chantillys, Venise, Fillet, embroidered net bands, Fillets and net tops. Actual values $2.50 to $6.50; choice $1.19.

$1.50 to $2.50 Embd. Flouncings $1.19

A sale of sumptuousness. Filmy fabrics such as voile, crepe, neige, batiste and mull are bewitchingly embroidered. The crepe in dainty colors; the others in all white. Solid, Irish and Venise patterns. 45 inches wide—Ah! the possibilities for glorious summer gowns.

(Laces, Main Floor, Right.)

A New Silk Shirting at 50c

—Designs of original freshness and charm that will stand untold rubbing. The fabric is silk and cotton, the beauty of one wedded to the serviceability of the other. Black or colored stripes on white grounds, the whole beautified by brocade patterns. Wonderfully attractive for shirts and waists, 32 inches. 50c.

New Handkerchiefs from Madeira Are In

Good news for women who particularly like the dainty little squares which the Island workers send us. In snowy white, or sometimes color, with the little scalloped edges and embroidery in one corner, all done by hand—50c and 75c each.

35 Colors & Black in These Boot Silk Hose at 50c Testify to Our —belief in their worth. They are worthy—every thread is perfect. Full fashioned and finely finished. Lisle feet and garter top, with choice of lisle or high spliced silk heel. Black, white and about every color on the card. 50c. (Hosiery Main Floor, Right)

Umbrella Insurance "By Wireless"

"Plague take a useless umbrella!" Makes even a saint swear when ribs break and poke through the cover. Such woe impossible to the owner of a Rich's Wireless umbrella.

For instead of being strung on a wire, the ribs of a Rich's wireless are attached by a ball-and-socket combination. Hence the ribs can not break and push through the cover—a new umbrella free if they do.

Should you want this umbrella—and you will when you see it demonstrated—pay the usual price—$1, $1.25, $1.50 up to $6. (Umbrellas, Main Floor, Right.)

ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS

Are the link that connects YOU with figure perfection from the moment you first put them on. They create youthful, slender-appearing "lines"—the effect is that you seem almost corsetless.

They are supple, easy, graceful, and cling to your form in a most pleasing, comfortable manner, thus assuring the absolutely correct foundation for ANY gown you may wish to wear.

It will PAY YOU to see the charming new designs, now on display in our corset department. Price $1 to $5.

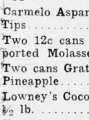
DANDRUFF ON HEAD IN SHEETS

Pimples and Rash On Scalp. Hair Fell Out. Itch Terrible. Wanted to Tear Skin Off. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.



Box 165, Smithfield, N. C.—"When I first began to notice dandruff on my head I used to scratch up scales and large sheets of it. There were pimples and rash on my scalp. I scratched the scalp until sores came especially on the top of my head and back of my neck. My hair fell out by degrees more at a time when the scalp had sores on it. My hair was thin, dry and lifeless, and the dandruff was thick and could be seen through the hair. My head would itch terrible. I wanted to tear the skin off.

"I used the Cuticura Soap as a shampoo once a week and Cuticura Ointment twice a week just after the hair dried. I found benefit and relief after the first application and a thorough cure in two months." (Signed) Mrs. Geo. High, June 20, 1913.

Are your little ones suffering from itching, burning eczemas, or other torturing, disfiguring skin troubles? Are you, yourself, worn out with long, sleepless nights and ceaseless anxiety in caring for them? Then you should know that a warm bath with Cuticura Soap and a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment will in most cases bring immediate relief. The little sufferers will sleep, tired, fretted mothers will rest, and peace will fall on distracted households. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

SAYS WIFE MARRIED HIM FOR SPITE; GETS DIVORCE

D. A. Curtis Tells Jury She Wore Flashy Clothes and Wanted to Be Actress

With more than thirty divorces granted Wednesday, eighteen of which were second verdicts with decrees of total divorce, the last stage of the hearing of undefended cases, 122 in all, in Judge Ellis' court room was reached. Thursday morning about ten remaining cases are to be heard, and the undefended cases will be over.

Out of the mass of business, the case of D. A. Curtis against Kate .. Curtis stood out prominently.

The husband, who is a brother of A. L. Curtis, proprietor of the Curtis Drug store, at Mitchell and Forsyth streets, told a remarkable story of married life from the witness stand.

His wife, he said, one month after the wedding, stated to him that she loved another young man, and that she had married Curtis only out of spite.

Curtis said he was forty years old and his wife eighteen at the time of their marriage, in February, 1908. They separated on April 27, 1911.

Cruel treatment was the ground for the husband's petition.

He said his wife asserted frequently that she did not believe in marriage, that she believed in the future that marriage would be done away with and men and women would be then permitted to remain with each other only so long as love lasted.

She, would stay at home day after day, reading novels and love stories, he said, while the house became dirtier and more neglected, sometimes not being cleaned or swept for three days.

He said once she tried to leave Atlanta with the Madam Sherry Opera company, and then later tried to go to Tampa with a theatrical company. In both cases he managed to dissuade her.

He was granted a second verdict of total divorce, with permission to remarry. The woman, however, was placed by the jury under disabilities which will prevent her from marrying in the State of Georgia. She is at present according to her ex-husband, in West Point, Alabama.

Another case, between a man 60 years old and a woman of 52, both of them country people of Fulton county, attracted much attention.

The husband, J. A. Brown, was granted a second verdict of complete divorce, but the wife, Lizzie Brown, was refused permission to remarry. Brown stated that his wife was of such violent temper that once, when he had gone to the barn early in the morning to feed the horses, after displeasing her the night before, she followed him with a bucket of dirty water, and tried to throw it over his head. When he struck her arm aside the water missed him, she became so enraged that she picked up a plank with a long nail in it, the husband said, and struck him so hard that the nail penetrated to the bone of his thigh.

MEETING OF TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH SOCIETY

Interesting Papers Read in Session at Ansley Hotel Tuesday Night

The Telephone and Telegraph society of Atlanta held its regular monthly meeting at the Ansley hotel Tuesday evening and several hundred members were in attendance.

The program of the occasion was provided by employees of the Western Union Telegraph company. An interesting paper on "What We Do" was read by F. R. Veal and a paper prepared by J. P. Edwards on "How We Do It" was read by Mr. Ware.

Following the papers H. C. Worthen, general manager of the southern division, paid a tribute to Theo N. Vail, the retiring president of the Western Union, and expressed his appreciation of the co-operation extended by Bell officials during the past two years.

An amusing minstrel show, under the direction of W. J. Hurley, closed the "Western Union" evening and made such a hit that it is to be repeated soon.

DOESN'T WANT ALL CREDIT FOR CABINET INVENTION

Sigmund Weil Writes Letter to Journal in Justice to His Partner

Editor Atlanta Journal, City.

Dear Sir: In your article in last Sunday's Journal which contained the news of a new cabinet or showcase having been patented by myself and M. G. Grill Waters you gave me more credit than I am entitled to by saying that I conceived the original new idea for the new patent. In justice to Mr. Waters I wish to state that this is a joint patent and I want him to have his share of the credit for the invention.

You further said: "The inventors intend to establish a plant for making these cabinets soon and that at present their headquarters are at room 706 Atlanta National Bank building." This should have read:

Mr. S. Weil has opened an office, room 706 Atlanta National Bank building where a working model of the case can be seen by merchants in all lines, who will be interested. Mr. Waters' connection as a most popular salesman remains unchanged with his present firm.

Thanking you in advance for giving this publicity, I remain, yours sincerely,

SIGMUND WEIL.

Motorcycle Is Stolen

The police are looking for two men one named Moore, who, according to J. F. Carroll, stole his motorcycle Tuesday night. Carroll says Moore promised to sell the machine for a commission. Moore came to Carroll with a customer, says Carroll, and then the customer rode the motorcycle around the corner on the pretense of getting a check cashed. Both Moore, the customer and the motorcycle have been absent since.

DELTA THETA PHI FRATERNITY ESTABLISHES ATLANTA CHAPTER

CHARTER MEMBERS OF LAW FRATERNITY.

With nine students as charter members, a chapter of the Delta Theta Phi legal fraternity has been established at the Atlanta Law school.

This is the first law school fraternity ever established in Atlanta, although there are many alumni members of law fraternities here.

The formal initiation of these charter members was conducted by Roy F. Mc-Lure, of Chattanooga, "master scholar" of the supreme senate of the fraternity, Robert S. Parker, of the firm of Brown & Randolph, Parker & Scott, assisted in the initiation.

The newly-established Atlanta chapter of Delta Theta Phi is named "Wayne Senate," in honor of Judge James Moore Wayne, of Savannah, the distinguished Georgia lawyer and jurist who served for 32 years on the supreme bench of the United States, from 1835 until his death in 1867.

Besides the nine charter members, the fraternity has so far initiated Hewitt W. Chambers, C. C. Johnson and G. R. Lipscomb.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DOUBLE FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mr. J. T. Tuggle and Mrs. Tuggle, both of whom died within a few hours of each other, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Peachtree church. A Little Six Year Old Darling is Rescued From Its Miseries

Little Willie Shumate, the little six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Shumate of 168 Kirkwood avenue, this city, suffered like thousands of other little children are suffering. He was pale and puny, in his sleep he would roll and toss, in the morning his breath was bad, and during the day he was very nervous and constantly biting his finger nails or picking his nose. He was too young to take severe medicines and the parents were simply told not to worry, because the child would get over-its troubles as he grew older. But the parents did worry. They called at Coursey & Munn's Drug Store and obtained a treatment of Quaker Extract. The child was given this remedy regularly according to directions and the results came to light. He took one bottle and a half of the Extract, and expelled not one, but a handful of small worms, some alive and some dead. These were the cause of the child's sufferings and Quaker Extract, by removing the cause, cured the child. These worms were two inches long each. Today the little fellow is happy as a lark and his happiness is shared by his loving parents. His cheeks are red and rosy.

The case again proves the powers of the wonderful Quaker Extract. If you suffer from rheumatism, catarrh, or stomach worms call at Coursey & Munn's Drug Store, 29 Marietta St., for Quaker Extract, 6 for $5.00, 3 for $2.50 or $1.00 a bottle. Oil of Balm 25c, or 5 for $1.00. Do not fail, to call today and obtain good health. We prepay express charges on all orders of $3.00 or over.—(Advt.)

THREE DAYS OF EFFORT ARE LEFT IN THE JOURNAL'S BIG CAMPAIGN

Time Is Flying Swiftly and Soon All Will Be Over—One Thousand Dollars in Gold for the Best Worker This Week

Every Minute of Importance Now and None Can Be Wasted

Evenness of Big Race Shown by the Fact That Any Candidate Can Be a Winner of the Big Prizes by Working Now

Three days of effort, Mr. and Miss Candidate, and you can win $1,000 in gold, for next Saturday night—three days away—the big Easter Gift Campaign of The Atlanta Journal comes to a close. But even yet the prizes are not won, and hard and earnest effort during these three remaining days can bring you success.

Do you ever expect to have presented to you in your life an opportunity to secure this princely sum for three days' work? And three days' work will bring it to you. Or on the other hand, perhaps you would prefer a handsome 1914 Studebaker touring car. This is only one of the many splendid prizes which will be awarded by The Journal after next Saturday night, and you can be a winner of even the biggest prize by trying with might and main now and during these three short days.

Just sit down and figure how many minutes are left and how much each minute can be made to advance you toward victory. The minutes now are worth so much more than they can ever be again that the question of working is not to be compared with the value of the awards. What is a little work when you can secure for your very own such a magnificent return for your efforts?

THE GREAT EQUALITY OF THE RACE.

The great evenness of the big race is amply proven in the fact that any candidate, no matter where he or she stands now, could by dint of earnest and persevering work during these three remaining days, come out on top, the winner of the highest prize, after next Saturday night. It will take hard work, that much is certain—but hard work always brings a reward, and there is nothing really worth while in life that can be gotten without hard work. And just to think that after next Saturday—if you work now—you can ride at leisure in your own touring car, or have your bank account increased the splendid sum of $1,000. Truly a prospect worth thinking of and worth working for. And one that offers itself but seldom to the average mortal.

DON'T OVERLOOK SINGLE SUBSCRIPTION.

The time is now so short and every subscription of such great value that not a single one can afford to be overlooked by any candidate. No one is certain of victory, and those who are confidently thinking that they have already won are very likely to be doubly surprised by the amount of work that is being done by the majority of candidates these days. The prizes have not yet been won and will not be until next Saturday night, and during the intervening time no candidate can afford to do anything but work—and work hard and earnestly.

SPECIAL FOR OUTSIDE CANDIDATES.

To allow candidates outside of the city of Atlanta the same length of time to work as those in the city, we will accept from those candidates outside all subscriptions which are mailed by 10 o'clock next Saturday night. We will accept the postmark or the postmaster's signature as evidence that the subscriptions were mailed by 10 p. m. Every candidate should make it a point to get every vote and every subscription in the office as early as possible this week, in order that none may be overlooked in the excitement that is sure to attend the close.

JOHNSON SAYS HE DID NOT ABUSE HIS WIFE

Husband Asserts Wife's Evidence in Divorce Court Is Untrue

According to Roy S. Johnson, his wife, who was granted a first verdict of divorce from him Tuesday in the superior court, never had her night dress set on fire by him, nor did he choke her, nor beat her, nor threaten her with a revolver.

These sensational statements were made by Mrs. Johnson, a beautiful young woman, on the witness stand. Her case, like the others now being tried, was undefended, so Roy S. Johnson was not in court to deny any of the charges made against him.

"Maybe I should have been there," he said. "But I wanted a divorce. I still want one. I shan't defend the suit even when it comes up for a second verdict. But I want my friends to know that the testimony given by my wife on the stand was not true."

Mr. G. C. Cochran Dies

CAMILLA, Ga., April 8.—Mr. George C. Cochran, a wealthy planter of Mitchell county, died suddenly yesterday. The funeral was held this afternoon.

HOW FRENCH PEOPLE CURE STOMACH TROUBLE

A household remedy of the French peasantry, consisting of pure vegetable oil, and said to possess wonderful merit in the treatment of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles, has been introduced in this country by George H. Mayr, who for twenty years has been one of the leading down town druggists of Chicago and who himself was cured by its use. So quick and effective is it in action that a single dose is usually enough to bring pronounced relief in the most stubborn cases, and many people who have tried it declare they never heard of anything to produce such remarkable results in so short a time. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and can now be had at almost any drug store. It is now sold here by Jacobs' Pharmacy.—(Advt.)

FEEL GOOD---LAUGH---BE HAPPY AND WELL

Take Some Dodson's Liver Tone Tonight and See How Much Better You Will Feel Tomorrow.

Thousands of former sufferers from constipation, biliousness, sick headache and stomach ills are now brighter, healthier, happier through taking Dodson's Liver Tone, the medicine which was made to use instead of calomel. They have learned to smile again.

Dodson's fine remedy is so different from calomel. You feel good after taking Dodson's. There are no depressing after-effects, such as with calomel and other strong, violent purgatives. You do not change your habits or diet when taking Dodson's Liver Tone. There is no pain nor gripe, no change in your regular habits. Liver Tone promptly clears the dulled brain and clogged system in an easy, natural way, assisting Nature in the struggle against constipation and biliousness. Dodson's also stimulates you and builds you up and strengthens you at the same time.

A reliable, pleasant-tasting vegetable liquid, Dodson's Liver Tone is guaranteed without condition by your druggist, who will cheerfully refund purchase price (50c.) without question in event of any dissatisfaction with the remedy or its results. (Advt.)

Tone Up Your Weak Liver

to the capital stock of the reserve bank than any other state in the district and which has in it the city which will contribute more to the capital of the reserve bank than any city of the district.

"In the past ten years the deposits in the Atlanta National banks have increased 540 per cent and their clearings 600 per cent. Their percentages of increase have been more than ten times as large as those of New Orleans during this period. The individual deposits, the loans and discounts and the clearings of the national banks of Atlanta are now larger than those of the national banks of New Orleans.

"Georgia is the largest state in area east of the Mississippi. According to statistics recently prepared by the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, it is the fourth largest state in agricultural productions in the union. It is the second largest south of the Ohio river, Texas being the largest.

"The suggestion that Atlanta serves purely local territory and is confessedly unable without assistance to support a reserve bank is without foundation. Atlanta serves the entire south as does no other city in the south. No city south of the Potomac can, by itself, support a reserve bank. The national banks of New Orleans will subscribe for only one-tenth of the capital stock required for the reserve bank. The national banks of Atlanta will subscribe more to the capital stock of the reserve bank than will those in New Orleans.

"The act providing for the establishment of the federal reserve banks requires the organization committee to consider convenience and customary course of business.

"Atlanta has 152 trains which come in or go out each day. They go to every part of the district and every part of the district can be reached from Atlanta from every part of the district between the times when the banks close in the afternoon and when they open in the morning. The only exception to this statement must be made with reference to banks in southern Florida, these banks can reach Atlanta with greater convenience than they can reach New Orleans.

"The great advantage that Atlanta has in convenience has made Atlanta for the entire section the headquarters for the ordinary course of business. Atlanta is the great market of the southeastern region.

"Atlanta's commerce of more than $340,000,000 annually is not equalled or approached by any other city in any state east of the Mississippi.

"Atlanta is the headquarters for the government railway mail service. It is the military headquarters, the headquarters for the new division of the bureau of commerce and in it is located the federal prison. Four different departments of the government, all investigating the question of convenience, selected Atlanta as the place from which conveniently to transact business throughout this entire section.

"The reserve bank should be located not only for the present with reference to the future. The facts already stated fix Atlanta as the place where future growth may be expected. As an evidence of how this growth has proceeded in 1913 the new buildings in Atlanta cost more than $9,000,000, while those of New Orleans amounted to less than $4,000,000.

"Perhaps nothing shows clearer the ordinary course of business than the postal receipts of a city. The postal receipts of Atlanta for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, were $1,234,193, while those of New Orleans for the same period were $1,182,285.

"A large part of Florida, including eight of twelve banks in Jacksonville, favored Atlanta.

"The governor and his cabinet indorsed Atlanta. Savannah asked for Atlanta after Savannah. Practically all of the other banks of Georgia asked for Atlanta. The Knoxville board of commerce indorsed Atlanta as first choice. Chattanooga, after herself, asked for Atlanta. Montgomery, after herself, asked for Atlanta. Mobile, after New Orleans, asked for Atlanta. The president of the Mississippi Bankers' association gave his first evidence for New Orleans, but second for Atlanta.

"In their hearings throughout the United States, the opinion of men supposed to be best informed was asked by the organization committee as to what cities should be selected for the location of reserve banks. New York, Chicago, San Francisco and St. Louis were indicated by more of these witnesses than any other cities, but Atlanta received more indorsements than any city except the four.

"Georgia will contribute one-third of the capital to the reserve bank. Atlanta will contribute more to the capital of the reserve bank than New Orleans, or any other city in the district. It would have been unjust under all these facts to have located the reserve bank at any other point."

In Bankruptcy Court

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed on Wednesday by the Defiance Raincoat company and other New York creditors against Gus Berman. The creditors allege claims aggregating $500 and over.

James M. Booker, of Loganville, a farmer and sawmill operator, filed a voluntary petition, with liabilities of $3,860 and assets of $714.

Illinois Women Voters Hit Liquor a Hard Blow

Their Ballots Close More Than 1,000 Saloons Outside of Chicago the First Time They Go to the Polls

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 8.—Women voting for the first time in Illinois township elections demonstrated their power yesterday by closing the doors of more than 1,000 saloons outside of Chicago, adding sixteen counties to the thirty already dry and barring the sale of intoxicants in approximately 200 of the 300 townships in which local option was an issue.

Their victory included eleven of the larger cities of the state, which until the votes were counted last night were wet territory. They were: Bloomington, Galesburg, Elgin, Decatur, Canton, Freeport, Belvidere, Monmouth, Kewanee, Lockport and East Galena, Rockford, Mattoon and Galva were kept in the dry column by women's votes.

No city nor township which was dry before the election was lost by the anti-saloon forces, but the cities of Springfield, Quincy, Rock Island, Aurora, Alton, Moline, Dixon and West Galena remained wet.

Complete returns from country townships and from more remote sections of the state were not available, but detailed figures of the vote in fifty-seven townships placed the woman's vote at 40,681 dry and 18,181 wet, showing that in those townships approximately 70 per cent of the women voters favored the anti-saloon ticket.

Where accurate figures were available the woman's vote was shown to be about one-eighth greater than the men's and to have been divided into approximately 65 per cent wet and 40 per cent dry.

Springfield, the state capital, voted wet after one of the most spirited campaigns in the history of the city, a majority of the women voting for saloons.

JOLIET REMAINS WET.

Joliet remained wet by a majority of 2,500 votes. Nearly 10,000 women voted there, being about equally divided as to saloons.

Although 73 per cent of the Chicago women registered took advantage of their newly acquired privilege, the only women candidates for the city council received only a scattered vote. Alderman John (Hinky Dink) Kenna, who for a score of years has represented the First Ward, won by nearly 4,000 votes over Miss Marion Drake, a court stenographer. He received more female votes than Miss Drake.

Out of a total in Chicago of 217,614 women who had qualified, 155,686 voted. Only 72 per cent of men went to the polls, 328,987 casting votes.

The Socialist party had an aldermanic candidate in each of the 35 wards. In most of the wards the Socialist vote was third. The total Socialist vote was 29,000.

The new council will be Democratic, as it has been for several years.

Votes of the women helped to defeat a proposition for a subway system to cost $150,000,000. The proposition was lost by 90,000 votes. Another public policy question providing for home rule in the regulation of public utilities was successful, by a majority of 40,000.

Five bond issues totalling $8,250,000 for city departments and the county hospital were defeated by large majorities. One bond issue providing $350,000 for municipal bathing beach improvements was successful.

Non-Partisan Candidate For Mayor Is Elected

(By Associated Press.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 8.—Unofficial returns today did not change the estimate of last night that gave Mayor Gerhard Bading, non-partisan candidate for re-election, a majority of 6,000 over Emil Seidel, Socialist Democrat.

The new board of aldermen probably will consist of twenty-eight non-partisans and nine Social Democrats. At present there are eleven Social Democrats on the board.

Seventeen Towns in Nebraska Vote "Dry"

OMAHA, Neb., April 8.—Local option elections in Nebraska, according to reports received today, resulted in seventeen changes from wet to dry and nine changes from dry to wet in 140 towns reporting. No large cities were involved.

Sunday baseball scored a victory. Fifteen towns voted in its favor and five against.

Republican Is Elected to Congress in New Jersey

(By Associated Press.)

PATERSON, N. J., April 8.—Practically complete returns from the election in the seventh New Jersey congressional district show that Dr. Drukker received 10,620 votes and J. O'Byrne, Democrat, by a plurality of more than 5,000 votes.

Drukker received 10,620 votes and O'Byrne 5,240 while Bennett, Socialist, was a close third with 5,053.

Whitehead, Progressive, recorded but 611 votes, a big falling off from the Progressive vote of 1912 when Roosevelt carried the district by 891 votes.

"O'Byrne had the personal endorsement of President Wilson and in his campaign the Democratic candidate appealed to the voters to support him and thus approve of the President's policies. Democratic leaders, nevertheless, today refused to accept the result as a repudiation of the administration. They asserted the reapportionment of 1912, which directed Passaic from Bergen and Sussex counties and made it a district by itself, left a normal Republican plurality. They called the election of the late Congressman Robert G. Bremner, a Democrat, in this new district a personal success and accounted for Drukker's victory on the same ground.

Democrat Is Re-Elected Mayor of Kansas City

KANSAS City, April 8.—Almost complete returns today showed a majority for Henry L. Jost, Democrat, re-elected mayor in yesterday's election. Unofficial figures give Jost a plurality of 9,816 over C. A. Burton, non-partisan candidate, who ran on a platform favoring commission government. The Republican ticket polled fewer than 2,000 votes and the Progressives hardly 1,000, while the Socialist ticket was fifth.

Tumulty Not Surprised By Republican Victory

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Secretary Tumulty said he expected the election of a Republican congressman in New Jersey, as the district was normally Republican. When Mr. Wilson ran for governor, Mr. Tumulty said, he lost Passaic county, which extends over the same ground as the congressional district, and Governor Fielder, in the last election, likewise lost the county to the Republicans. White House officials said they did not regard the tolls question as having had anything to do with the result.

Anti-aSloon Advocates Victors in Minnesota

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 8.—Anti-saloon advocates were elated today over victories in most of the Minnesota cities of the fourth class which held local option elections yesterday.

Even St. Peter, where saloons have operated for more than sixty years, was swept into the dry column.

Helping Kidneys By Clearing Blood

A Function Greatly Assisted By a Well-Known Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to more clearly understand why analysis of urine is so important. In the use of S. S. S. to purify the blood, its action is a stimulant to the myriad of fine blood vessels that make up the constructive tissues of the kidneys. All the blood from all over the body must pass through the kidneys. Perfect as testers and assayers. And according to what they allow to pass out in the urine, both as to quantity and materials, the health of the kidneys and the quality of the blood is determined. The catalytic energy forced by S. S. S. is shown in the urine. It is also demonstrated in the skin. And as the blood continues to sweep through the kidneys the dominating nature of S. S. S., acting as it does through all the avenues of elimination, shows a marked decrease of disease manifestations as demonstrated by urine analysis. This assistance is a great relief to the kidneys. The body wastes are more evenly distributed by the emunctories, their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, huskiness of voice, bronchitis, asthma and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S., so it will enable the tissues to rebuild the cellular strength and regain the normal health.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 527 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any deep-seated or obstinate blood trouble, write to their Medical Dept. for free advice.

SANTA FE AGENT HERE GOES TO DETROIT, MICH.

John D. Carter, Promoted to General Agent, Receives Many Congratulations

Friends of John D. Carter, for the past five years southern freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe system, with offices in Atlanta, are congratulating him on his promotion to the position of general agent for the same company, with headquarters at Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. Carter has been connected with the Santa Fe system for twelve years. Entering as a solicitor, his rise was rapid and his friends predict even bigger things for him in the future.

As head of the Atlanta agency, he has won a host of friends in this city and throughout the south. While they regret to see him leave Atlanta on May 1, when his promotion becomes effective, they are gratified that his services have received such substantial recognition.

We are not trying to antagonize doctors or any one else who use the Red Cross, but are merely protecting our society.

"We meet Thursday night at the Piedmont to organize a local unit of the Red Cross. The chamber of commerce the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., the Anti-tuberculosis association, the associated charities, the medical associations, all have promised to help us and to join the society.

"It simply means the affiliation of all such local organizations, backed by the national Red Cross society.

"I have seen the mayor and he has promised to order the chief of police not to respect automobile signs bearing the Red Cross. I believe there is one undertaker and possibly two or three manufacturing firms who had the Red Cross before the act was passed and are therefore not liable.

"But the others can just as easily assume the green and white crosses and, in fact, have agreed to. The mayor has said that the police will respect the green cross on speeding automobiles".

"The Red Cross society to be established here will take up the relief and sanitation work and proposes to instruct Atlanta's police and fire department in the first aid to the injured.

SAY NO FOUNDATION TO ENGAGEMENT REPORT

Miss Nina Theresa Jackson and Mr. Henry Haines Green, whose engagement was announced in a local newspaper last Sunday, have given to The Journal a statement saying that the announcement was premature and without foundation.

Although it was not The Journal's error, the young people have requested that the correction be made for them through The Journal.

PREFERRED A HUSBAND TO LEARNING MILLINERY

The culmination of a pretty romance that has lasted three weeks, was the marriage of Miss Maud Jemsion, formerly of Jacksonville, Fla., and E. A. Turner, chief engineer of the Kimball house, last Sunday at the residence of Mrs. E. T. Wesley, 238 South Pryor street.

Miss Jemsion came here about four weeks ago from Jacksonville to take a course in millinery, but after meeting Turner three weeks ago and listening to his plea she abandoned the millinery idea and became Mrs. E. A. Turner Sunday.

The bride and groom have left for Jacksonville for a visit to Mrs. Turner's relatives. Later they will visit Niagara Falls.

Upon their return to the city they will reside with Mrs. Wesley, 238 South Pryor street.

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation with which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentrated nourishment which is readily convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutriment in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a predigested form; hypophosphites for the nervous system, with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Keep sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it.

OBJECTS TO RUMORS ABOUT GOVERNOR BROWN

Hon. J. R. Smith Asks Journal to Publish Card Refused by Another Paper

Hon. J. R. Smith, the warm personal friend of Governor Joseph M. Brown and twice his campaign manager, has sent the subjoined correspondence to The Journal and requests its publication. It follows:

Editor Atlanta, Journal, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:—I am inclosing herewith a copy of a letter addressed to the editor of the Atlanta Georgian on April 6, with the request that it be published. This letter was returned to me on April 7, together with a letter from Mr. Keats Speed, a copy of which I also inclose. I am also attaching a copy of my reply, of even date, to Mr. Speed's letter.

I will ask that you do me the kindness to print this correspondence, in order that there may be no misunderstanding regarding the matter. I am sending copies of the correspondence and making a similar request of the Constitution.

If you will do me this kindness, I will greatly appreciate it.

Yours very truly,
J. R. SMITH.

Atlanta, Ga., April 6, 1914.

Editor Atlanta Georgian, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:—I noticed in your Saturday issue more prominently than yesterday and still more prominent today, references to a movement upon the part of Governor Brown's friends to collect a campaign fund and to urge him to enter the race for the United States senate against Senator Hoke Smith.

Being a personal friend of Governor Brown, I called at your office on Saturday to ascertain if possible the sources from which you received this information. I was informed that it would be necessary for me to see your Mr. Nevin. Mr. Nevin being absent, I, therefore, received no information whatever.

I am not authorized in any capacity to speak for Governor Brown or any of his friends. He is now filling dates at Marietta and his friends are scattered throughout the state and can speak for themselves as I now speak for myself.

I want to say that if there is such a movement, I have no knowledge of it. I would not attempt, however, to say that there is not such a movement, for the reason that thousands of things are happening daily throughout the length and breadth of this country about which I have no knowledge whatever.

The only personal knowledge I have is that immediately after the death of Senator Bacon, scores of Governor Brown's friends communicated with him indicating their desire that he enter the race to succeed Senator Bacon. This was but a natural spontaneous tribute he had served the state twice as governor, and his friends now desire to put him in a position where he can be of service to the whole country.

I also notice that Governor Brown gave out a statement, at the request of a morning paper, which, if properly quoted by that paper, has been very much garbled in your early edition today.

Every one knows, who is even slightly acquainted with Governor Brown, that he keeps his own counsel; and it is therefore, my judgment that any information as to his plans in Georgia politics would have to come direct from him. I believe both Governor Brown and his friends would appreciate it if you would in future quote Governor Brown verbatim, giving his own views rather than substituting the views of your paper. Very respectfully,

J. R. SMITH.

April 7, 1914.

Mr. J. R. Smith, 130 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:—I notice from your letter of April 7 that you came to this office Saturday to inquire about a fund to back Governor Brown in his race for the senate.

Your information regarding this fund must have come to you before it came to us. Nothing was printed in this paper regarding a fund until Sunday. In fact, no one connected with this paper had heard of such a fund until Saturday night.

If Governor Brown has fault to find with any publication whatsoever we have made regarding him ,I would be delighted to make any correction his desires.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) KEATS SPEED.

April 7, 1914.

Mr. Keats Speed, Editor Atlanta Georgian, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your esteemed favor of the 7th inst., replying to my letter which should have been dated April 6, which you have declined to print and have returned to me.

You will note in the beginning of my letter that I included for the sake of brevity three issues of your paper, which covered the matter contained for three days. On Saturday you gave prominence to rumors that Governor Brown was being groomed to enter the race against Senator Hoke Smith. On Sunday you gave still more prominence to this and included rumors of a campaign fund to be used in that campaign. This was enlarged upon on Monday and in that issue you distorted, whether intentionally or not, Governor Brown's printed statement which appeared in the morning Constitution.

All the people do not own newspapers, and their only means of giving expression to what they desire to express is through the medium of the press. You were discussing this matter, and it was but natural for me, if I desired to have a word to say, to express myself through the courtesy of your paper. This courtesy, for some reason, you have denied me. Hence, I am mailing a copy of my letter to the Atlanta Constitution and The Atlanta Journal, with the request that they print the same. Should they decline to do so, it would appear to me that the free press and the open forum have been closed against the ordinary citizen.

I have not the slightest feeling in this matter, but I believe that my personal friendship and admiration for Governor Brown are sufficiently well-known for anyone to pardon me should I appear as a partisan. Of course, under the circumstances, I regret very much that you have declined to permit me to give expression to my views and feelings in the matter. I realize, however, that you control your paper and that the matter is in your hands entirely.

Yours very truly,
J. R. SMITH.

ANGRY MILITANT THROWS WHISTLE AT MAGISTRATE

Fought Three Policemen in Court Who Removed Her Hat Pins

LONDON, April 8.—Pandemonium reigned in Marlborough street police court today when "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette, was brought up again and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or go to prison for two months for creating a disturbance in Hyde park during the Unionist rally on Saturday.

BRINSON CONDUCTORS TO GO ON STRIKE TONIGHT

Complain That Railroad Refuses to Recognize Their Union

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 8.—W. C. Turner, vice president of the Order of Railway Conductors, declares that unless the officials of the Brinson railway consent to meet the demands of the conductors for improved working conditions and increased pay, a strike will be called tonight at 8:30.

Officials of the railroad have refused to grant the committee a hearing, and it is claimed discharged M. C. Gallaher and W. W. McDowell, chairman and vice chairman of the committee, who endeavored to seek a conference. W. C. Turner, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, vice president of the Order of Railway Conductors, is here handling the situation. Notice of the proposed strike was served upon J. H. Hunter, president of the Brinson, last night, after repeated refusals on his part to confer with the committee.

Mollycoddle Laxatives

Of the many laxatives on the market, most merely clear the intestinal tract, but do not release the dammed-up Bile, which is the great poison-destroyer of the body.

To relieve such trouble as bad breath, headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, constipation, biliousness, you must relieve the dammed-up Bile. Merely washing out the intestines with salts, mineral waters, oils and other mollycoddle laxatives will not release the Bile.

Podophyllin is the one perfect and harmless substitute for calomel, but its bitter taste and griping, nauseating effects made it unpopular.

PoDoLax Releases the Bile

For years chemists have been trying to take the bitterness, gripe and nausea out of Podophyllin, recognizing that it would then be the ideal Liver regulator. At last this has been done and given to the world under the name of PoDoLax.

PoDoLax is a Podophyllin formula with all undesirable features taken out. PoDoLax is for every member of the family—young or old. It should be in every medicine cabinet. You will thank us for explaining it after you have tried it. Get a bottle today and use it as soon as you notice a coated tongue or bad breath. Start the Bile—Nature does the rest.—(Advt.)

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A Physician's Advice.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific assimilation of six of the best strength-giving fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, the nourishment for the tissues and blood in a rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by the Jacobs' Pharmacy and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should, owing to its remarkable flesh producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more. (Advt.)

New Hats for Children and Misses Have Just Come In

Junior Dept.---Third Floor

Inexpensive Hats for School Wear.

Exclusive styles for "Best Wear."

They have just arrived in time for the young folks' Easter, from makers who have acquired the fine habit of excelling in styles for children and misses.

They are specialists, just as the Junior Department is.

So tomorrow you will find—

Ribbon and feather trimmed hats of smart straw shapes in dark colors, navy, brown, burnt orange, Copenhagen and black; at from $1.50 to $5.00. These for school and general wear.

And Easter hats that express the best thought in children's millinery this season—lacy, flowery, ribbon bedecked—chic, charming shapes of Milan and leghorn, bent and twisted into most attractive lines—some having Dresden crowns, some faced with flowered ratines, all as bright and pretty as a young woman could wish.

These are priced at from $5.00 to $15.00.

Choose Children's Coats

Where the variety allows best choice. A resume of the many attractive styles we have gathered would leave no doubt in the minds of mothers as to where that variety is. Sizes one to six years.

Reefer Coats in the always smart shepherd checks and in navy serge with embroidered emblems on sleeves—suitable for both little boys and girls—these are $5.00.

Serges and new twilled weaves in tans and blues belted and ornamented with big buttons.

Novelty Silk Coats—failles, taffetas and pongees. These are $10.00 to $15.00.

Little white pique Coats in wonderful variety. Plain coats and others that show hand-embroidered and scalloped collars. These at $2.00 and upwards.

A White Dress for Little Daughter's Easter

Sizes one to fourteen years.

White Dresses—it is a very big and broad question as the Junior Department sees it.

The stocks are calculated to be of interest to mothers who would select.

—"best" Dresses for the tot.

White lawns and batistes and simple laces and embroideries for the inexpensive dresses, neat and dainty as can be. Voiles, crepes, lingerie cloths and all-over embroideries made into styles with lacy bodices and frilled and ruffled and tiered skirts after the fashions that the girls of Paris enjoyed first.

It would seem that every kind of a white Dress could be had here—and a mother may pay just what she would from $1.00 to $20.00.

A Wash Suit for Little "Buster's" Easter

The little fellows' suits are novel this season.

Here is a new suspender suit that he is going to like.

Another novelty is the Pickwick Suit with blouse of attractive color and short white trousers.

The Dombey Suit has a colored blouse and long white trousers.

Then come the great variety of Russian Blouse Suits in plain white galateas and linens and colored percales and ginghams. Prices begin at $1.00 and go to $10.00.

Many Pretty Junior Dresses

Among them are—

White Dresses that the Easter season demands—crepes, voiles, batistes.

Novelty batistes flowered and striped, crepes de chine in plain shades, in dainty Dresden colorings, taffetas, taffetas combined with nets, lingerie cloths, laces over nets—dresses for street, for afternoons, for parties, each one chosen because of some little touch of newness. These at $5 to $25.

Handkerchiefs, Handkerchiefs. We Have the Handkerchiefs for Easter Giving

In Atlanta that place is Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s. It has become customary for women to turn to us for handkerchiefs because they have never been disappointed in our stocks. Nor will they!

Right now the Easter selections are at their best---broad, comprehensive, choice---justified by the great demand the next few days will bring.

Buying handkerchiefs for Easter gifts? We would have you see these; they are daintier and prettier for their prices than any others we could find.

Women's 15c Handkerchiefs 10c, all pure linen with 1-4-inch colored hem. Green, pink and lavender.

At 25c, women's all-linen or Shamrock lawn Handekrchiefs, white with wide colored hems, or in spring colored centers with white hems.

At 15c, 25c and 35c. Women's all-linen hand-embroidered Handkerchiefs, very sheer, superb qualities.

At 25c and 50c. Women's all-linen white Handkerchiefs, with the new wide hems and embroidered sprays in corner.

Many Novelties for Easter in the Store of BEST GLOVES

Wash Gloves, whether they be kid or fabric, have the call. They are the most economical and certainly the most satisfactory.

The early wearing out of gloves is often traceable to the moisture of the hand hurting the stitching. Smart makers saw this and gave us gloves that washing does not injure.

At $1.25 is a 2-clasp washable chamois glove, natural color.

At $1.25 and $1.50 are 2-clasp "Buxkin" Gloves, washable, white. Choose at $1.50 from those with white or black stitching.

At $3.00 and $3.50 are the 12 and 16-button white "Buxkin" Gloves that are washable and the 12 and 16-button natural chamois gloves.

At $1.00. The Solitaire, the standard $1.00 lambskin Glove, black white and colors. 2-clasp.

At $2.00 and $2.50 new 8-button Gloves that the seven-eighths length coat and dress sleeves have made necessary, black and white kid.

At $2.00. Trefousse, real kid, 2-clasp, black, white and the favored buff shades; Fownes' La Tosca in buff and black and white with black stitching; Fownes' 2-clasp kid, black and white with the new wide embroidered backs.

The Choice of the Fabric Gloves

At $1, $1.50 and $1.75. Niagara Maid Silk Gloves, beautifully finished, 16-button length, white and black. Those at $1.75 have the broad embroidered backs, new.

At $1.50. Kayser's superb 16-button Silk Gloves, black with white stitching and white with black stitching, also the plain white and black.

At $2.50. Kayser's new shirred Silk Gloves, 16-button length, black with white stitching—the shirring is done with white stitching the full length of the glove.

COLLEGE PARK JOINS IN "CLEAN UP" CAMPAIGN

White Way Lights Also Will Add to Attractiveness of the City

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLLEGE PARK, April 8.—College Park has joined the "clean up" movement and expects to have the town in spic and span condition for Shriners' week.

Mayor B. S. Huie has issued a proclamation, setting aside Saturday April 18 as "clean up" day for College Park, requesting all citizens to beautify their premises and calling on the Atlanta and West Point railroad, Georgia Railway and Power company and the Fairburn and Atlanta Street Railway company to clean up their rights of way.

Trees, telephone posts, fences, etc., will be given liberal applications of whitewash. A large number of the homes are being repainted. Parks and yards are receiving attention. In fact, no detail from a standpoint of cleanliness and beauty will be left undone.

To add to the attractiveness of the town College Park is to have a White Way. George F. Longino, Jr., cashier of the Bank of College Park, was granted permission by city council to erect posts and lights along the front of the Longino block. The city is to furnish the current. With this agreement reached, the first block of the White Way will be completed at an early date. It is expected that all other property holders in the business section will join the movement at an early date.

A movement was started Monday night in city council looking forward to the establishment of a White Way from city limit to city limit along both sides of the Atlanta and West Point railroad. These plans, when completed, will give a line of illumination of nonequaling like 1 1-4 miles. The plans include the use of 750-candle power lights erected at intervals of 50 to 100 feet.

The paved sidewalk movement, inaugurated some days ago by the board of trade, was given a big boost by council when that body passed up the West boulevard for paving purposes. The distance specified covers 1 1-4 miles and extends from city limit to city limit. It is expected that all property holders in every part of town will join heartily in the movement for good walks, and that before summer has passed many miles of tiled walks will be constructed.

Waycross Devotes Week To "Clean-Up" Movement

(WAYCROSS, Ga., April 8.—Instead of a one-day cleanup campaign in Waycross it is now proposed to devote an entire week to the work of improving the general appearance of the city. By arranging a week's work of this nature a more systematic campaign will be possible and the benefits will be of a more lasting nature.

The starting April 27 will be designated by Mayor Beaton as "clean-up week" in a proclamation he will issue this week. The work will be done during the time specified will put the city in tiptop shape for the meeting of the Knights Templar of Georgia here early in May and for the big ceremonial session to be held here by the Almas Temple Shriners immediately after the grand commandery of Knights Templar adjourns.

Every department of the city will aid in the campaign and the county will be asked to join with the city. The building inspector, L. B. Boggs, is going to insist upon the removal of all fire ruins and in other ways help in the campaign.

W. A. WINBURN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CENTRAL

Directors Say They Hope, by This Action, to Bring Road Closer to People

(By Associated Press.)

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 8.—At the quarterly meeting of the directors of the Central of Georgia railway today, A. Winburn, vice president, was elected president, succeeding C. H. Markham, of Chicago.

The action was taken, it was announced, to bring the road still more in touch with the people it serves.

Mr. Winburn has worked his way from a subordinate position with the road to his present high place.

WINTERVILLE STORES ARE SET ON FIRE BY LIGHTNING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WINTERVILLE, Ga., April 8.—Early this morning the mercantile establishment of Pittard-Colle & Co., in the building occupied by the J. I. Pittard banking company, at Winterville, was destroyed by fire.

It is supposed the fire was caused by lightning as a severe electrical storm was being experienced at the time. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars, with insurance to large extent.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED TO ASSIST THE FARMERS

Betterment of Social Conditions and Marketing of Crops to Be Considered

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 8.—Seth Low, president of the National Civic Federation, announced the personnel of the committee on plan and scope of the department for the betterment of agricultural conditions. The betterment of social conditions in the rural districts of the United States will be one of the purposes of the department, though its main effort will aim at the improvement of the farmer's condition through the more advantageous marketing of his products.

Among the committee members are Seth Low, chairman; Philander P. Claxton, commissioner of education, department of the interior; John Lee Coulter, in charge division of agriculture, bureau of the census; Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador to France; Charles W. Holman, University of Wisconsin; Mrs. Thomas M. Owen, president-general Women's auxiliary, Southern Commercial Congress; Oliver Wilson, master National grange, patrons of husbandry.

MRS. D. W. CROFT DIES AT HOME IN CARROLLTON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CARROLLTON, Ga., April 8.—Mrs. D. W. Croft, widow of Captain D. W. Croft, who for a number of years was conductor of the Central of Georgia railway from Carrollton to Griffin was found dead in bed this morning at about 6 o'clock. She was 70 years of age.

She is survived by her sister, Miss Amelia Durham, and a son and daughter, and three grandchildren, Mr. Joe Croft, Mrs. A. O. Hulle and Lillie Croft Hulle, Jone Hulle and Nell Hulle.

IF KIDNEYS ARE WEAK TRY BUCHU

Mixed With Juniper Is Old Folks' Recipe For Flushing Kidneys—Stops Backache and Uric Acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region, it generally means your kidneys are weak. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, remove all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To relieve this distressing condition at once get from your pharmacist a fair sized bottle of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water after meals. Stop eating sweets or sugar. In a few days your kidneys will then act fine and natural. A well known authority says this is the best treatment.

Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound acts directly on the urine through the kidneys. It keeps the blood healthy. It strengthens the neck of the bladder. It regulates the kidneys and does away with backache and all disagreeable symptoms. If discouraged with other medicines, be sure you get Stuart's Buchu and Juniper, as Stuart's is properly compounded for kidney troubles.

WILLIAM M. M'KENZIE, ATLANTA CAPITALIST, DIES

Widely Known Resident to Be Buried Thursday in West View Cemetery

Mr. William McKenzie, Atlanta capitalist and real estate holder, passed away Tuesday afternoon at 2:55 o'clock at his home in Brookwood. He had been seriously ill for several month, and was waiting and prepared for his end. At noon last Monday he lapsed into semi-consciousness and did not recover. Members of his immediate family were at his bedside when he passed away.

The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home in Brookwood. Rev. Dr. H. M. DuBose, pastor of the First Methodist church, of which congregation Mr. McKenzie was a devout member, will conduct the ceremony. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Surviving the deceased man are his widow, who was Miss Lula Cantrell, of Columbus, Ga.; two sons, Messrs. Marshall C. and Harold C. McKenzie, both of Atlanta; and two brothers, Messrs. George M. McKenzie, of Atlanta, and J. H. McKenzie, of Marietta.

ARRANGED AFFAIRS.

Mr. McKenzie arranged all his affairs some time ago when he learned that death was close at hand. He gave final attention to his business and personal interests, even selecting his own pallbearers. These, named from among his old friends and associates in business, are Messrs. H. E. Charlie, of Atlanta, F. J. Coolege, of Atlanta; S. V. Rambo, of Marietta; P. A. Grambling of Marietta; William Lawson Peel, of Atlanta; L. B. Roberson, of Marietta; Robert Hemphill, of Atlanta; A. E. Anderson, of Marietta; W. L. Scandrett, of Birmingham, and L. G. Neal, of Atlanta.

In the death of Mr. McKenzie, Atlanta patriots lose one of her most substantial and successful men. He was aggressive and dominant in business, winning critical admiration. But he was a student, too, and had gathered a rare library. In religious and political thought, too, he was one of the leaders. Few men in Atlanta were more widely popular than he. Many mourn his death.

Beginning with the time when he came to Atlanta in his young manhood, Mr. McKenzie was successful. At the time of his death he was fifty-six years of age. In a little more than thirty years he had become one of the wealthiest financiers in the state.

MANY UNDERTAKINGS.

Mr. McKenzie was founder and president of the McKenzie Trust company of Atlanta. He founded also the Atlanta Oil and Fertilizer company and the Marietta Fertilizer company, of both of which he formerly was president. He was associated with his two sons in the McKenzie Trust company, and was identified prominently with other interests in the city and state. He owned the property at the corner of Peachtree and Walton streets, now under a ninety-nine-year lease to other parties; and he was part owner of the McKenzie building at the corner of Peachtree and James streets, recently damaged by fire. He owned the Francis apartments at the junction of Peachtree and Ivy streets. His home in Brookwood is one of the finest in that aristocratic section. He owned considerable other real estate in Atlanta.

Mr. McKenzie was a native of Macon county. His father was a prosperous planter in the country near Montezuma. The McKenzies were an old family in middle Georgia. His mother was Miss Martha Wiggins before her marriage. Mr. McKenzie came to north Georgia and started as clerk in a Marietta grocery store when he was eighteen years old. Later he moved to Atlanta and began the success which was terminated by his death.

NEGRO CONFESSES THEFT; LEADS POLICE TO JEWELS

Servant Discloses Hiding Place of Valuables Belonging to Sig Samuels

After a three days' search for $1,200 worth of jewels which were stolen Monday night from the residence of Sig Samuels at 527 Washington street, John Coffee, a negro servant, confessed Wednesday that he committed the theft and led the city detectives to the spot where he had cached the jewels.

The Samuels residence was burglarized Monday night while Mr. and Mrs. Samuels were at the theater. Several valuable rings, brooches and chains were stolen. The house was entered with a key, and suspicion fell on Coffee, a young negro who lives at 17 Pear street. He was arrested and confessed. He had buried the jewels in a secluded place near Clark university and when he took the officers there Wednesday morning they easily found the jewelry and returned it to the owner. None of it was missing. Thirty dollars and twenty-five cents in cash was also stolen, but has not been recovered.

MIDNIGHT REVOLVER DUEL AROUSES MANY CITIZENS

Negro Pursued by Men in Auto Escapes and Mystery Surrounds Incident

A revolver duel, loud cursing, a man fleeing with two men in an automobile in pursuit, occurring at 12:54 o'clock Wednesday morning on Penn avenue between Ponce de Leon avenue and Fourth street, mystified and excited residents in that neighborhood.

Penn avenue, a broad, paved street, is bounded by vacant lots between Ponce de Leon and Third street. There the battle began, with an unobstructed backwindow view furnished to dwellers in homes on Myrtle street and Ponce de Leon avenue.

A negro, fleeing down Penn avenue for dear life, with a heavy covered matchine after him, a machine which looked like the police patrol, was ordered by one of the men in the machine to halt. Following this command, the man in the car fired two shots at the fugitive, say persons who saw the affair.

Around the corner of Fourth street the negro went on the run, evidently unhit. Behind a partly-constructed house on the corner he dodged, pulling a revolver. Then he cut loose at the men, who had stopped the machine.

He fired three or four times. These shots, close to the houses on Myrtle street, awoke other persons who had not jumped out of bed when the battle began.

The men in the machine, not knowing where the fugitive had gone in the darkness, searched on both sides of Penn avenue for a few minutes, and then started their car. They went down Fourth street to Myrtle avenue and then toward Peachtree, but the negro had fled after firing at his pursuers.

The police, when asked about the affair, said they knew nothing of it. No citizens went out to investigate. Many who saw the covered automobile and heard the command to halt, followed by the shots, thought it was the police patrol after a prisoner. But the police say it was not their patrol.

Jackson's Friend Dies

WINCHESTER, Va., April 8.—Dev. Dr. James R. Graham, pastor of the Kent Street Presbyterian church here for more than 40 years, an intimate friend of Stonewall Jackson, died today. He was 91 years old. During the early part of the Civil war Stonewall Jackson made his home here with Dr. Graham.

HARDWICK ATTACKS GEORGIA'S RULES ON SENATE NOMINATIONS

causes this change? Who is responsible for this attempt to deprive the Democrats of Georgia at their long admitted right to nominate their senators at the ballot box directly and without the intervention of a log rolling convention why are the broken precedents of eighteen years thrown to the winds, without compunction or hesitation.

"MOVING BACKWARD."

"The object of the seventeenth amendment is to put the election of United States senators directly and exclusively in the hands of the people themselves. Long before this great reform came to the people of this country, Georgia Democracy occupied advanced ground on this great question, selected her senators by nomination process, according to the expressed will of the people at the ballot box, without the intervention of a convention, or the real agency of the general assembly. Why are we moving backward, in this great matter, while all of the balance of the country moves forward? Who is responsible? It seems to me that the responsibility can be located and that every person who shares in it will have a heavy account to settle with the people when the people understand what has been done.

"Under the Slaton committee plan we put the final power of selection, in the event of anything like a close contest, in the hands of convention delegates, who are not themselves elected by the people, but appointed by some county chairman, and who cannot be held responsible by the people or made to account to them.

"Worse even than that, they are selected from among the 'friends of the successful candidate for governor' without regard to their friendship for or loyalty to the candidates for the senate who have carried their respective counties. How long will they stick? How true will they be? Who can tell? What a boundless opportunity for political trickery and convention trading and log rolling does this delectable scheme afford?

"When candidates for the senate offer their candidacies in open and honorable fashion to the people, opportunity is afforded every voter to express his choice between individuals, and his judgment as between policies and positions and in an intelligent and effective manner whatever candidate feels the largest number of votes in the entire state ought to receive the nomination. Otherwise, representative government comes to naught."

PRESENT POSSIBILITIES.

Under this convention plan it is quite conceivable and possible that a candidate with the smallest number of votes, or no votes at all, might be nominated by the convention. In that way, the politicians of the state might easily nominate some gentleman who had made no contest for the place, who had expressed no views on the great public questions that will be at issue, and whose very identity as well as his beliefs and opinions was unknown to the people who ha dnever had the opportunity to approve or reject his candidacy. It seems to me that the adoption of this plan in the interest of caucus convention and manipulation is a serious assault upon the popular rights of the people of Georgia, and one that ought to be repelled and resented. Its injustice to the people of the state is of supreme importance.

"The injutice that it may work upon the candidacy of any individual is of relative insignificance however it may work, whoever it may aid or injure, it is wrong and should be undone. The vote of every Democrat in Georgia, rich or poor, in town or the country, should count just one, no more or no less, and the senators from Georgia should be selected by the people at the ballot box and not in a trading convention."

LOCAL COMPOSER'S WORK ACCEPTED AND PRAISED

Boston Music Company to Publish Several Pieces of Mortimer Wilson

Mortimer Wilson, director of the Atlanta Philharmonic orchestra, has just received a letter from the Boston Music company, the largest music publishers in this country, informing him that several of his compositions have been accepted and are considered so good that the company will give them special feature advertising.

One of the accepted compositions is a duet dedicated to Albert Spalding, the celebrated American violinist, which Mr. Spalding has been playing with great success in his concerts in Europe during the past winter.

The others are two sonatas for piano and violin, while the fourth is a symphony for full orchestra, which will be published some time later.

The letter to Mr. Wilson praises his ability in the highest terms, urges him to give the company first choice on all his future compositions, and requests a sketch of his life to be used in the advertising for the compositions which have been accepted.

As director of the Philharmonic orchestra in this city Mr. Wilson has brought himself to the favorable attention of music lovers throughout the community. He is not only admired for his musical ability but is personally a very likable man.

The Philharmonic orchestra is supported by the Atlanta Musical association, Mrs. John M. Slaton, president, which is now making a campaign for new members.

LITTLE BOY IS ALMOST KILLED BY STREET CAR

Sam Gottlieb, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gottlieb, was knocked down by a street car at the corner of Capitol avenue and East Fair street at 8:20 o'clock Wednesday morning and may die as the result of the accident.

The little fellow was knocked unconscious for a few minutes, but recovered and was able to walk to his home, 244 East Fair street, a few blocks away, where he fell in a faint.

Dr. Simon Katzoff was called in and found the boy fast becoming rigid. Under the physician's care, aided by Officer Dunton, the little fellow regained consciousness and is now resting easily. There is a chance that he will get well.

BEAUTIFUL CANTATA TO BE RENDERED SUNDAY

Edwin H. Lemare's Composition Will Be Heard at the First Baptist Church

Edwin H. Lemare's beautiful cantata for Easter will be sung at the First Baptist church next Sunday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock. J. P. O'Donnelly is director.

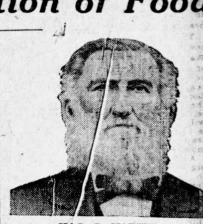
Mr. Lemare is a noted English organist and composer. It will be recalled that he gave the opening recital at the auditorium a few years ago.

Gounod's "The Resurrection and Ascension" will be given the same evening.

The soloists will be Mrs. Peyton H. Todd, Mrs. James H. Whitman, Mr. Solon Druckemiller, Mr. Harry B. Bates. They will be assisted by a large chorus.

Good Cheer Aids Digestion of Food

Dyspeptics Can Make the Rest of the Family Happy by Using a Laxative-tonic



M.J. S. MARTIN.

The temper of the family and the good cheer around the table depend so much on the good digestion of each individual present that the presence of some former dyspeptics who overcame their trouble should be of interest to those now suffering in this way.

The best advice one can give—but it is advice that is seldom heeded—is to eat slowly and masticate each mouthful carefully. However, if slow eating and careful mastication fail the next aid is one close to nature, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This remedy is an excellent digestant, and in addition to helping in the digestion of the food, acts gently on the liver and bowels, ridding them of the accumulation of waste that should long ago have been passed off. It is safe, reliable, pleasant-tasting, and results are guaranteed.

Maj. S. Martin, of Joplin, Mo., now 77, thinks Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has helped him to a longer and happier life. He has not felt so good in years as he has since taking this excellent medicine, and in spite of his 77 years, he says he feels like a boy.

It is the ideal remedy for indigestion, no matter how severe; constipation, no matter how chronic, billiousness, headaches, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances.

You can obtain Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by heads of families already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

When you use Syrup Pepsin you will see the fallacy of chewing mints and tablets or of taking cathartics, salts, pills and similar drastic medicines. Unlike these, Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect, and by automatically training the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work, soon restores these organs to normal.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Highway Improvement
A National Problem.

In a communication appearing elsewhere on this page, a correspondent makes the interesting statement that it costs as much to haul farm products to the railroads as it costs the railroads to carry them to the consumer. A condition so remarkable is to be accounted for, of course, by the scarcity of well-built, well-kept highways. Of the more than two million miles of roads in the United States, less than ten per cent, it is estimated, are improved. That is a fact of far-flung consequence to the country's economic interests.

The average cost of hauling by wagon in the United States is twenty-five cents per ton, per mile; in France, Germany and England, the cost is ten cents per ton, per mile. The amazing difference is due to the fact that the European governments have developed and carefully maintain adequate systems of public roads, while our own national government has almost wholly disregarded that important task. The cost of wagon transportation in the United States amounts to some eight hundred million dollars a year. It is evident, then, that if our highways were brought up to European standards, four hundred millions or more annually could be saved the American public. Statisticians figure that good roads would save ten and a quarter million dollars in the marketing of the wheat crop, nearly thirteen millions in the marketing of the corn crop and more than five millions in cotton. Our correspondent well illustrates his truth when he says, "Over the present crude roads, the farmer can haul only three bales of cotton with a team that costs fully three dollars a day. With anything like good roads, he would be able to haul six bales at the same expense."

That would represent a tremendous saving not only for the farmer but also for the community, for the State and for the rank and file of consumers. Particularly is this true in respect to the marketing of truck products. The story goes that a farmer in Sullivan county, Tenn., a few miles from Bristol, had a hundred bushels of Irish potatoes which he intended to market during the winter of 1908. Because of poor roads, however, he was unable to haul the potatoes, and they rotted in the cellar. At the same time, the price of potatoes in Bristol went up as high as a dollar and forty cents a bushel; and it is said that during the season ten cars of farm produce were shipped into the community daily from distant points. The loss to this particular farmer was a loss to the community. Good roads would have benefited the average consumer no less than the average farmer.

One of the chief elements in the high cost of living is the high cost of distribution. It costs more to market food than it does to produce it. This condition of affairs is traceable to several causes, but to none more directly than to the lack of good roads. The parcel post is expected to establish closer relationships between country producers and city consumers, but unless there are adequate highways over which rural delivery vehicles can safely and easily pass, this province of the post cannot be duly developed. Indeed, rural and urban districts can never be linked together as they should be unless a sufficient number of good roads are built and maintained.

The value of improved highways extends much further, however, than economic interests; their enriching influence is felt in every sphere of the common life. They banish the loneliness of the country home and create advantages which make the younger generation willing and eager to remain on the farm, instead of turning to cities. In no respect is the value of good roads more pronounced than in educational affairs. In a group of eastern States where roads have been highly improved, the percentage of enrolled pupils who regularly attended school for a year was nearly eighty; in a group of bad-road States, the percentage was only fifty-nine.

Good roads mean good schools, at least they open the way to good schools. They mean increase in population and wealth. In twenty-five counties, selected at random in twelve States, the population within the decade 1890-1900 decreased by three thousand, one hundred and twelve persons a county, a total of seventy-seven thousand, eight hundred and twenty-three for the twenty-five counties. These counties showed an average road improvement of only one and five-tenths per cent. In twenty-five other counties in the same States, where forty per cent of the roads were improved, the population increased during decade seven hundred and seventy-eight thousand, three hundred and eighty-three, an average of nearly thirty-two thousand for each county.

The fact is, a community cannot expect to grow or to hold its own, if it neglects its highways. They are essential to good farming, to good business, to good schools and are supremely essential to those social relationships that make life attractive and worth while.

It is now proposed that the federal government lend its aid to the individual States in the development of a nation-wide system of good roads. The appropriation suggested for this purpose is, indeed, meager, and some critics apprehend that the money would be merely a drain upon the public treasury without accomplishing any substantial good. Both objections are worth considering, but neither should be sufficient to deter the cause of government aid for highway improvement.

Twenty-five million dollars, to be sure, would go a very short way toward solving the country's road problem, but it would stimulate each commonwealth to fresh interest in the cause and would bring other funds into action. Extreme caution should be exercised to prevent a federal road appropriation from becoming a Congressional "pork barrel," but the Government should not draw back from a great and urgent task that concerns the interests of all the people simply because of "pork barrel" abuses in years gone by.

The need for good roads is a national problem which demands national energy and resources. Highways are even more important than waterways; if the federal government aids in conserving and developing the latter, it should certainly give thought to the former. The good roads measure now before Congress may have its defeat; if so, let them be remedied as far as possible. But it represents an idea in which the rank and file of the people are tremendously concerned, wherefore it should be favorably considered, in its general purpose, if not in details.

Agreement on Ulster

The war cloud that lately overhung the question of Irish Home Rule has all but blown away, and there is now a fair prospect of peaceful settlement. Ulster is tranquil, outwardly at least; the Unionists have hastily abandoned their policy of encouraging revolt; and the Liberals, while stronger than ever in political advantage, are still disposed to reasonable compromise.

In these circumstances, it is likely that all parties to the Home Rule issue will agree upon some plan of adjustment. The Irish Nationalists and the Liberal ministry have conceded as much as they consistently can. They offer the protesting counties of Ulster exclusion from an Irish parliament for a period of six years. Within that time a general election will be held and the voters of the United Kingdom will be enabled to declare whether Ulster shall be permanently exempt from the Home Rule order.

Indications are that the Unionists in Parliament will accept these terms. Whether Sir Edward Carson and the more radical element in Ulster will do so is not yet apparent. Certain it is, however, that without the support of the Unionist party in England the Ulster faction can accomplish little or nothing. The threatened mutiny in the British army has been effectively disposed of. It is no longer questioned that the army must do the bidding of the majority in Parliament; and, so, should Ulster persist in defiance of a law, it would be firmly dealt with.

The Unionists are now well aware that it would be fatal to their party to appeal to the country on such an issue as "the army against Parliament." True statesmen, regardless of political alignment, are eager to settle the Home Rule question peacefully. It may be expected, therefore, that the Liberals' plan of compromise will be adopted; that Ireland will be granted her demand to control her domestic affairs, and that Ulster will accept the six-year exclusion as the furthest concession that she can reasonably expect.

It is up to Tennessee to extend condolence to the United States navy in the matter of prohibition.

Settling With Colombia.

The treaty between the United States and Colombia, which was signed yesterday at Bogota by representatives of both governments, happily adjusts one of the most vexing differences in our relationships with Latin America.

The terms of the compact are not yet fully known except in official circles. It is understood, however, that Colombia is to be compensated in the sum of twenty-five million dollars for the loss it suffered when Panama seceded and transferred the Canal zone to the United States. Colombia has contended that unwarranted and really dishonorable aid was given the revolutionists by certain American interests, expressly for the purpose of "grabbing" the canal zone.

However that may have been, the little republic seems to have had grounds of real grievance. Our Government has shown wisdom and integrity in its offer of settlement. The United States, moreover, is accorded certain valuable privileges on the isthmus and is assured of Colombia's continued good will.

THE EASTER SYMBOL
BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

(Copyright, 1914, by Frank Crane.)

Among all primitive peoples, Norse, Egyptian, Hindu, or Greek, spring's coming was given a religious significance. The Christian fathers wisely took over this universal instinct and gave it expression in one of the most important holy days in the calendar.

The profound heart of primitive man always interpreted nature spiritually; that is, all events in the whole order of things, the seasons, the movements of the stars, the storms and sun, were conceived to be SYMBOLS addressed to the soul of man, and not mere dead and meaningless factors.

If a man were a stone he might think the universe to be nothing but material; being a mind and a heart he persists in fancying the world also imbued with purpose and feeling. From this comes the race-wide phenomenon of religion.

Without entering into the theological side of Easter, let us ask ourselves, "What is there in human nature of which the spring-coming is a fit symbol?"

In four ways the soul sees itself at springtime in the revealing mirror of nature. It sees its own RHYTHMIC LAW, the perpetual TRIUMPH OF YOUTH OVER OLD AGE, of HOPE OVER DESPAIR, and of LIFE OVER DEATH.

1. THE RHYTHMIC LAW. Herbert Spencer beautifully explained how all motion is rhythmic, none is continuously steady. The blood circulates in pulses, the breath is taken regularly, day and night alternate, winds blow in gusts, tides rise and weeping are spasmodic, and so on. So also the progress of growth, the education of the mind, the unfolding of the soul, and the progress of civilization advance and recede, yet with a constant ratio of advance; they go only half-three not as the river flows but as the waves of the tide rise. So the common philosophy of the people says, "We all have our ups and downs," "The darkest hour is just before the dawn," and the like.

2. THE TRIUMPH OF YOUTH OVER AGE. This is a perpetually young world; it is for youth, not old age. Trees shed their leaves, plants die, all vegetation periodically disappears and comes again young; lest the earth be filled with old things. So mankind perpetuates itself, not by the old living on, but by babies coming to replace them, that it may remain youthful forever. Youth is the eternal truth, it is Nature's point of view. Whatever the great Spirit may be who animates all things, it is a Spirit that continually renews its youth. The world is just as young now as in Spring morning as it was in the days of Nineveh. Boys and girls attack life as freshly now as did the children of the ancient Egyptians. Then let us be so in our own experience, and may the young joy and wonder of life be constantly reborn in us!

3. THE TRIUMPH OF HOPE OVER DESPAIR. Despair is essentially temporary, self-destructive. It is a passing Winter. But Hope is the inevitable guest and comes to the hearts of brave men and women as surely as comes the round of the Seasons. The tides of cheer, joy and optimism in the race are inexhaustible. It is forever a happy world. In the larger view, "Weeping may endure for the night, but joy cometh in the morning."

4. THE TRIUMPH OF LIFE OVER DEATH. Men die everywhere, and hearts break, and bodies become diseased and decrepit. But this world remains a world for the living and not for the dead, of joyous lovers and not the disillusioned, of young courage and not old fear. The kind of universal man refuses to believe in death; all our thought and love is impregnated with life. We shall live on; it is not logic that proves it, but it is an unextinguishable instinct.

These are the truths about himself man reads in the symbol of the returning Spring. This is the cosmic meaning of Easter.

So Whittier:

> The Winter of the Spring,
> And ever upon old decay
> The greenest mosses cling.

When Men Take Charge of Kitchens
By E. K. WOOLEY.

(Copyright, 1914, by E. K. Wooley.)

Now that man has robbed woman of many of her home duties, is he actually going to turn her out of the kitchen?

This reflection is aroused by some remarks made by the manager of a woman's exposition in one of the large cities of the middle west.

"Look at 'em," said he, as he stood in the gallery watching the crowd. "Three men to every two women. It was about half and half last year. The year before that most of 'em were women. Looks to me as if men were marching kitchenward, now that women are getting interested in so many things outside the home."

When every kitchen is equipped with a dishwashing machine, will lordly man be willing—nay, anxious —to wash the dishes while his good spouse earns the family living?

Put all the modern labor-saving conveniences into a home and the husband thereof may not object at all to doing the housework. When machinery does away with the dirt and drudgery, he may possess much in the past were inevitably allied with "woman's work" in the home, it will cease to be "woman's work" and attain to the dignity of man's work—eh?

We may even expect to see the day, if men decide to do the housekeeping, when the head of the house will have matters so arranged that he may recline comfortably and punch buttons to set going the electrically scrub brush, wash machine, window cleaner, et cetera.

If man is going to do the housework, he's going to make it easy to do—nothing he hasn't done for his wife, his mother and his daughters.

Men have always had an idea that women have nothing to do but curl their hair and repose in a kimono. They can't understand "what a woman does around the house all day."

A lot of married men have an idea that they are working their heads off to support a wife in comparative idleness. Some of them, while not exactly wishing to be women, have been wishing they could have things "as easy" as women have them. They covet the kimono job. And now that a lot of wives are going forth into the world to exchange their services for real money, a lot of husbands are just naturally going to sink into the vacated kitchens—with this difference, however, they will demand and get every labor-saving device which heretofore has been considered an extravagance when only the woman of the house wanted it.

There's going to be one drawback, however. The woman housekeeper has had to be nurse and babytender also. And as yet nobody has invented any modern conveniences that will keep track of a mischievous youngster, or stop a crying baby, or get up at night with a croupy child or walk the floor with a colicky one; nothing that will hunt up oil of cloves and a bit of cotton for an aching tooth or apply soothing balm to a bump or a burn; nothing that can spank or coddle, or do the heap of loving that mother can.

Quips and Quiddities

The aviator's wife was taking her first trip with her husband in his biplane. "Wait a moment, George," she said. "I'm afraid we will have to go down again."

"What's wrong?" asked the husband.

"I believe I have dropped one of my pearl buttons off by jacket. I think I can see it glistening on the ground."

"Keep your seat, my dear," said the aviator. "That's Lake Windermere."

It was the third time that week that fish had appeared on the table.

"I'm afraid you may think we're giving you a lot of fish this week, old man," said the genial host, as they sat down to dinner. "The fact is, my wife has got hold of what sounds like a really capital device for removing a fishbone stuck in the throat, and we want to see if it works."

The Journal's Letter Box

Editor The Journal:

It will no doubt be conceded that the proposed bill looking to government aid in building good roads throughout the rural districts is nothing more than a start in the right direction, for the amount proposed to be appropriated for this purpose falls far short of the amount absolutely necessary to build even one highway across any of the states, even after each state has appropriated a like amount. But the strong necessity of providing better roads through the rural districts is the impression that we had better make a small start rather than criticise and point out defects in the bill now pending before congress. Millions of money are now being squandered in temporary and inefficient road work, and the tax payer is not reaping the benefit from the money expended. This inefficient work will continue unless the general government gets behind this work and directs the expenditure of the people's money. Unfortunately many of the road commissioners of the various counties are influenced by personal and political considerations in the distribution of even such work as is now being done. Certain sections of many counties are suffering for better road facilities simply because it does suit the personal and political fortunes of the commissioners to give them relief. That a state needs is a systematic and uniform method of working the roads of the country, and we shall never reach this high plain of road building till we place behind it the strong arm of the government and, however modest the start, we should encourage it.

Statistics show that it costs as much to wagon the products of the farm to the railroads as it costs for the railroads to carry them to the consumer. Over the present crude roads the farmer can only haul three bales of cotton with a team that costs fully $3 per day. With anything like good roads he would be able to haul six bales with the same expense. The cost of transportation figures largely in the cost of living. If the cost of transportation could be reduced 50 per cent we would hear little of the high cost of living. Good roads would not only reduce the cost of farm products by reducing the cost of hauling same to market, but would increase the production of food stuff by creating such a return to the farm as would eclipse the past flow of the rural population into the cities. Rural residence figures largely for the benefits of social and educational advantages, and brain and money have been pulled away by the superior advantages of the latter. Telephones and rural mail delivery go a long way toward giving these advantages, but we will never be able to offer rural advantages along the lines of society, education and general home comforts and security till we interest this country with good roads. If, then, we would eliminate the high cost of living, we must seek it through the avenue of good roads.

Hence it is that not only the farmer, but all mankind will be benefited by good roads. Increased prosperity of the farmer, superior comfort and pleasure offered to the resident in the rural districts through the reduction of the cost of hauling farm products to market and the elimination of distance through the avenue of good roads will bring a lower schedule of food prices to the delight of the city as well as the farmer. Nor will this new schedule militate against the farmer, for no part of this government can prosper long at the expense of any other part. And governmental aid should be given along such lines as will conserve the interest of the entire country. It is true that all national legislation is now alive with acts looking to building up the agricultural interests of the nation—currency, tariff, farm demonstration, parcel post and rural mail facilities, but we have started at the top and are working downward. If we would secure permanent relief along these lines let us first of all take such steps as will give the rural districts good roads, and we will have laid the foundation of all these necessaries to comfortable, profitable and safe habitation in the rural districts.

Who pays the bills of this government? Laws recently enacted may force out the hidden wealth of the capitalist and wealthy manufacturer, but is a conceded fact that the agricultural world comes nearer paying its pro rata part of the expense of the government than any other department. What interests have heretofore received the benefits of government aid and protection? The army, navy, waterways and other branches of the government have received 99 per cent of the appropriations, and although the building up of these various departments will indirectly help all interests, yet it is right and proper and imperative that the agricultural interest should receive its pro rata part of these appropriations, if we would preserve a well balanced nation. The general government is under obligations to give direct aid to this interest. Yet congress is hesitating to appropriate $25,000,000 for good roads, the only bill that has in it the semblance of direct aid to the farmer. I may lay too much stress upon the importance of good roads, but I can see no other means of developing the soil resources of this country, upon which depends the prosperity of the nation.

We farmers are not begging. We are demanding our rights, an equal share in the distribution of the government funds which we help accumulate. We are no longer satisfied with protestations of love, but want our share of the money taxed to supply benefits to other interests. And if the farmer is alive to his own interest he will weigh well the casting, of his vote when he goes to elect those who have control of the distribution of state as well as federal moneys.

Let us then take the paltry $25,000,000, supplement it with an equal amount of state aid, and demonstrate to the government thereby the necessity of repealing and substitute love. The plan of the congress is to get to exact methods by which the influence of all churches in all nations can be brought to bear directly upon the governments of officials to cause them to put an end to this unnecessary killing of people and destruction of property."

Let arbitration take the place of war. Arbitration dethrones might and enthrones right; war enthrones might and dethrones right. The public meetings of all citizens in all nations should enter their protest to the citizens of any nation to kill their people and destroy the property.

Create such a public sentiment for peace that no official will vote to declare war.

Bullochville, Ga. A. J. SNELSON.

Editorials in Brief

During the total eclipse of the sun on August 21 next, some interesting records will be made of the effect of atmospheric discharges on the propagation of radio-telegraphic waves. The eclipse will be visible in Greenland, Norway and Sweden, and in Russian and Persia, and co-operation among the various wireless telegraph stations has been invited by the committee for radio-telegraphic investigation of the British association. The eclipse will give an opportunity of making comparative measurements of the strength of signals during light and darkness, which will be valuable at the present time, says the London Mail.—Chicago Tribune.

THE FEDERAL CITY
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

IV.—UNCLE SAM—SPECULATOR.

Uncle Sam, at the time decided to build his permanent home on the banks of the Potomac, was a young man of excellent prospects, but his bank account was a large figure in the minus column. It was the first time a nation had set out to build a capital, and the only guide was the experience of cities and towns that had previously been promoted out this side of the Atlantic. The temper of the people of the United States would not permit the sale of concessions and monopolies to raise money, and the federal government entered on the establishment of its permanent seat on a similar speculative basis to the enterprises of private persons. There seems to have been no alternative to this method, but it resulted in a number of incidents that are not edifying, and which would have been avoided if the congress had not felt the necessity of raising revenue by the sale of lots to make the new capital a profitable proposition.

• • •

Although, under the agreements of the original proprietors, there was a certainty that the United States would eventually have title to a large number of building lots, a considerable expenditure was necessary before this prospect could be realized. The proposed location had to be surveyed and mapped, salaries of commissioners and clerks had to be provided; some sort of temporary buildings were necessary to house the workmen on the agricultural lands which were the subject of the agreement and thus ready cash was the first requirement.

• • •

This was first provided, although only in small installments by the grants of the states of Virginia and Maryland. Virginia appropriated $12,000 which was to be payable in three equal yearly payments. Maryland appropriated $72,000 to be paid as funds might come into the hands of the treasurer of the land office for the western shore from the sale of the confiscated estates of the former proprietors. The liberal intentions indicated could only be carried out at intervals, as repeated appeals to the treasurers of Virginia and Maryland developed that money was coming in very slowly. The amounts which could be spared were sent to the commissioners of the new city and by them doled out as absolute necessity required. There is a letter in existence written on the subject of payment of the advances by one of the treasurers in which he says that while money was coming in slowly, its influx could probably be quickened if he took the time to hurry up collections and if he received a commission on the amounts collected could be assured him he would devote a portion of his activities to the work.

• • •

The difficulty in securing funds made the commissioners anxious to expedite the arrangements for the sale of lots and the plan of the city had been pushed forward with a view of getting it engraved at the earliest possible moment so that it might be circulated in the United States and Europe. The copies of the engraved plan printed at Boston and Philadelphia were sent out to booksellers for the sale, and a date was set for the first sale of lots. The result of the sale was disappointing. Only a few lots were sold, and as the building regulations of the city had been very rigidly drawn, a reduction in price had to be offered. The contract of sale involved the building of brick or stone houses and required a considerable investment especially in view of the scarcity of building materials in the vicinity. This failure of the first two propositions of the original speculation to provide the necessary funds for the construction of the congressional buildings and to help carry Greenleaf's own purchases within the limits of the new city. He had agreed with Benjamin Stoddert, Uriah Forrest, Notley Young and others for the purchase of a large part of their interests in the city lots upon division, and also contracted with the commissioners to buy 6,000 lots of those which would come to them, upon agreeing to fulfill the building conditions require by the regulations of the city. Greenleaf was to pay 180,000 Maryland pounds of $2.66 to the pound, in seven equal annual payments, and it was thought that this arrangement would keep the finances of the city in easy circumstances until the federal buildings had been erected.

• • •

Under a supplemental agreement with the commissioners, Greenleaf took title to 1,000 lots which he proposed to offer with 2,000 lots of his private purchases as security for a loan to be subscribed in Holland. The commissioners made a deed in which they set forth that the consideration for the lots had been paid by Greenleaf and that he was the owner in fee simple. This was one of the transactions in behalf of the United States and Maryland which has been referred to as not particularly edifying. It was possibly a necessary means to the end proposed, since it enabled Greenleaf to appear before Holland with such title to the lots as would inspire confidence, but it did not represent the fact and was based on a secret trust agreement not disclosed to the proposed mortgagees. There was also the understanding between him and Greenleaf was only paying 25 pounds per lot and it was proposed to mortgage the lots at the rate of 100 pounds per lot.

• • •

The Hollanders, however, did not take kindly to the investment and subscribed only one-third of the amount, which was placed on Greenleaf's lots and the lots belonging to the public were reconveyed.

• • •

Samuel Blodget was another speculator who purchased a considerable amount of privately owned land in the city and proposed to sell his lots by means of a lottery. He offered as the grand prize a hotel which was started on the site of the present general land office, and is included in the building as it now stands. It appears that at first the commissioners employed Blodget to sell public lots in a similar way. When complaints began to be raised a little later they repudiated all connection with his scheme.

• • •

Both the Greenleaf and the Blodget speculations failed, and it became apparent that no considerable amount of money would be raised by sale of lots at least at the prices and under the conditions fixed by the commissioners. The ultimate removal of the congress then sitting in Philadelphia to the new seat of government would, it was thought, result in a material increase in the demand for lots, and enable them to be sold at the prices which had been fixed. The commissioners, therefore, appealed to congress for relief. There was no money available in the national treasury, but the congress voted to guarantee any loans which the commissioners might be able to raise up to the amount of $300,000, the security for the loans to be the lots which had been assigned to the United States for sale.

• • •

The lots and the guarantee of congress were not, however, such attractive security that individuals would subscribe to a loan, and no specie was forthcoming as the result of the commissioners' efforts. The state of Maryland, however, had on hand a large amount of 6 per cent stock of the United States which apparently was not regarded at the time as an active asset, and it was voted by the assembly of the state that $200,000 worth of this stock might be loaned to the commissioners provided they would take it at par, and in addition to the guarantee of congress would guarantee in their individual capacities that the loan should be paid at maturity. Even this loan could not be realized on except at a heavy depreciation and the $200,000 with accrued interest was sold for $170,000, of which about $40,000 had to be returned to the state as interest on the loan, leaving a net sum of $130,000, applicable to public purposes.

When the congress first met in Washington in November, 1800, only the north wing of the capitol was in a state approaching completion, and Mrs. Adams who had come to Washington with President John Adams in the early summer, has left an interesting account of the incompleteness of the building operations at the White House.

DR. L. G. HARDMAN ENTERS RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Commerce Man First Candidate to Make Formal Announcement

Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, Jackson county, former member of the general assembly and one of the best known men in northeast Georgia, has made his formal announcement for governor and issued the platform upon which he will ask the suffrage of his fellow citizens.

Dr. Hardman is the first gubernatorial candidate to make formal announcement. His announcement and platform follow:

"FOR GEORGIA."

"To the Citizens of Georgia: —

"I announce myself a candidate for the office of governor of the state of Georgia, subject to the Democratic primary as provided by your state Democratic executive committee which is to be held on August 19, 1914, and submit for your consideration the following measures which I favor:

"Georgia has made great strides in the last few years, but opportunities are greater now than ever before. With the rapid increase of population and with the increase in the agricultural pursuits and all lines of business and progress, unless some calamity should befall her in the next few years, her future will undoubtedly exceed all past history.

"I shall favor an administration of the affairs of the state along all lines which shall be fair, just and equitable for the benefit of the whole people.

"I shall favor the administration of the affairs based upon principle, justice and fairness rather than factionalism.

"I favor the enforcement of all laws of the state. The violation of any law is a crime, and disloyalty to the state, and its tendency is to weaken all governmental powers.

"I favor measures that would protect our women and children from any insecure conditions that would tend to affect their health and sap the foundation of the development of their bodies and minds. I would favor any measure that would most efficiently provide for taking care of the children (the boys and girls) of our country, and separate them from criminals, as far as it is possible to do so.

HEALTH LAWS REVISION.

"I favor a revision of the health laws of the state because the citizens are the most desirable resource of the state, and the conservation of human life retards the greatest waste that consumes our people. The waste of human life and burdens brought upon the state by unsanitary conditions, improper drainage, impure and improper food and drink cost the state annually an immense sum.

"I also favor laws providing for the protection of the districts best fit for cattle and hogs which are some of the sources of tuberculosis.

"I favor an education propaganda for the citizens of the state along the line of prevention of this dreadful malady. The state will be forced to contribute thousands of dollars to carry on the operation of the plant they have established for the treatment and cure of tuberculosis, which is a noble work; but prevention is better than cure, and while we are diminishing or decreasing human suffering, we are increasing longevity and earning capacity.

"I favor a law of vital statistics.

"I shall favor a fair and prompt disbursement of the funds of the state as provided by law.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

"As agricultural education contributes to the welfare of every citizen of the state, I therefore favor liberal appropriation for the upbuilding of agricultural and all other educational institutions of the state as far as possible.

"I favor an enacting of laws that will provide for the eradication of the diseases among our cattle, hogs and horses, as far as it is possible to do so. The state of Georgia loses almost a million dollars worth of cattle, sheep, hogs and horses each year besides retarding materially those industries.

"I favor a conservation of the natural resources of Georgia, in timber, water power, mineral and agricultural lands, so far as it can be done and not to interfere with the growth, progress and development of the state.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

"I favor the establishment of a state highway commission, properly provided with protection so as to not interfere with local supervision, also provided with a state road fund department.

"I favor the geological survey of the soils of the state, believing that from the study of the soils we widen our fields of agricultural pursuits.

"I favor a drainage law that would provide for the best method of reclaiming the waste lands of our state for the use of their citizens and the protection of their health.

INDORSED BY TRADE BOARD.

At a regular meeting of the Commerce board of trade held Tuesday night the following resolution indorsing Dr. Hardman's candidacy was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, our fellow citizen, Dr. L. G. Hardman, has announced himself a candidate for the office of governor of Georgia in the state primary of August 19, 1914, and,

"Whereas, his moral character, ability as a statesman and qualifications eminently fit him for the responsible duties of this high and honorable office,

"Be it resolved, That the Commerce board of trade indorse his candidacy and does hereby commend him to the people of Georgia as a man who is worthy of the honor and who, by his past achievements, has proved himself able to discharge the duties of the office to the best interests of the people of Georgia."

Judge Fite Discusses County Unit Provision

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., April 8.—Judge A. W. Fite, of the Cherokee circuit, has discovered a provision in the rules adopted by the state Democratic committee on last Saturday which, in his opinion, would, under certain circumstances, afford the politicians an opportunity for some juggling. His comment on the rules follows:

"I favor the county unit plan because it tends to protect the smaller counties, to prevent factions in the party and to guarantee free discussion and democratic action in and by the convention—to eliminate the 'steam roller;' but unfortunately it does not always result in the rule of the majority of the popular vote, and therefore it is objectionable to that extent. In fact, it is based mainly on a plurality vote.

"For instance, the candidate for senator who gets the largest vote in a county gets the delegates from that county, although he may not have a majority of the votes of the county; but he must have a majority of all of the delegates in the convention to be nominated, and there is where the expert politician may get in his work, and a candidate, who has even less than a plurality of the popular vote, may be nominated.

"The committee should have provided that in the event no candidate, when there may be three or more, has a majority of all the delegates, then the candidate having the majority or plurality of the popular vote should be the nominee.

"If left to the convention, as the call provides, then one not a candidate before the people might be nominated. Of course this would not likely occur, but it might occur. There should not be any 'negro in the woodpile.'"

Greensboro's New Officials

GREENSBORO, Ga., April 8.—A mayor and five councilmen for the city of Greensboro were elected yesterday, the entire ticket having been previously nominated by acclamation in a public mass meeting of the citizens. F. E. Boswell is the new mayor, and the councilmen are Henry M. Spinks, Noel P. Park, J. H. McCommons, Jr., E. W. Copelan and E. Harvey Armor. Messrs. Spinks and Parks were the only members of the retiring city administration who were named on the new ticket.

The new officials will be inducted into office Monday morning with brief ceremonies.

THEATERS

In "Driven from Home," which is this week's bill at the Bijou, Eddie Black plays one of his favorite roles, that of a fun-loving darkey, and he keeps the audience in a roar of laughter all the time he is on the stage.

The play is in four acts and the scenes are laid in the lumber country of the northwest. A number of specialties are introduced during the progress of the play. Miss Marie Claire, the leading woman, is a master of the violin and her solos upon that instrument always win encores.

Edwin Vail, the leading man, has a very pleasing voice and contributes a love song in the third act. The Lumberjack quartet is a big favorite, and Baby Hazel Johnson, who acts and sings, is a real hit.

The Forsyth's bill has an unusual feature this week that is attracting much attention, "The Verigraph," one of Thos. A. Edison's inventions. Through lorgnettes presented to the audience at the door, apparently blurred pictures when viewed through the lorgnettes, produced a clear vision, that is something of an illusion.

Ray Cox, a popular comedienne, headlines the bill, and Arthur Deagon, a comedian, rivals her for honors. The Alexander Kids are two cunning, clever, captivating children, who have a most entertaining number. George Rolland and company offers "Fixing the Furnace," and two other meritorious acts complete the show.

Next week "The Persian Garden" will headline, and one of the strong features will be Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barry.

The advance sale at the Lyric is increasing with each day to large proportions, the permanent subscription list, having assumed a look that bids well for business, proving that Atlantians are going to support a high class stock, such as La Verne company will prove beyond a doubt to be after next Monday night's performance, when "The Lady" will be the offering.

for orchestra seats, $1.00 and 75c for boxes and loges, 50c, 35c and 25c balcony, and matinee seats 25c and all box seats 50c including loge seats.

"Dope" is the great photoplay which will be presented on the large screen at The Grand all next week, commencing with the matinee on Monday at 3 p. m. and night performance at 8:30 p. m. Ten and twenty cents are the prices at all times.

Unlike the ordinary lesson play, "Dope" is full of powerful situations and thrilling climaxes; it is so capably handled by the author-stage-produced Herman Lieb, and his great support, that one is compelled to admit that here, at least, is a photoplay fulfilling all of our ideals of the photoplay as it should be.

Chicago Policewomen Shoot Straighter Than Men Peace Guardians

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 8.—Police women of Chicago can shoot straighter than Chicago policemen, according to a report today from the police school of instruction. Twelve police women made a revolver shot average of 88.43 per cent.

"Chicago police women are better marksmen than the men," said M. L. C. Funkhouser, second deputy police superintendent, "twelve policemen taken from the ranks, not the experts, but the average patrolmen, cannot make a better record than the women did." One of the police women, Marie Crot, made a record of 96 per cent and nine out of the twelve were rated as "expert" shots, with averages of 84 per cent or higher.

COMER AND HENDERSON IN RUN-OFF FOR GOVERNOR

Kolb Trails in Third — Underwood Piles Up Majority of 25,000

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 8.—Returns from Monday's state Democratic primary indicated this afternoon that B. B. Comer was leading his three opponents by a plurality of 10,000. Charles Henderson is running second, with Kolb third and Seed a good fourth. The estimate is based on complete and incomplete returns from forty-two counties from all sections of the state.

Underwood continues to lead Hobson, his opponent, for the United States senate by something like 15,000 out of incomplete returns from forty-five counties. It seems certain that Underwood will increase in lead to about 25,000 with the tabulation of complete returns.

Returns indicate certain defeat for Representative George W. Taylor in the First district by Oscar L. Gray. Representatives Blackmon, Den, Clayton and Burnett have defeated their opponents. William B. Oliver appears to have won by a small majority over William B. Bankhead for congressman from the Sixth district, now represented by Hobson.

George Huddleston and Judge Nathan Miller probably will be in the run-off May 11 for Congressman Underwood's seat, while Judge E. B. Alman and W. W. Callahan will likely be in the run-off to succeed the late Congressman Richardson in the Eighth district. Representative Heflin, from the Fifth district, and Representative Abercrombie, from the state at large, were returned without opposition.

JUDGE NEWMAN HALTS YARYAN PROPERTY SALE

(By Associated Press.)

BRUNSWICK, Ga., April 8.—Sale of the property here of the Yaryan Naval Stores company was stopped today by an order issued by Federal Judge Newman, of the northern district of Georgia. Action was taken at the request of attorneys for receivers of the company. The sale was postponed until June 2.

Owners of stock of the company, who reside in Ohio, and other stockholders are engaged in controversy and a question of jurisdiction between the Ohio and Georgia federal courts is said to be involved.

COMMISSION PROBES PAST LABOR TROUBLES

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A thorough investigation into past labor troubles in the clothing industry and the printing trades, aiming to eliminate them in the future was entered into here today by the federal commission on industrial relation.

Card of Thanks

The family of Mrs. Ellen C. Huffman expresses their appreciation for the loving aid given during the sickness of their mother, Mrs. Ellen C. Huffman, and for the sympathy extended during their bereavement.

"Yes, daughter, that's FINE for SPRAINS

You've only put it on twice, and the pain's all gone, and my arm's 'bout as well as ever. I sure never saw anything so quick as Sloan's."

So say thousands of others who have used Sloan's Liniment for many years for burns, scalds, cuts and sprains.

Helped Her Knee

Mrs. T. R. Williams, of Chicago, Ill., writes: "This winter I sprained my knee, and a friend recommended Sloan's Liniment. I used it and it did me lots of good."

A Quick Improvement

Mr. L. Roland Bishop, of Scranton, Pa., writes: "As I was leaving my office for lunch, I slipped and fell, spraining my wrist, and at four o'clock could not hold a pencil in my hand. At five o'clock I purchased a bottle of your Liniment, used it five minutes before I went to bed, and the next day I was able to use my hand as usual."

Best for Sprained Wrist

Miss H. S. Spokesfield, of Linwood, Mass., writes: "The other day I called on my neighbor, a beautiful old lady 73 years old, who had fallen upstairs and sprained her wrist; I asked her what she was doing for it, and she said she was using Sloan's—the best liniment there is."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

The Manufacturer's Short Cut to Sales

Atlanta dealers are awake to the advantage of co-operating with manufacturers who assist them in making a market by advertising in The Journal.

If multi-millionaire concerns whose business is world-wide, find it advantageous to use advertising space in The Journal, does not the use of Journal advertising seem wise for every producer who is seeking business in Atlanta?

HEAVY REALIZING SALES CHECKED RISE IN COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 8.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 3 points on overnight buying orders, inspired by steady cables and reports of internatinola organization of spinners estimated the invisible supply of American cotton at 300,000 bales less than last year. There was a good deal of realizing around the initial figures, however, and the market eased off with active months 3 to 4 points net lower.

Unfavorable weather reports checked the early selling movement and rallies occurred late in the morning but the market was easier right after midday under continued realizing, and sold about 4 to 5 points net lower.

Trading was quiet during the early afternoon. Prospects for bullish week-end figures and reports of higher southern spot markets checked selling and prices ruled within 2 or 3 points of last night's finals.

Offerings decreased in the afternoon and at 2 o'clock prices were 2 to 3 points over yesterday's closing level.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.—Cold weather in the western cotton delta and prospects that it would sweep eastward, caused buying on the opening of the cotton market today. First prices were 1 to 3 points up and around the call the market stood 4 to 5 points up. Profit-taking set in rather heavy and half an hour after the opening prices were 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close.

Fresh buying at the decline sent prices to the highest levels. Late in the morning realizing was again a factor and at noon prices were 3 to 5 points under yesterday's finals.

COTTON MARKET OPINIONS

Morris H. Rothschild & Co.: We advise purchases of winter months on an investment basis.

Logan & Bryan: The spot situation and the uncertainty attending weather conditions act as a restraining influence on selling operations at this time.

Miller & Co.: Market has advanced rapidly and everything considered, it would seem conservative to meet these strong spots with sales, especially new crop options.

NEW YORK COTTON LETTER.

NEW YORK, April 8.—While a Liverpool cables were favorable still there was a disposition on the part of the crowd her to sell on and after opening. Later buying orders came from Liverpool and trade interests, which caused nervousness carrying prices back to the high of tae day. This brought out another wave of selling from Wal street and profit taking by longs. We may have a repetition of yesterday, as the market always finds substantial support on a few points decline. Some of the conservative operators, think that May may reach 13 cents before the close tomorrow. While a reaction would seem in order, after over a hundred points steady advance, I would not favor selling the market short, but it might be well to take profits on long cotton as an improvement in weather conditions would bring out considerable selling, which of course, would effect the new crop more than the old.—Anderson.

CANADIAN PACIFIC UNDER HEAVY PRESSURE ALL DAY

Caused by Reduction Freight Rates by Canadian Railway Commission

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 8.—Canadian Pacific slumped violently at the opening of the stock market today on the reduction of freight rates by the Canadian railway commission. It opened with a block of 3,000 shares at 202 to 201¼, a maximum decline of 5⅝. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Saulte Ste. Marie, a controlled road, was heavy with an increased volume of business.

Heavy foreign selling of Canadian Pacific drove it down to 199¾, which was an incentive for renewed active selling of the general list but losses were limited to half a point or so in most cases.

Later there was a recovery when the coalers began to show the stimulating effect of Lackawanna's victory in the anti-trust suit. The market, however, began to drag again after the rally. No response was made to the Copper Producers' figures which showed a reduction in supplies of 13,762,000 pounds.

Texas company fell 3 points. Lackawanna Steel's large shrinkage in earnings for the last quarter, the expected decrease in United States Steel tonage figures and dismal comment by steel trade journals intensified the general heaviness. Union Pacific, New Haven an dAmalgamated lost a point and the coalers relinquished their gains.

HAYWARD & CLARK COTTON LETTER

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.—Liverpool advanced fully as much as due, and quotes spots 9 higher, sales 8,000. Opening about 2 higher, our market experienced considerable realizing which caused a little easiness, the approach to a holiday period and the break in Canadian Pacific prompted selling and restricted support. But for the holidays which have the effect of checking activity, bullish demonstration in the market would have been more pronounced as speculative is beginning to realize that the bearish control by a few interests is broken and that it is freer to act, while the trade is waking up the strength of the actual.

New York confirms the sale of April at 13½ cents. If it takes that price to settle with actual cotton at this time, then May and July at the large discount look quite unprotected. The map shows cloudy weather over the entire belt, and rather heavy rains in the lower central states, parts of Alabama, west Georgia and Tennessee. Freezing temperatures in the northwest quarter, cold in central and south Texas. Indications are for further rains and colder in the eastern states. Part cloudy west of the river; colder with frost temperatures to the coast. An extensive rain formation is indicated to come on the western states towards Saturday. Professional information from New York shows that the leading interests were again the buyers yesterday, absorbing all the selling from smaller sources. The latest report of the International Spinners' Federation gives mill stocks in Europe and America 300,000 less American cotton than last year and puts consumption of American cotton at 15,050,000 bales. The fact that we started this season with 720,000 bales less visible and invisible and that the crop maximum for this season looks like 14¾ million of lower spinning value than usual shows the bullishness of the above stock and consumption figures. After the little selling process in the first hour, which is good for the market, prices turned active and strong again towards noon. As stated before, leading interests are now on the bull side which is a consideration not to be overlooked.

PERUSE carefully "Lost and Found" classification.

Weather Conditions

Forecast till 7 p. m. Thursday:

Atlanta and vicinity: Fair, colder tonight, temperature close to freezing; Thursday fair, much colder.

Georgia: Rain tonight, except fair in northwest portion, colder, temperature close to freezing in northwest portion; Thursday much colder and generally fair.

Alabama: Generally fair, colder tonight with temperature close to freezing in north and with frost in south portion if weather clears; Thursday fair and cold.

The southwestern storm moved rapidly northeastward to western North Carolina and Virginia, with the atmospheric pressure below 29.70 inches at Asheville, N. C. Generally cloudy, rainy weather prevails over the entire country east of the Rocky mountains. The heaviest rains were Birmingham 1.60 and Knoxville 1.08 inches.

The cold wave in the northwest is advancing rapidly southward. The atmospheric pressure is over 30.6 inches in South Dakota, with clear, cold weather in the northwest. Temperatures range this morning from 64 degrees at Jacksonville to 56 degrees at Atlanta, 36 degrees at Nashville, 30 degrees at St. Louis, 20 degrees at St. Paul and 14 degrees at Williston. At Oklahoma the 7 a. m. temperature was 28 degrees.

The position of the areas of high and low pressure are such as to favor the flow of cold air from the northwest over Georgia. Temperatures will be near freezing tonight. Thursday will be fair and much colder. The high winds tonight may prevent formation of frost, but killing frosts seem almost inevitable on Friday morning.

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Section Director.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP

Times-Democrat says:

Today's cotton market was just the sort of surprise against which the bear must keep himself braced till the south shall produce a crop huge enough to assure normal supplies for near and distant future alike. So far as spinners are concerned it would appear that the rings have given assurance that all will be well through successive years, but the experience of the underwriter who has just settled an April policy in New York by paying 13.50 for that month, would seem to suggest stirring times in May, June and August. What will happen in October remains to be seen. Despite all the talk of an impending shrinkage in trade the emand for spots appears to bme limited by the offerings alone. At this rate, the showdown will come much sooner than the most rampant bull imagined a few weeks ago. There is, of course, a price which wil tell the entire story of dearth, just as 5 cents fold the entire story of glut in 1899. Yet this price cannot be found without headaches and heartaches innumerable. A situation of this kind answers perfectly to Sherman's description of war.

Northwest storm warning, 8:15 a. m., Galveston and Texas coast. Small craft warning, Corpus Christi to Bronwsville and Louisiana coast: Moderate northerly gales on the Texas coast and fresh to strong breezes on Louisiana coast.

Map shows cloudy entire belt, freezing temperatures in north Texas and Oklahoma. Cold even in south Texas. San Antonio 44 degrees. General and rather heavy rains in Mississippi, parts of Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee. Indications for clearing and continued cold in north Texas. Rains and colder in south Texas and central states; probably frost temperatures to coast; rain and colder in the Atlantics; freezing temperatures in north central belt.

Forecast: Louisiana—Fair tonight, frost nearly to the coast; Thursday fair, warmer except in southeast portion; fresh northerly breezes on the coast tonight, subsiding Thursday.

Tonight fair, colder, frost in south portion, freezing in north portion; Thursday fair, warmer.

Oklahoma—Tonight fair, freezing, not so cold in northwest portion; Thursday fair, warmer.

East Texas—Tonight fair, colder except in northwest portion, freezing in north, frost in south portion; Thursday fair, warmer, fresh breezes on the coast tonight, subsiding Thursday.

West Texas—Fair tonight, colder in southeast portion, frost in south, freezing in north portion, not so cold in the panhandle; Thursday fair, warmer.

Georgia—Rain tonight except fair in northwest portion; colder tonight with temperature near freezing in northwest portion; Thursday much colder, fair.

Alabama—Generally fair tonight with temperature near freezing in north, frost in south if weather clears; Thursday fair, colder.

Kentucky—Fair tonight and Thursday; freezing temperature.

Mississippi—Fair colder tonight with freezing tonight in north portion and frost, probably heavy, in south portion; Thursday fair and cold.

Florida—Unsettled, probably local rains, colder in north and central, much colder in northwest with frost if weather clears.

11 a. m. bids in New York were as follows: May, 12.78; July, 12.47; August, 12.25; October, 11.72.

11 a. m. bids in New Orleans were: May, 12.71; July, 12.81; August, 12.60; October, 11.76.

Liverpool cables: American forwarded 42,806, total 50,002, American decrease 42,590.

Buying is coming from same sources as yesterday. Mitchell, Riordan and Gwathmey were leading buyers after call, while ring generally were selling led by Waters and Schill. Sentiment against further advance.—Anderson.

Understand spinners' federation latest report makes stocks of world 300,000 smaller than last year and consumption American for this season 15,050,000. This looks very bullish on the supply for this season.—Kofler.

STOCK GOSSIP

Dow, Jones' summary: Copper producers' figures at 12:30 a. m. Federal court at Trenton dismisses government's suit against Lackawanna railroad and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal company for alleged violation of Sherman law and commodities clause of Hepburn act. McReyiolds to appeal.

Canadian railway commission orders substantial cut in western freight rates. Twenty rails 104.65, up .14; twelve industrials 82.18, unchanged.

On weak spots I believe stocks are a purchase. The report on winter wheat yesterday was very good. Some of these favorable factors will influence prices later on. I would buy Reading, Union Pacific and Copper stocks on recessions for the long pull.—Potter.

On account of Canadian rate decision, London was a heavy seller of stock during first hour. Here was the hope of the bulls. They said foreign selling was well taken and that when it was concluded the market would respond to favorable home news, the effect of which has been temporarily held in check by a development outside of our own country. There was pressure on steel, partly on account of Mr. Schwab's statement that the steel business is bad and partly on expectation of unfavorable showing in tonnage figures to be published Friday. Studebaker was weak on disappointment over the fact that favorable developments expected at annual meeting did not materialize.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Chicago Inter Ocean says: Wheat traders construed the government report as bearish, as conditions are so high that it left no room for doubt. With the highest condition with one exception on record and the largest acreage there was a disposition to look for lower prices. Corn traders were also disposed to expect a break in sympathy with wheat.

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. say:

Wheat—We see nothing in the long side.

Corn—We look for a general lowering of values.

Provisions—The market shows no particular strength.

Wheat was firm this morning, the effect of government report being tempered somewhat by later advices from Washington, stating that allowing for average deterioration in condition and acreage, the final crop might be 551,000,000 bushels; some authorities yesterday figured as high as 662,000,000. Another check to bearish operations was the cold wave west, Dodge City showing 16 degrees.

GRAIN MARKETS STEADY; PROVISIONS ARE HIGHER

Wheat Closed Unchanged to 1-4c Off—Corn, Pork, Lard and Sides Up—Oats Off

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, April 8.—Although the wheat market promptly responded today to the bearish crop figures from Washington prices soon rallied to a considerable extent. Freezing weather, especially in the southwest, tended to induce a good deal of buying. Many traders also were disposed to regard the government crop as having been pretty well discounted. Quotations after opening ¼ to ⅜c lower rallied to nearly Monday night's level.

Uneasiness over delay in seeding northwest helped to sustain the wheat market. Closed firm at the same as Monday's closing to ¼c off.

Corn rose on account of the absence of selling pressure. The few speculators who expected weakness in sympathy with wheat were quickly forced to cover. Prices opened a shade off to ¼ up and then made a material advance all around.

Later the purchase of 240,000 bushels of Argentine corn to come to Chicago in May had a temporary bearish effect on corn prices. Closed nervous at ⅛@¼ to ½c net advance.

Unfavorable seeing conditions put firmness into oats. Besides the market was inclined to follow the bulge in corn.

Provisions went higher with hogs. First sales were 2½@5c to 7½c up and there was no sign of any important reaction.

NEW YORK STOCK LETTER

NEW YORK, April 8.—The weakness in Canadian Pacific had little effect on the balance of the list. The strength in Reading and other coalers is encouraging and the decision against the government in the Lackawanna suit should stimulate an investment demand for all of the coal stocks.—Potter.

YOUR MONEY

What the Lawmakers Think of "Big Business."

By JOHN M. OSKISON.

Investors in the stocks and bonds of big corporations have certainly been worried about the attitude of state legislatures and the general government toward the companies whose securities they hold. They have not been able to decide whether the average legislator wants merely regulate the big corporation's activity or to destroy it.

Slowly the states are making their attitude clearer. In New Jersey, the other day, the commission charged with carrying out the provisions of the anti-trust bills passed in the days when Woodrow Wilson was governor, refused to allow the combination of two companies—and the main reason given was that the assets of the combined companies did not justify the issuance of the amount of capital stock proposed.

California has taken a forward step in writing into her laws a provision that no agreement or combination among business corporations shall be considered unlawful if the combination shows that its operations are to be conducted at a reasonable profit. California has also exempted such associations as her fruit-marketing associations from prosecution, and in this Colorado has followed California's lead.

So the trend is distinctly toward regulation; investors can be sure of effective regulation, the value of their holdings will increase. That result has followed in the states where the public service companies have come under the closest supervision by state commissions, and the corporations would not willingly give up the prestige they have gained by passing tne states' scrutiny.

Let the lawmakers and the investors get together—certainly they represent the real parties at interest—and swap views.

SAYS POLICEMEN STRUCK HER; SUES FOR DAMAGES

Alleging that three county policemen, without a warrant, searched her house for whisky when there was none there, broke into several trunks and finally, when she protested, struck her so badly with a piece of planking that she was laid up in bed for three weeks and on crutches for six weeks, Mrs. M. E. McDonald filed suit against the trio in the superior court Wednesday for $5,000 damages.

Mrs. McDonald's attorneys, J. F. Golightly and Gus Russell, name John C. Oliver, John Carter and A. C. Logan as the policemen. Oliver is a lieutenant on the force, Carter an officer, while Logan is not a county policeman, according to Chief George Mathison.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Notice of Bond Election to be Held Upon the Issuance of Bonds for Grady Hospital. Date of Election Tuesday, May 5, 1914.

STATE OF GEORGIA, COUNTY OF FULTON, CITY OF ATLANTA:

Notice is hereby given to the qualified voters of the City of Atlanta that the mayor and general council of said city have called an election to be held at the several voting precincts in the city of Atlanta, within the legal hours for holding elections, on Tuesday, the 5th day of May, 1914, to determine whether the qualified voters of the city of Atlanta will assent, by the requisite two-thirds majority, upon the following bonds, to-wit:

$720,000.00 of bonds of the city of Atlanta, of the denomination of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each, and $30,000.00 of bonds of the city of Atlanta, of the denomination of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars each, bearing interest at the rate of 4½ per centum per annum, the principal of said bonds to be paid in 30 equal installments, annually, beginning July 1, 1915, in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard of weight and fineness, and the interest on said bonds to be evidenced by coupons falling due semi-annually and to be paid in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard of weight and fineness.

If said issue of bonds is assented to, by the requisite vote, an annual tax shall thereafter be levied, beginning with the year 1914 and running through the next succeeding 29 years and collected by authority of the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta, on the taxable property within said city, sufficient in amount to pay the interest semi-annually on said issue of bonds, and for the payment of $25,000.00 per annum of the principal of said bonds, and the fund so raised annually on account of the principal of said bonds shall be applied only to the payment of said bonds as they mature. The proceeds of said bonds shall be applied exclusively for rebuilding, new buildings and extensions to Grady hospital, with modern fixtures and furnishings for same, and for purchasing such land as may be needed by said hospital.

Voters at said election favoring the issue of bonds for rebuilding, new buildings and extensions to Grady hospital, with modern fixtures and furnishings for same, and for purchasing additional real estate for said hospital, shall have written or printed on their tickets the words:

"For the issue of Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($750,000.00) Dollars of bonds for the improvement of Grady Hospital."

Voters opposing the issuance of such bonds shall have written or printed on their tickets the words:

"Against the issue of Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand ($750,000.00) Dollars of bonds for the improvement of Grady Hospital."

Notice is also given that the tax collector of Fulton county, state of Georgia, the registrar of voters for elections ordered by the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta, has books of registration open for the purpose of registering the qualified voters of the city, under ordinances and laws governing same, and such registrar will keep said books of registration open daily, Sundays excepted, until within ten days of the date of said election, at his office, No. 4 East Hunter street, between South Pryor street and Central avenue, in the city of Atlanta, said county, and only those voters whose names appear on said registration books, as qualified to vote in the city elections for the present year and on said bond issue, shall be permitted to vote in said election.

This notice is given in pursuance of an ordinance calling for said election, approved on the 1st day of April, 1914.

Given under the official hand and seal of said city and by the authority and in the name of the mayor and general council of said city and likewise by authority of and in the name of the city of Atlanta on this the 2d day of April, 1914.

J. G. WOODWARD,
Mayor of the City of Atlanta.

WALTER C. TAYLOR,
Clerk of Council of the City of Atlanta.

Mrs. Brown to Entertain

Mrs. Elijah Brown will be hostess at an informal tea Thursday afternoon at the Piedmont club.

The guests will include a small number of friends.

Mrs. Alston Entertains Sewing Club

Mrs. Roland Alston entertained the members of her sewing club at a spring-the-day party Wednesday at her attractive home on the Wieuca road.

The long living room in which the guests assembled was made bright and cheerful by burning logs in the big open fireplace, at the end of the room.

The guests were Mrs. Eugene Callaway, Mrs. J. E. C. Pedder, Mrs. Mell R. Wilkinson and her guest, Mrs. Hall, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Bulow Campbell.

Dr. and Mrs. Hines' Guests

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hines will entertain at dinner at their home on West Peachtree street, Tuesday evening, April 14, in compliment to Miss Madge Lopez, an attractive bride-elect.

The invited guests are Miss Lopez, Miss Madge Horne, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Lopez, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Gannon, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mr. Howard Merrill, of Salt Lake City; Mr. Howard Osgood McMillan, Mr. Robert Campbell, Mr. John Lopez and Mr. William Lochran, of Minneapolis.

Miss Horne's Guests

An event of Monday evening will be the box party to be given by Miss Maggie Horne in honor of Miss Irene Lopez and Mr. Howard Osgood McMillan, whose marriage will be an interesting event of April 15.

The guests will include Miss Lopez, Mrs. Howard Merrill, of Salt Lake City; Miss Marguerite Wall, Mr. Howard Osgood McMillan, Mr. Robert Campbell, Mr. William Lochran, of Minneapolis; Mr. John Lopez and Dr. Claude Culbreach, of Grantville.

After the theater the guests will be entertained at a supper at the rathskeller at the Ansley.

Mrs. Howard Gives Afternoon Tea

A delightful event of Wednesday afternoon was the tea at which Mrs. George P. Howard entertained at her home on Peachtree street, in honor of Mrs. Max Howland, of Boston, Mass., who has received charming social courtesies from many of her former friends.

The attractive home was adorned with fragrant spring blossoms and in the dining room, where tea and sandwiches were served by Miss Julia Dunning and Miss Dorothy Arkwright, the table held an unusually artistic arrangement of yellow tulips, lilacs, pink and white sandpiper and purple pansies resting in a novelty French basket, the handle caught with a fluffy bow of bright green tulle.

About fifty guests called between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock.

Class Entertained At Luncheon

Mr. William Hurd Hillyer entertained the officers and executive committee of his Sunday school class at luncheon Tuesday at the Hotel Ansley.

Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, was the guest of honor, the class being a part of the Second Baptist Bible school.

Those present were Dr. John E. White, Miss Nell Wheeler, Miss Mamie Mitchell, Miss Julie Nesbit, Miss Lucile Johnson, Miss Marguerite Henley, Miss Mazelle Thompson, Miss Nelle Cato, Mr. J. Austin Brooks, Mr. S. L. Hillyer and Mr. William Hurd Hillyer.

Bridge Luncheon

Miss Mamie Bleim was hostess at a bridge luncheon Monday at her home in Inman Park, in compliment to Miss Annie Denk, a bride-elect.

The center decoration of the table was a low basket of Killarney roses and lilacs, and the silver candelabra held pink burning tapers and pink shades.

The place cards were miniature brides and grooms and each guest received a bisque wedding slipper as a favor.

The guest of honor was presented with a hand-painted plate, the prize for top score, a cut glass vase, was won by Miss Selena Brantley, and the consolation prize, a piece of lingerie, was cut by Miss Madeline Brooks.

The guests present were Miss Denk, Miss Madeline Brooks, Miss Selena Brantley, Miss Crystal Boschie, Miss Minnie Silver, Mrs. Milner LaHatte, Mrs. Henry Meunch and Mrs. Theodore Marks.

Parties for Visitor

A number of parties have been planned for Mrs. Ray Carlton, of Montgomery, Ala., who is the guest of Mrs. Walter Smith. Miss Lebie Ewing will be hostess at a bridge party Thursday morning at her home in Ansley Park.

Miss Alma Downing and Miss Betty Fudge will entertain at a matinee party and Mrs. A. C. Frazer will be hostess at an informal bridge, the date to be given later.

INTERESTING GOSSIP OF INTERESTING PEOPLE

The departure of the May flower from Mexican waters with former Governor Lind aboard, whatever it may portend in the realm of diplomacy, has a very interesting significance in the realm of romance. The vessel is due to arrive in Washington on April 13, and removes the contingency upon which hung the date of the marriage of Miss Maitland Marshall, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. William L. Marshall, and Paymaster J. J. Knapp, U. S. N., an officer of the Mayflower.

The invitations will be sent out in a day or two for Wednesday, April 22, at 4 o'clock. The ceremony, which will take place at the Church of the Covenant, will be followed by a reception at Rauscher's. Miss Marshall's attendants will be Mrs. Frank Phillips, wife of Captain Phillips, who will be matron of honor; Miss Dorothy Arkwright, of Atlanta, cousin to Miss Marshall, who will be maid of honor, and Miss Ruth Bliss, Miss Eleanor Wilson, Miss Julia Heyl, Miss Katherine DuBose, Miss Hazel Funk, of Bloomington, Ill., and Miss Mary Bayne, of New York, who will be bridesmaids. Mr. Edward Eberle, of New York, will be best man, and the ushers who are not yet announced, probably will be fellow officers of Paymaster Knapp on the Mayflower.

At the end of last season Mrs. John Astor wore the Watteau hat with her Watteau dresses, which is going to be universal this summer. Everybody went mad over these little quaint, picturesque headdresses, but, somehow, nobody could get them at the time. It now transpires she entered into a special arrangement with the Paris originator of these hats for a big sum not sell them to any one else until she was tired of them. She wore a Watteau hat of pale blue straw at the royal garden party last summer, and next day society women besieged the smart milliners for such hats, only to be told they had nothing like what they described.

Pompadour and Watteau brocades and gauzes are employed for gowns that show the Louis Seize tendency, which are worn with white hair. Gowns of the stately type, suited for grand dames, are embroidered sheer on the colors. Two or three mannequins have been seen wearing the transformations of hair dyed to match the gown, but only in amber or bronze tints, which really would not be impossible to natural tresses, not even one example has been encountered of the vivid blue, cerise, green, and violet locks of which we hear so much. But little turbans of brilliant-hued tulle or gauze sewn with jewels, set with a jeweled bandeau with a tall feather fantasie of the same color at back and front, and worn so as to conceal the hair almost entirely, are very fashionable at the moment, and look undeniably effective.

News comes from Knoxville, Tenn., of the death of "Parson" Brownlow's widow, at the age of ninety-five. Few people knew that until so lately there remained this living link with the famous "fighting parson" of war times, whom Tennessee expelled because of his bold attacks upon secession, but afterward recalled to be its governor, says the New York World.

Yet how many wives of distinguished men have survived their husbands so long that they have seemed to trail phantoms of history through the living realities of a later generation?

In the town of Charlotte, N. C., Mrs. Shaerwill Jackson is still living. It is nearly thirty-eight years since Custer's last flight, yet Mrs. Elizabeth B. Custer is still alive and well. Mrs. N. P. Willis died only a few years ago in Washington, though the literary career of her brilliant husband reached its height long before the Civil war. The widow of Jefferson Davis lived until 1906. General George Pickett's widow is still alive. Alexander Hamilton's wife survived him fully fifty years and died at the ripe age of ninety-seven.

To go further into the world, Frau Cosima Wagner still seeks to guard with jealous care the work of the great genius who seems to the youth of this generation as remote as Mendelssohn—who died thirty-six years earlier. Carlotta, former empress of Mexico, widow of the ill-fated Maximilian, if we are not mistaken, still lives. A little thought could readily extend the list.

Most wonderful of all widows is the pathetic personage whom visitors to the sunny shores of southern France at this time of year may see any morning—a shrunken figure in black, leaning on a stick amid the palms and roses of her garden—now a faded old woman whose name itself is half a memory, but formerly the idol of a great nation, mistress of a brilliant court, acclaimed in her own country and abroad the most beautiful woman in Europe—the former Empress Eugenie, widow of Napoleon III, who has outlived well-nigh half a century the vanished glories of her husband's reign.—Exchange.

Easter Music at First Baptist

Gounod's "The Resurrection and Ascension" and "'Tis the Spring of Souls Today," by Lemare, will be sung by the First Baptist choir on Sunday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock, under the direction of J. P. O'Donnelly, organist.

The soloists will be Mrs. Peyton H. Todd, Mrs. James H. Whitten, Mr. Solon Drukenmiller, Mr. Harry R. Bates.

They will be assisted by Mrs. A. J. Woolley, Miss Florence Baldwin, Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Mrs. J. H. Salmon, Mrs. Carroll Sumner, Mrs. Emmie Ballew, Mrs. A. W. Braselton, Miss Maude Cobb, Miss Callie Whitten, Miss Brownie Smith, Messrs. Custis A. Anderson, C. T. Brown, S. H. Galloway, E. P. Sutton, C. S. Upson, P. E. Davidson, W. P. Hunter, H. W. Reding, Mr. Ferris, Mr. Roper.

Ice Cream Festival

The Junior Philathea class of the East Side tabernacle, of which Mr. J. P. Wall is teacher, will give an ice cream festival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wall, Faith's crossing, on Friday evening at 7:30, for the benefit of the church debt.

A musical program will be rendered.

The children will be served in the afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way is to Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and every one notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—(Advt.)

Announcements

The Bible Study Class of St. Paul's church, taught by Mrs. T. R. Kendall, will meet Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock, at the church.

Mrs. Kendall will bring with her a large model of the Tabernacle, which will be of special interest to those studying the chapters in the book of Exodus dealing with the Tabernacle—chapters 20 to 40. Every one interested will be welcomed.

W. C. T. U.

The Atlanta Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its regular session Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the Home for Old Women, 61 West End avenue.

An interesting program has been prepared and all members and friends are invited to be present and to bring jelly, fruit, flowers and other good things to the residents of the home.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

PARIS.—Last spring a smart New York woman appeared at the races here in a cloth gown of deep dull red, with brick dust tones in it, made with a moderately short coat that hung full and loose from the neck band to hem. This hem was sloped downward in the back and upward in front.

The entire suit was novel and attractive. It caused comment, approbation and imitation. Last autumn its kind reappeared. The coat had grown longer and was banded with fur, wide fur, at hem and neck and wrists.

Today, as we look on many gown and wraps, it is plainly evident that this striking coat has had its influence. It is not only worn in its original shape, and here and there, in the best houses and on the smartest women, one sees its influence.

Yesterday a Frenchwoman on the rue de la Paix at the fashionable tea hour wore a similar suit to that worn last spring which shows that modes in Paris do not change overnight as Americans think they do.

This suit was also in a color best called terra cotta, with the skirt extra wide at the hips and shaping down to nothing at the ankles, and a hip length coat, hanging free from the figure like a short cape through which the arms have been run.

The fulness of this coat was gathered to a high Directorie collar of black satin, which was tied together in front with short black and gold cords.

From this cravat the fronts sloped away under the arms to the rounded point at the back, and showed a broad waistcoat that resembled the cutrass worn in the Middle Ages. It was of Chinese brocade, such as Callot uses for an entire dinner gown, and entirely covered whatever blouse was beneath. It reached to the end of the corset and had a belt across the front.

Cape Coats in Fashion.

The only name that one could give to this kind of jacket was a cape coat. It is repeated everywhere, not always on street suits, but often on evening gowns. Doucet uses it this spring in thin unlined fulle and chiffon as a back drapery to a low theater gown. He fashions it of that new lace which he has designed, made of net flowers applied with a silver thread of tulle foundation.

The whole movement is probably due to the popularity of Neapolitan capes, which are worn both short and long.

All of the coats are short, even when made in this style, for the Paris designers have so abbreviated jackets that they will soon vanish into collars if the process of shortening keeps on.

Dressing Sacque Jackets.

The quaintest little garment that has appeared on women this month is a jacket cut on the pattern of a bed room sacque. It is a short slim cape with square three-quarter sleeves which fastens at the neck in front, widens as it leaves the neck and reaches toward the waist, and is cut off at the belt line.

If it were made of pink flannel with a scalloped edge, buttonholed with white silk floss, it would sell for $1.50 and be worn in the bed room by woman or child.

Made of taffeta, lined with mousseline and having its scalloped edge finished with narrow silk braid, it forms part of a costume, whose price, at the best houses, begins at $175.

By the way, the summer coats are lined with mousseline, black or colored.

Do you know why cows' milk will not do for your baby?

Many mothers who cannot nurse their babies think that cows' milk is a safe substitute. But it is not. You can't depend on getting cows' milk fresh and pure. Nearly all milk is 30 hours old when you get it. There are but 8 clean dairies in every 100, and so many cows infected with tuberculosis, you can't be sure that the milk you get is free from these dangers.

Even were you sure of getting absolutely pure milk, still it would not do for your baby. Cows' milk is intended for strong little calves, and nature has provided a calf with four stomachs to digest it. Your baby's tender little stomach cannot digest the heavy curds in cows' milk. It struggles under such an unfair load and finally becomes weak and ill. Give your baby the food nearest to mother's milk—

Nestlé's Food

The best of cows' milk from our own guarded Dairies, purified and modified with just enough wheat, sugar and other strength-building elements added—this is Nestlé's Food. Even the frailest baby can digest it. Cold water and one minute's boiling prepares it. No fuss, no bother, no risk. Your baby will thrive on it as the babies of three generations have done.

Send the Coupon for a sample box of Nestlé's and our "Better Babies" Chart—FREE. This chart shows you how to judge your baby according to modern health standards. See whether your baby weighs as much as he should, and whether his measurements are up to the standard of a baby his age. AMERICAN WOMEN WHO ARE WIVES OF THE GREAT

All the world hears about the deeds and public duties and the activities of public men. But it is very seldom that the "power behind the throne"—their wives—get into the limelight.

This story is about Mrs. Miles Poindexter, the wife of a public man, senator from the state of Washington.

Mrs. Poindexter has twinkling black eyes and a very keen sense of humor. She is a regular rooter for her home state Washington, although she maintains that living in Washington, D. C., is quite a lark and quite a privilege.

She was educated in a private school in Walla Walla. One of her chief fads is traveling. She is said to have explored practically every nook and cranny of the United States.

She says she is neither a club woman nor a feminine agitator. Yet she is thoroughly conversant with current events and likes nothing better than to discourse on the excellent laws which Washington has passed for women and children.

Mrs. Poindexter considers living in the nation's capital a delight in every respect except expense. And she frankly admits that it costs her about double the amount to keep up her establishment there that it would to maintain her household at home.

The Poindexters' new house, a large residence in Washington's most fashionable, attractive section, is a favorite gathering place of many people, which testifies to the popularity of Mrs. Poindexter as a hostess.

HARRIS & EWING

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The very morning that Jimmy Skunk had recided to go to see for himself this stranger of whom Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow and Uncle Billy Possum told such strange stories Peter Rabbit had made up his mind that he just had to see for himself what was going on. He had not been into the deepest part of the Green Forest since the time when he had found the strange tracks in the snow. The truth is Peter had been afraid to go. Now his curiosity had been aroused so by what Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow had said that he couldn't keep away any longer. First he looked for his cousin, Jumper the Hare. Jumper had not been afraid when Peter told him about those strange tracks, and he felt sure that Jumper would not be afraid now. But Jumper was nowhere to be found. In fact Peter had not seen him for some time, not since Sammy Jay had first come screaming out of the Green Forest with his story of the big stranger with the terrible claws.

So Peter had started off by himself. His heart went pit-a-pit, pit-a-pat, and he sat up to look and listen so often that it took him much longer than ever before to reach the pond of Paddy the Beaver deep in the Green Forest. Not once had Peter seen or heard anything to make him afraid, and by the time he reached Paddy's pond he had begun to feel very brave and bold. In fact he had almost begun to doubt if there was any such stranger as Sammy had described.

Then all of a sudden, right on the shore of Paddy's pond, Peter saw a sight that made him quite gasp for breath. Yes sir, it quite took Peter's breath away. What was it? Why, it was the meeting between Jimmy Skunk and the big stranger Sammy Jay had told him about. He was very big, quite as big as Farmer Brown's boy, was this stranger, and he wore a black fur coat just as Sammy had said. And there were the terrible claws, the most awful claws that Peter had ever dreamed of. As soon as he saw them Peter knew for sure that this stranger was the one who had made the big strange tracks in the deepest part of Green Forest at the very last of the winter. And now here was the great stranger with the terrible claws walking straight toward Jimmy Skunk and Jimmy didn't seem to know it. In fact Jimmy was resting and he looked very much as if he were going to take a nap. Peter wanted to shout and warn Jimmy. Then he thought of thumping. But he did not do either. The fact is Peter didn't quite dare to.

But there was no need, for just then the stranger stepped on a stick and it broke with a snap. Jimmy Skunk turned about. Of course he expected to see Jimmy run as fast as ever he could. Jimmy seldom hurries, but he will this time," thought Peter.

But Peter was wrong. Jimmy did nothing of the kind. For a minute he just stared. The big black stranger kept right on coming. Then instead of running, Jimmy went forward to meet him. Yes sir, Jimmy Skunk marched toward the stranger with his head and tail held high. The big black stranger stopped and eyed Jimmy a bit doubtfully. Then he stood on his hind legs and he was as tall as Farmer Brown's boy himself who couldn't stand like that. But it wouldn't do to let this stranger think that just because he was big and had cruel looking claws he could scare everybody, and so Jimmy once more marched forward. You know he really has a great deal of confidence in that little bag of scent he always carries with him. The stranger growled. Jimmy kept right on. The stranger growled louder. Jimmy kept right on. Then what do you think happened? Why that great big stranger began to back away! Peter Rabbit could hardly believe his own eyes.

HUSBAND TRIED MANY MEDICINES

Did Everything Possible for Suffering Wife. Neighbor Comes to Rescue With Excellent Advice

Clay, Ark.—Mrs. Sam Rice, of this town, says: "For ten of twelve years I suffered dreadfully with cramping, dumb chills and fever and was sickly all the time. I simply suffered terribly.

After I was married, my husband would stand over me and cry, and say I wish I knew what to do for you.' He was always getting some kind of medicine for me, but it never helped.

One of my neighbors advised him to get me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, which he did, and after I had taken the first bottle, I was relieved of pain and so much soreness, caused from cramping. My husband said for me to continue taking it, so I did, and now, thanks to Cardui, I am in perfect health.

I used to have a yellow complexion, but since taking Cardui, I can truthfully say that I have a beautiful complexion, and look like a girl of 18.

If you suffer from any of the numerous ills so common to women, try Cardui. It has helped so many thousands of other women, that it's unreasonable to think it will not help you.

Social Events for Bankers' Convention

Two brilliant social events have been arranged by the Atlanta Clearing House association for the entertainment of the members of the Georgia Bankers association which will meet in convention, May 7, 8 and 9.

The first event will be an al fresco luncheon to be served on the picturesque terrace of the Piedmont club Friday, May 8, at 1 o'clock. Mr. John King Ottley will have charge of the affair and 400 guests will be entertained, and others of the committee are Colonel Robert J. Lowry, Mr. Robert F. Maddox, Mr. James S. Floyd, Mr. C. H. Lewis, Mr. William J. Blalock and Mr. Joseph A. McCord.

Friday evening, May 8 a cabaret banquet will be given at the Capital City club. The officers and members of the bankers' association and their wives and daughters will compose the brilliant assemblage and the event promises to be one of the most interesting and elaborate ever given by any southern bankers' association. There will be very little speech-making, the guests to be entertained by new and novel features between the courses.

Five Hundred Party

Mrs. Christopher T. Lemon entertained at a 500 party Wednesday afternoon at her home on Cherokee avenue, in honor of Miss Annie Denk, a bride-elect of Easter week.

WEDDINGS

Invine-Smith

An event of interest in Greenville, S. C., and Atlanta was the wedding of Miss Clifford Irvine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris Irvine to Mr. Milton Graham Smith, the ceremony taking place Wednesday afternoon.

On account of recent bereavement in the family of the groom, the wedding was a very quiet one and was witnessed by only relatives and close friends.

Mr. Ormond Smith, of Atlanta, was best man.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for the Bahama Islands and Cuba, where they will spend several weeks, and on route home will spend a few days in the city with relatives.

Mr. Smith is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Smith, and is a brother of Mr. St. Elmo Massengale.

Dinner Dance Postponed

The regular Saturday evening dinner dance at the Piedmont club will be omitted Saturday evening because of the week being Holy week.

Luncheon to Bankers

An event of April 17, will be the luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club for group three, of the Georgia Bankers association.

The committee in charge includes Mr. T. C. Erwin, Mr. W. D. Owens and Mr. Henry B. Kennedy.

Bridge Party

Mrs. Frank Winecoff entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home on East Merritts avenue, in honor of Mrs. Carlton, the guest of Mrs. Walter Smith.

Vases and bowls of dogwood sprays, lilacs, and apple blossoms, were arranged artistically on the mantels and cabinets in the rooms in which the game was played.

The guests included Mrs. Calton, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Clarke Frazier, Mrs. Henry Nowel, Mrs. Louis Pool, Mrs. W. F. Winecoff, Sr., Mrs. S. F. Jackson, Miss Alma Downing, Miss Bettie Fudge, Miss Libie Ewing, and Miss Louise Mell.

A Distinctive Spring Style Exposition

We trust that every woman that sees this advertisement will read it carefully; and that she will critically study the illustrations.

"Allen's" Footwear Is Highly Specialized Footwear

ALLEN'S is representative of everything that is best in shoe making; this applies not only to the high quality of materials used, but to the genius that creates new styles and gives them prominence and popularity.

You will find them particularly charming. Many will describe them as "stunningly stylish!"

All "Allen's" Shoes Have Flexible Soles

It is a feature that gives the shoe wonderful flexibility; that makes "ALLEN'S" footwear with glove-like ease and comfort. You will never have to "break in" ALLEN'S footwear.

Another distinctive feature of "ALLEN'S" footwear is serviceability.

The new models are here, of course, in all the desirable leathers, in the up-to-the-minute toes and heels. In fact, they are the very latest words in correct shoe fashioning.

Tech Nine Will Meet Formidable Foe in Illinois

Big league and other professional baseball teams are not the only ones that take the trouble of a southern trip to get into condition for the season. The University of Illinois baseball team is to play Georgia Tech at Grant field Friday and Saturday. The team is under the guidance of George Huff, one of the best known men in baseball and premier college coach of the country. Huff was formerly big league scout for the Cubs, the Boston Nationals and the Cleveland Americans. Under Huff's direction the Illinois team has never been lower than second in the western conference race and in 1902, Illinois beat Yale, Princeton, West Point and Pennsylvania but lost to Harvard by a score of 2 to 1. Since 1900 the record of games won and lost is as follows:

1902	11	4
1903	18	1
1904	13	3
1905	11	5
1906	10	2
1907	11	3
1908	11	3
1911	13	1

Of recent years the best team that Illinois has had was the team of 1910, which has a record of fourteen won and none lost. This team is famous on the campus as the "1000 per cent team." The following fall the football team did not lose a game.

Not only have Illinois teams as a whole had continued success, but many of the players have developed into big league stars. Of these, there stands out most prominently the name of Jake Stahl, '02, who in 1912 led the Boston Red Sox to the world's championship. Stahl was developed by Huff. He came to college young, green and awkward, but before he left he was a star. In deep left field of the Illinois diamond there is a tree which is called the Jake Stahl tree. In a game against Michigan with Michigan in front by two runs, Stahl knocked the ball into the branches of this tree, thereby making a home run and bringing in three men ahead of him.

On the same team with Stahl was Carl Lundgren, '07, who was one of the mainstays of the Cubs' pitching staff for seven years, leaving them in 1909. Pfeffer, '04, played with the Cubs and with the Boston Nationals. Beebe, '04, played with the Cubs, St. Louis Nationals, Cincinnati and St. Louis. Demmitt played with the New York Americans, St. Louis Americans and is now with Detroit. Besides these there are many other league players who received their early training under "G." Huff.

John Breton, who will join the White Sox as soon as he graduates in June, is the latest Huff product in the big leagues. Breton went to the Sox from Kansas City American association last year and showed so well that he was signed for this year. He made the southern trip with the Illinois varsity two years ago, but was declared professional the year after that.

Marist Loses Game To Boys' High

Boys' High won over Marist college yesterday afternoon by the count of 6 to 4. However, Boys' High did not have an easy time in taking this game, and were lucky to get away with the game. Marist has improved greatly over their playing against Stone Mountain.

Boys' High got four of their runs in the second inning, due to the wildness of Brock, the pitcher. The other two came on hits coupled with errors by Marist.

Brock, who pitched for Marist, with the exception of the second round, when he hit three men and walked one, twirled a nice game. Harrison starred with the stick for Marist, getting three hits out of four trips to the pan.

For Boys' High the pitching of Friddell and Warwick was the feature. Friddell struck out eleven men in six innings, while five fell before Warwick in three rounds. Warwick certainly had stuff on all of the balls that he delivered. Marist made four hits in six innings off Friddell, and one off Warwick in three innings. Vinson, Johnson and Spurlock did some nifty fielding for Boys' High.

Score.	R.	H.	E.
Boys' High	6	7	4
Marist	4	5	7

Friddell, Warwick and Weaver, Brock and Hubert.

The New York Giants have a dog mascot that barks once when a single is made, twice for a double and three times for a triple, four times for a home run. If he joins the White Sox he'll become dumb.

MORE LINES TO SPRING.

You to come out of your winter retreat;
Spring, for the last moment now we have roared,
Peevishly calling for more sun and heat;
So, on your guard, take a warning old top;
Come back again to your long absent tryst,
For if the mercury once more should drop

ONE DRAWBACK.

I could stand the coming carnival
And dote on it till fall
If it wasn't for meeting up again
With "pitches masterly ball."

And give a ribald shout
If those who write would only leave
"A hop to his fast one" out.

WHERE THEY WILL FINISH—ON COPY PAPER.
(No. 5—Athletics and Phillies.)

Can the Athletics be stopped from winning another flag? Sure. Just as easily and deftly as John D. Rockefeller can go broke tomorrow or 2 plus 2 can be made to equal 11 1-4.

Baseball is as full of uncertainties as a startled penguin is replete with squawks, but unseemly Fate will have to start early and work late before Mack's team is headed in this jubilee year of 1914. Either that or Mack's club will have to loaf on the job about five months of the six.

SOME BALL CLUB? QUITE SO.

Here is a ball club that can bat, field, throw, run, fight and think. A ball club that can go out and win whenever it wants to; a ball club that has beaten Cubs and Giants, the two pennant winners of the older league, in twelve of their last sixteen world series starts. If it can compile an average of .750 against pennant winning machines, against two crack clubs led by Chance and McGraw, it can win a pennant in its own circuit.

The main issue at stake is whether or not the Mackmen have slipped from past days of glory. So far as any segment of the dope is concerned they should be even better.

Wally Schang will be an experienced catcher this season where last year he was a debutante.

Bush and Shawkey will be experienced pitchers this campaign, where in 1913 they were only breaking in. And the outfield, an almost new combination last year, will be better fixed for machine play.

The only hint as to any Mackian weakness last year was in the box. But when Mack was able to win while developing a new pitching staff, how can they beat him with said staff developed and ready to go the route?

He has Plank and Bender, with Bush, Shawkey, Brown, Houck, Wyckoff and Pennock to still the thunder of bludgeoning bats, and if this is a weak staff we'd hate to bat against one of recognized strength.

STILL YOUNG.

Mack is supposed to have a club now veering toward middle age. But outside of two pitchers and one outfielder among the regulars he hasn't a man aboard over twenty-eight. The average of his cargo is about twenty-five summers, winters having nothing to do with the case.

If they can beat this club for a pennant the dope might as well be decapitated, disemboweled and dumped into the river.

THE PHILLY AFFAIR.

Last season the Phillies won 88 games. Of this number Seaton and Brannan won 41. So the loss of Seaton and Brannen, if the laws of common division are to be trusted, means that Dooin's staff has been cut about half in two.

The Phillies still have a fine catching staff, one great pitcher, one fine infielder and a ranking outfield. But they have been jolted badly and in place of pointing toward the flag, as they might have done with Seaton, Brannen and Knabe around, their main battle will be to beat out Boston, Chicago and Brooklyn to finish in the first four.

THE LOSS OF SEATON

The loss of Tom Seaton will be the hardest blow. This man worked harder and took part in more games than any other pitcher in baseball except Walter Johnson. Seaton worked in fifty-two games, totalling 322 innings, six innings beyond his nearest rival, who happened to be Babe Adams. In addition to the twenty-seven games he won he saved many others by appearing in the nick of time with the stuff that counts.

If the Phillies can finish fourth they will have no kick coming after the robust rasps they have received since January 1.

The Phillies are not a dismantled ball club, by any means. They are not total wrecks by several leagues. But the flurry they have exhibited since 1911 is likely to be missing and it will be some time before they can climb back up again.

Speaking of money, what if the income tax man should rate C. W. Murphy on what he said he got for his Chicago Cub stock?

Jackets Play Tech Federals

Heisman's Varsity Will Play Team Composed of Ineligibles This Afternoon

The Tech varsity will tie up with the "Federal leaguers" of the school this afternoon at 3:30 in what promises to be one of the best games of the season.

The varsity is a good bunch of men, and, though they are all young, they have been going great in the past few days. But that "Federal league" bunch is about the best collection of baseball material in any southern college today.

The Federals are composed of players that are in school and are ineligible for varsity ball for various reasons and have organized a fast and heavy hitting team. The varsity has been going better this week than ever before and the chances are that they will be a great game when these two lock horns.

The varsity will line up with Witherington as catcher; Burr, first base; Tyler Montague, second base; Wooten, shortstop; Hill, third base; Johnson, left field; Edgar Montague, center field, and Captain Pound in right field. Just who will go on the mound for the regulars has not been decided. Morrison will catch for the Federals, Senter will be on the mound, while the initial sack will be held down by Jim Prease. Talley Johnson, on second; Fax Montague, on short, and Spence, on third, completes the in. Kauder, Cushman and Conway will compose the outfield.

Tech High Defeats Stone Mountain

In their first game of the local prep season, Tech High defeated the strong Stone Mountain team Tuesday afternoon by the count of 12 to 7. The game was played on the Stone Mountain diamond at Stone Mountain, Ga.

Tech High right at the start, grabbed a good lead, and increased it every round until the sixth, when from then on, Hall for Stone Mountain tightened up and not another Tech man crossed the plate.

Stone Mountain did not score until the fifth inning, not being able to solve Parks' delivery up to that time.

Birch and Graham played the best ball for the home team, the former getting two hits out of five trips to the platter, while the latter gathered in two safeties out of four attempts.

Parks pitched a nice game for Tech High, striking out eight men and allowing only seven hits. Meyers starred with the willow, getting four hits out of six trips to the pan.

Donald Fraser Defeated By G. M. A. Team

Making ten hits, and aided by nine bobbles that Donald Fraser made during the game, G. M. A. won out over Donald Fraser Tuesday afternoon at College Park by the count of 14 to 7.

J. Schenck was the individual star of the game, getting a home run, a triple and a single out of four trips to the pan. All of his hits came at the right time and in all cases men were upon the paths when he made his hits.

Smith, for G. M. A., pitched a nice game. Although he allowed nine hits, he managed to keep them widely enough scattered.

For Donald Fraser the playing of Malloy, Pollock and Phillips was the best. Malloy got three hits out of an equal number of trips.

PLAY IN SCRIBES' TOURNEY IS NOW WELL UNDER WAY

Play in the Newspaper Men's Golf tournament over the Brookhaven course for the trophy offered by Colonel Gentry as well as other special prizes is progressing very nicely. Already all of the first matches have been played save two. These are to be played by today, according to the conditions announced by the committee. Results of matches played by Tuesday night are as follows:

P. W. Hammond (6) defeated P. T. Balbour (12) 3 up and 2 to play.

"Doc" Atchison (7) defeated Rogers Winter (18) 2 up and 1 one play.

Milt Saul (5) defeated Hank Price (24) 6 up and 5 to play.

Archie Lee (12) defeated John Paschall (18) 4 up and 3 to play.

Tillou Forbes (8) defeated Evelyn Harris (13) 6 up and 5 to play.

Francis Clarke (9) defeated Keats Speed (7) up and 2 to play.

Tom Akers (15) defeated Dick Jemison (scratch) 2 up and 1 to play.

Bradford Byrd (36) defeated O. B. Keeler (16) 2 up and 1 to play.

Bob Small (8) defeated Homer George (24) 3 up and 2 to play.

J. R. Gray, Sr. (18) defeated John S. Cohen (10) 3 up and 2 to play.

James R. Gray, Jr (6) defeated George Auer (36.)

Sis Talvey (36) defeated R. H. Rowe (12) 3 up and 2 to play.

W. L. Halstead (scratch) defeated W. S. Farnsworth (10) 5 up and 4 to play.

Mike Cloffine (12) defeated Angus Perkerson (10) 1 up.

The matches between Brown and Seabrook, and Baskerville and Gortatowsky are yet to be played. According to results in the foregoing matches the following players are left for the second round of the first flight:

Hammond, Atchison, Saul, Lee, Forbes, Clarke, Akers, Byrd, Small, J. R. Gray, Sr., J. R. Gray, Jr., Talvey, Halstead, Cloffine and the winners of the two matches yet to be played.

Balbour, Winter, Price, Paschall, Harris, Speed, Jemison, Keeler, George, Cohen, Auer, Rowe, Farnsworth, Perkerson and the losers in the two matches yet to be played. According to agreement, play of the second round must be completed by the end of the present week.

Merkle Hits Homer In Second Inning

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.—Fred Merkle's home-run drive over left field fence netted the New York Nationals' first team its fourth consecutive victory Tuesday over the New Orleans Southern association team, the score being 1 to 0. The long hit was secured in the second inning while Bagby was pitching. Merkle later hit for three bases and also secured a single, his batting featuring the fast and errorless contest. Pitcher Art Fromme was invincible, twenty-seven batsmen facing him in the nine innings and one reaching second base. Three safe hits were secured by local batsmen, but the batsmen who followed hit into double plays in every case.

McCoy Lands K. O. on Chip

NEW YORK, April 8.—Al McCoy, of Brooklyn, last night knocked out George Chip, of Newcastle, Pa., a leading claimant for the middleweight title in the first round of their ten-round match.

The knockout came after one minute and forty seconds of fighting. The result was a great surprise as McCoy had been considered only a fairly good middleweight. The knockout was a left hooking upper cut which landed on the end of Chip's chin. Chip fell on his back, his head striking the floor and he was unable to rise at the referee's count of ten.

Chip weighed 162 1-4 pounds—six and a quarter pounds more than his opponent. It was Chip's first appearance in a local ring.

Mayor Will Declare Half Holiday for Baseball Opening

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN "MAKING IT EASIER FOR PAR" A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

Mayor Declares Half Holiday for The First Game

Uncle Jim Woodward Will Close City Offices for Half a Day Next Tuesday to Let Men Attend Opening Ball Game

Jim Woodward has taken a hand in the contest to land Atlanta out ahead again in the matter of attendance at the opening game of the Southern league schedule here on Tuesday of next week. The mayor has announced that he will declare a half holiday in all the city offices on that date, in order that each of the employes as desire may go out and attend the opening game.

Several other business firms have also signified their intention of closing up for the afternoon, and taking their entire forces out to help swell the attendance. This contest is based on the matter of paid attendance, and all games played by the baseball association are stamped with that notation, "paid opening day." This means, of course that every man who has received a courtesy pass from the association will be asked to pay for his ticket on that date.

The matter of attendance is being given lots of attention in other cities, as usual. Birmingham is out to win this big prize, and the fans there are going through the winner, whoever it happens to be, even if they don't win. Last year the race was very close and the locals won by an uncomfortable, close margin. Birmingham threatens to turn out 15,000 on that day, which means that the old wrestlers will have to keep clicking turnstiles on Tuesday afternoon to beat them.

However, Birmingham is not alone in the field. Even in New Orleans, one of the first towns that Johnny Dobbs, who has reported to take charge of the Pelican club, was to announce that they were going out after that attendance prize this year. Up to the present time the Pelicans have been drawing fairly well against big leaguers who dropped in the Crescent City for a series with the locals, and the fans have come to believe that Dobbs has a winning team. It is easy to understand, therefore, how they are in the line for that attendance record.

The same thing applies in Chattanooga. Manager Moore McCormick has gotten together a rousing good bunch of ball players and the fans see every one of a prospective winner from the first game in the southern league. With encouragement like that the Lookouts should surely turn out in big numbers for the opener. Last year the attendance narrowed to a trickle of dripping Birminghams in order to get a look at the team, but this year there are no such inducements. The fans are determined not to oust the local club, but to support it throughout the season, the Birmingham team, and its opening game at Rickwood field, the Crackers did not open at home. This means, of course, that the locals would be the favorites of the Barons' strength in addition.

It will certainly be a lot of boosting to promote other leading contestants, but there is no doubt that it should be done. The local chamber of commerce has written all of its members urging that they do all possible, and not let all of their employes who will be off on the first place, the game should prove a highly entertaining affair, and in the second place, Atlanta wants that trophy again. Get ready, and come out and help somebody with his.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE

Albany Wins Game From Jacksonville

ALBANY, Ga., April 8.—Albany won the opening game of the season here Tuesday by the score of 5 to 3. Good pitching for Albany, and poor support by two men to retain first base in the first five innings, allowed Jacksonville to score all its runs. Albany scored her first run in the sixth inning, and was followed by Morrow, who held the visitors hitless for the remainder of the game. Score by innings:

Charleston Defeats Savannah Team

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 8.—In a fast and listless game Charleston defeated Savannah here Tuesday, 4 to 2. The game was decidedly off-color in base fielding, which was responsible for the home team's runs, as each was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning. The batting and fielding of Shenton Tatis, for the locals, was a feature of the contest. Marshall was the only extra base hit, a double, when his hit to right field in the fifth scored both Cheney and Chase on balls, a batter hit and an error gave the champions their two runs in the sixth inning.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—Columbia team had no trouble playing rings around Augusta Tuesday afternoon and hammered both Andrews and Bruner all over the lot. Every Columbian except Kaufman, fattened his batting average all the way from 1 to 4. Holland getting a double, a triple and two singles. Winchell was in excellent form and kept Augusta's seven hits fairly well scattered. Teamwork was conspicuously absent in the local team.

Wrestlers End Match in Fight

DETROIT, Mich., April 8.—Several persons paid several hundred dollars to watch Vladek Zbyszko, brother of Stanislaus, and Ed "Strangler" Lewis, wrestle at a local armory last night. This is what they saw.

A near riot.

A number of free-for-all fights, which probably were better exhibitions than the main bout.

The wrestling match attracted a fairly large crowd, partly because Zbyszke has a large following among the Polish contingent and partly because it had been rumored the affair might wind up as a boxing match.

When it did Zbyszko's friends leaped from their seats and started toward the ring. Police immediately interfered and somebody awarded the match to Zbyszko on a foul. Somebody else declared all bets off. As a mob surged about the ring, the police broke it up and after hard work a number of troublemakers were ejected.

Pittsburg Feds Defeat Baltimore Feds

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 8.—In a game here Tuesday between Baltimore and Pittsburg of the Federal league, Pittsburg slaughtered Quinn in the initial inning, securing a six-run lead, but Baltimore gradually overcame this and won, 9 to 8. In the next six innings Quinn pitched mid-season ball. Leclair was a star for Baltimore.

Pittsburg	9	15	1
Baltimore	8	13	1

HERE AND THERE

By Innis Brown

Two gentlemen of respectful age met in a battle at Ponce de Leon park on Tuesday afternoon, under rather peculiar conditions. Reference is made to Charles Kissinger and Thomas Hughes. Being due all respect, there is no intent to refer to them in more familiar terms. Charles labored in behalf of the Atlanta baseball team, and suffered the humiliation of a defeat. By such a token, one would infer that Thomas won, which is entirely correct. Score, Thomas, 7; Charles, 6.

But to return to the matter of conditions under which Charles and Thomas were laboring. Eight years ago Thomas was a member of the local club, and as such did valiant service toward bringing distinction on the diamond to Atlanta. On the other hand, Charles was a servitor in the Eastern league, which is now the International. Now the fortunes of baseball are uncertain, and since those days divers things have happened to our friends Charles and Thomas.

Following a year of gratifying success, Thomas was elected to try more ambitious labors in the folds of Manager Clark Griffith's New York American league club. A bit of success, and a bit of disappointment attended Thomas' efforts, with misfortune gradually overshadowing success until finally he was sent to abide in the International league, which is now the International. Moving along in a rather humdrum way with Charles. Eventually, however, he wore out his welcome with the eastern ers, and he was sent to Memphis, and from there proceeded to come home with Mercer Charles an easterner, laboring for our home folk was pitted against Thomas once one of us, battling for the enemy.

All of which is a rather roundabout, rambling way to say to a bunch of sport fans that Long Tom Hughes, once the popular local favorite appeared at Ponce de Leon Tuesday shooting 'em over for the Rochester club against Handsome Billy Kissinger, who was for a long time a fixture in the Eastern league, but who is doing a bit of slabbing now and then for the Crackers. But that is just what happened, and as was stated above, Tom got by, even if on a matter of a single run.

The home boys got to Tom in rather vigorous fashion at odd times, but Tom and his help managed to do just a bit more damage than Rube et al could inflict on Thomas and associates. No less than seven safe raps were rung up on Tom's best assortment of hooks and slants, but while these were being compiled the Bronchos were nicking Rube for a baker's dozen, which as matters turned out, served to count one more run than our dozen, minus one, would produce.

From the standpoint of a critic, it could hardly be said that the game was a brilliant affair. Yet it was close, and there was a superabundance of hitting, popularly supposed to be the one feature that throws the baseball fan into raptures of delight. An afternoon that produces as many as six doubles and one triple, to say nothing of some sixteen singles, must be rated high above the average for sticking. This is just what resulted from Tuesday's wielding of the ash by the two clubs.

Eminent among the producers of swat may be mentioned Amby McConnell, who is credited with three safe blows. On his first trip up, Tommy McMillan threw Mac out to Courtney. On his next visit he knocked Schultz off his pins at third with a drive, which he beat to first. His third trip resulted in a two-base poke to center, which Barrows attempted to catch instead of playing safe. The fourth journey brought out a nice bunt which was beaten out.

Hack Eibel, Rod Lynch and George Kircher tore off a pair apiece during the fray. Hack had two doubles, Red a pair of singles, while Kircher halved each with a single and a double. One of Hack's doubles was a short fly which he stretched with some brilliant base running, while the other was a scorcher to the foot of the sign boards in right. Kircher took two bags on his slashing drive down the third base line. Smith was the hitting lad for the visitors with a single and two doubles in four trips up.

Concerning Eibel's work with the stick, it was a rather peculiar fact that the two times that he failed to hit he struck out. He went out on strikes his last time at bat. The third was called and Hack demurred strongly. It looked like it was low and inside. Tom Hughes had six strikeouts, including two on Reynolds and one each on Jennings, and Harry Holland batting for Kissinger. Rube got four on the strike route, with two on Hughes, and one each on Tommy McMillan and Breen.

Tommy landed his first good clean single in the two games played to date, when he came up in the ninth, and drove one of Rube's slants squarely over the second bag. It was a fast shot, and Rube and George Winters had to hurry to duck it. Tom's underpinning is rather weak just now, and as he trotted down to first he emitted a loud yell said yell denoting delight of a positive degree. Despite the bad fin, Tom got away to a running start and stole second cleanly.

Michigan Defeats Alabama Team

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 8.—In a listless game the University of Michigan Tuesday afternoon defeated Alabama in the second and last game of the series though Alabama outhit the visiting team players could not land safely when hits meant runs. Michigan, on the other hand, coupled hits with Alabama misplays and won.

Smith, who pitched for Alabama, was wild, yielding five bases on balls and most of the passes were later turned into runs. Sewell, Alabama's right fielder, did the heaviest hitting of the day, lacing out three hits, one of which was a home run, in five trips to the plate.

Wells' pegging was off today, and the Michigan men ran wild on the bases.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Michigan	220	020	100—	7	7	4

STRAY SHOTS AT SPORT TARGETS

BY INNIS BROWN

A NARROW MARGIN.

In one respect Fred Merkle is the gamest ball player in the great pastime today. In spite of the fact that Merkle was made the butt of a goat play, over which thousands of columns of stuff have been printed, the Giant first sacker stuck gamely to his task and has developed into a real big league ball player. Concerning the play, it is interesting to note just how close Merkle came to escaping all the rough stuff that was heaved at him.

A short time since Miner Brown started the report that Evers was not the man who was responsible for trapping Merkle at all. This started Trojan John on a little confab concerning the famous event, that serves to show how narrow was the margin that separated Merkle from any connection with the famous episode. In a game in Pittsburg a few days before the play occurred, Firstbaseman Gill was a base runner on the first bag, when a single was made and a deciding run scored in an eleventh-inning game. Gill never touched second and Evers noticed it at the time, but spectators and players had covered the diamond so that he could not carry out the play forcing Gill at second. Had he been able to do so, Gill would have been the goat, and no doubt the Giants, profiting by the performance, would have won the pennant, since the play-off of that memorable battle gave the flag to the Cubs.

YOU CAN'T TELL.

Up in Baltimore they have named the Federal league club the Terrapins, and some scribe rises to remark that he hardly understands how the team can be expected to win with such a moniker. Yet we seem to recall that a club dubbed "turtles" smeared up the landscape in this league a few years back. Furthermore we remember one instance in which so speedy a craft as the "Gulls" faltered, fluttered and fell.

Kitty Bransfield, manager of the Montreal club in the International league, slipped into Otto Knabe's Federal league training camp in Southern Pines several days ago. However, owing to the fact that emissaries of the Federal forces are not very graciously received in organized camps, Kitty hastened on to look up his old side partner Knabe and explain his mission. He admitted that Knabe had a few young players who had never been in organized ball that he would like to try out in ecse Otto proposed to turn them aloose. Apparently Kitty doesn't agree with the opinion that every player who signs with the Federals is a dead one, or else automatically commits baseball suicide by signing.

Over in St. Louis Cardinal rooters are calling Branch Rickey the Billy Sunday of the present day game. Yes, you know Branch won't even go to the ball park on the Sabbath. Well, if Rickey can pack them in through the trunstiles as successfully as Billy gathers them in, he will have the Cards hollering for help before the middle of July.

DOESN'T PICK 'EM.

And now they are saying that if Johnny McGraw loses many more ball field battles, he will lose much of his prestige with his players, seeing that a "moral" persuasion administered with a right swing or aleft jab is John's favorite form of discipline. However, even the fellow who fights and always gets licked is due some consideration. At least he isn't picking his men.

The score of a recent game between the Buffalo and Pittsburg Federal league teams shows that Joe Agler slammed out three safe raps. Two young men, Roberts and LeClair by names, were doing the hurling. Old Tom Downey hooked a couple of good ones the same day, one a triple and another a homer.

In a recent interview in St. Louis, President Barney Dreyfus, of the Pirates, charged the Federal leaguers with about every offense on the calendar except arson and mayhem. He also vouchsafed the statement that the newspapers were responsible for the new league. Seeing which, leaves some doubt as to whether Barney subscribes to the theory that "every knock is a boost."

OLD STORY.

During the training period of the Washington club in Charlottesville, two or three of the players were passing a cold, wet day with a few antics on a piano along with some choice vocal selections. Among others the athletes screeched out a few notes of "Marching Through Georgia." A rebel miss of some eight or nine summers stopped and delivered her opinion of the bunch singly and collectively, branding them as "hateful Yankees."

It happened that one of the party was Clyde Milan? Zeb hails from Linden, Perry county, Tennessee, where the so-called Yankee is about as popular as a revenue officer at a wildcat still. Doubtless the indignant little miss was not aware of the fact, still she had probably been told the story of the raven and the crows, so Zeb was due.

WALTER WILMOT, SAYS "GAME AINT WHAT IT USED TO BE"

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

Walter Wilmot and I were standing at the base of the mountain watching the Pittsburg team at practice in Hot Springs. You remember Wilmot? Oh, well, never mind. Perhaps twenty years from now Cobb will be forgotten, Wilmot was a great player with Ansons and Selees, Burke and Harry Tuthill, Chicago trainer.

"It isn't like the old days, Wally," I suggested.

"No," he said. "It's as different as learning farming on a farm and in an agricultural college. These fellows have all the better of it. Look at them; trainers, coaches, instructors in every department; men who know to tell them when they make a mistake and to show them the right way to do things."

Wilmot is right. The changes have come so that only when they are recalled by vivid comparison do we realize how many baseball changes have come in the last two decades, yes in the last decade. The work of preparing major league teams for the pennant races has become more and more important.

At Macon the Boston Braves had one of the most perfect establishments for training in the land; an entire floor of a magnificent hotel was set aside as training quarters. There were half a dozen shower baths, wonderfully equipped rubbing tables, with a trainer and rubber always in charge, hot rooms, lounging rooms, a card and reading room, and a meeting room.

At Gulfport, Detroit had magnificent batting and training facilities right at the ball grounds. Detroit perhaps has gone further than the other teams. Jennings has his daily lectures and discussions for the benefit of the youngsters. He has his assistants, Howard, Dowd and Jim McGuire, Burke and Harry Tuthill, trainer.

The sliding pit, a comparatively recent invention, has been taken up by the majority of the teams, and teaching players how to slide without hurting themselves has become one of the most important parts of spring training.

Another adjunct to spring training is hand ball, which has been found remarkably successful in keeping up the interest of the men. At Gulfport, Jennings has built three fine courts, and even after hard practice sessions the players will struggle through half a dozen games of handball. The New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox have used handball for several years. Heydler introduced it into the Reds' camp this spring, building two courts at Alexandria.

Many of the players are wild over golf, and up to date managers encourage their golfers and hunt training quarters with golf grounds within reach. A fellow who practices baseball two hours in the morning and two in the afternoon, then plays 36 holes of golf before dinner is likely to be in pretty good condition.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Questions and Answers

QUESTION.

Jack, La.

I would like to know how to build a pigeon house, and how large should it be accommodate twenty pairs of pigeons. I only have one pair now. I intend to raise my own. Do you think one pair will raise in a house that large? If not, how large should it be? I intend to raise squabs for the market. Are pigeons allowed their freedom while raising?

ANSWER.

A pigeon house suited for twenty pairs of pigeons should be six feet by ten feet width and length, and five feet high in rear and seven feet high in front. It should either have a glass front or an open wire front, with a curtain to be used in the winter time, would be just as good. A fly can be built of wire in front of this house where they can get out in the sun and fresh air.

It will take quite a while for you to raise twenty pairs of pigeons, just beginning with one pair, and it would pay you to buy ten to fifteen pairs of pigeons to start with rather than to invest too much in the house.

An ordinary vacant room would be a splendid place if you have such on the premises. If not, get an extra large dry goods box and put a tar paper cover over it. You can build ten to twenty nests in such a box, and by having a wire fly in the front can keep ten to twenty pairs of birds in it. It is best to invest your money in pigeons and use just a cheap ordinary house for them.

HELP REDUCE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING by planting a garden. A piece of ground thirty feet square will produce enough vegetables to supply an ordinary size family and they will taste a good deal better than the ones bought from the market. It's time now to plant spade up the ground, then come to Hastings' and get your seed. It doesn't matter how well you prepare your soil or how well you work it, unless you have good seed you can't have a good garden. Don't take any chances, but come to Hastings', we have the very best of all varieties for this section.

DAHLIAS, DECORATIVE AND CACTUS. The dahlia is now one of the most popular of all flowers and our new decorative and cactus flowering varieties will surprise you in beauty of flower and rich colorings. Can supply them in White, Red, Yellow, Pink, Purple and Variegated at 15 cents each, 2 for 25c.

HOUDANS

FOR SALE—"Faultless" Houdans. This strain has been egg-bred from trap-nest record since April, 1890. I have bred them 24 years for great layers and 14 years for large size chalk-white eggs. These fowls are extremely hardy, have neither comb nor wattle to freeze and are the best all-winter layers in open front coops. "Faultless" strain Houdans have won every blue ribbon at New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia shows for last six years. Eggs and stock sold on honor. Send 10 cents for the largest illustrated poultry catalogue ever issued; it tells you how to breed these fowls, which average 250 eggs a year apiece. It tells you how to net $3,000 a year from 100 hens. E. F. McAvoy, Secretary Houdan Club, Cambridge, N. Y.

Three New Bungalows

If you are thinking of building your own home and are not in the market for one already built, it will pay you to take a look at any one of these three places, since they represent absolutely the latest ideas in building.

The inside arrangement is one that will please any one. These homes are very compact, yet very roomy, no waste space, every foot of space being utilized for the benefit of the occupant. This important fact has been taught us by our past experience in building and we believe that these homes represent some of our best work.

The important inside detail work, such as hardwood floors, beamed ceiling, panel walls, show evident signs of workmanship that is different and better than the average.

These homes have sleeping porches and a number of other advantages that will have to be seen to be appreciated.

We believe that in these three houses we have every idea worked out that could possibly be wished for by any one, and we will be very glad to take you out at any time to see them. We feel sure that you will be interested after a good look, anyhow we will be glad of the opportunity.

About 150 feet off Gordon street. Nos. 250 and 254 Willard street, on lots 55x150 each. This location is very desirable, owing to its nearness to Gordon street car line and beautiful Howell park.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

ONCE

WHILE

A REALLY GOOD HOME

IS OFFERED AT A PRICE

WORTH WHILE.

As a rule the price is more than it would cost to replace the property, but we have a splendidly located HOME on Peachtree at actually less than it cost several years ago. If you should add the 20% in value that the ground has experienced, you can readily see an added saving of $7,500.

This place cost about $40,000; add $7,500 to the ground value and you have $47,500.

OUR PRICE IS ONLY

$30,000

That makes the description worth reading, doesn't it?

On Peachtree this side of Brookwood, on an elevated lot 550 feet deep, house sets back on a ridge, well back from the street in the finest residence section of Atlanta.

The owner built for himself, and put in the home everything a man who is able to have what he wants would install. Hot-water heat, instantaneous water heaters, big roomy garage and servants' quarters. TWO TILE BATHS, big sleeping porch. Solid mahogany-finished living room and everything else in proportion. The exterior of the home would suit anybody. Not a crazy ostentatious looking place, but stands out as the home of a gentleman.

We couldn't tell you over the phone whose place this is. If you are interested in a place like this, it's worth your while to come and see us. Owner is going to the country, and doesn't need the money, so you can buy on your own terms.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

OGLETHORPE PARK

Will Have the Most Beautiful Driving System in the South

OGLETHORPE DRIVE, a big boulevard extending through the S. C. Stovall property, past the Capital City Club and through the Hart estate, lying just north of the Brookhaven estate and the Country Club, thence into DeKalb County and through one land lot to Oglethorpe University grounds, and Silver Lake properties; thence on a direct route to Chamblee and extending north by way of Peachtree road with a network of lateral drives leading in every direction complete the system.

These properties will make only a few tracts, as it is to be cut into lots of two to five acres each. Each tract will be developed upon its own merits, and a carefully selected building site will be provided in each instance.

The route selected follows a ridge higher than any part of Peachtree road, overlooking the entire country. With the beautiful club property and lake in the foreground, it has the effect of a mountain plateau, with a great formal garden extending in all directions.

Some of the finest landscape engineers of this and other sections have inspected this property and express wonder that this plan has not been discovered sooner.

Below are the endorsements of some of the officials of the Capital City Country Club.

Mr. Edwin P. Ansley,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir—

I have seen the preliminary plans for connecting from Peachtree Road the Capital City Country Club properties and the Oglethorpe University and Silver Lake properties by the development of Land lots 11, 12 and 13. This will mold these valuable properties closely together and, when carried out, will be of much benefit to all the properties involved and one of the most important improvements made in the northern end of Fulton and western part of DeKalb County for many years.

I should think the merits of this proposition would fully warrant the Fulton County Commissioners of Fulton and DeKalb in co-operating liberally with you and your associates in opening up this property, which is sure to mean a large increase in the taxable returns from this section and its rapid development.

As you know, I have no personal interest whatever in any of this property, except my interest, as President, in the future welfare of the Capital City County Club. Knowing your ability and success in developing property in this and other sections of the country, I have confidence in your judgment and believe that if your present plans are carried out, your expectations in the success of the enterprise will be fully realized, and a second Ansley Park is destined to be developed in this beautiful section of Fulton and rapidly growing part of DeKalb County.

Yours truly,
ROBT. F. MADDOX.

WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC & MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

Candler Building
Atlanta, Ga., March 13th, 1914.

Mr. Edwin P. Ansley,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir—

The plan you have outlined for connecting the property adjoining the Capital City Country Club with that adjoining the site set aside for Oglethorpe University, with the splendid driveway, in which you make provision for a private right-of-way for the car line, is one of the broadest developments undertaken around Atlanta.

I did not know until I saw your plat that only one Land Lot separates the properties of Brookhaven Estates from that of the Silver Lake Estates, now in the market, and that on the north side of the Capital City Club property to connect with the University site, that there would be one hundred feet longer than by Peachtree Road.

The fact that you are willing to change your plans, so that your proposed driveways around the Club property form an attractive Boulevard system around the Golf Links, and are willing to locate your drive on the north of the Links, fifty or more feet from the Club property, and allow the use of this space that is very necessary to make this part of the Links as wide as they should be, is another evidence of your sincerity in dealing with your neighbors, and convinces me that your neighbors, and the public, have profited more than you have in all of your developments; but it is that broadness of vision that has made your developments successful.

I believe the Club and the University will certainly co-operate with you to the fullest extent in carrying out your development plans, and I hope that all adjoining property owners will do the same.

Wishing you success in all your plans, I am

Very truly,
T. JULIAN MCGILL,
Chairman Golf Committee,
Capital City Country Club.

If the club had a beautiful site on which to erect its permanent club, I believe its members would quickly subscribe to a bond issue to pay for such a club, and to induce the street car company to extend its car line to said site.

S. C. Stovall has agreed to donate the lot or tract marked "B" adjoining the club property, and I am willing to donate the tract marked "C" for a club site, and I am also willing to co-operate with Mr. Stovall in grading the driveway marked "Club Drive" across the club's property and that agreed to be deeded to it, provided the club will secure an extension of the Peachtree and Brookhaven car line from its present terminus to the north line of the property agreed to be donated to the club by me.

For the consideration named, and in order for the club to secure additional land for its new Golf Course, at a point where the links are getting much congested. I am willing to deed to the club the tract of land marked "D" on the plat, provided the club agrees to maintain said tract for club purposes, such as Golf Link and Park.

The Driveway marked "Club Drive" could connect the present and proposed new Club Building, both with an electric and an automobile drive. The driveways shown on the plat will furnish the most attractive driving system in the South.

As Oglethorpe Park will soon have nine or ten driveways into it, a few weeks' work will convert from sage fields, laps and limbs, into a beautiful suburban residence section.

When the Piedmont Driving Club burned, a few years ago, I offered my present home site (then in the rough) and forty acres adjoining, for a Golf Course, in exchange for its present five-acre site. Some of its members hooted at the proposition. Since that time, dozens of these same members have come to me and expressed their regrets. Therefore, I say, let's look to the future growth of Atlanta and its suburbs before the club reject an offer to acquire additional property that it will never have again, except at a large cost.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWIN P. ANSLEY.

Value of Building Permits Gradually Increases, Reducing Deficit of 1914 to Date—Investment Property and Subdivisions Seem to Be Features of Market Just Now—Public Sale at Court House—Out-of-Town Sale Note

The value of building permits thus far in 1914 is just a little over $50,000 behind the corresponding period last year. Large permits have been issued in April, but the year's deficit is gradually being reduced.

A permit was on Tuesday granted to Mrs. Mary M. Raoul for the erection of a two-story, brick veneer residence on Lullwater road, in Druid Hills. The residence will cost $18,000.

The gradual improvement in building is one of the most encouraging signs of real estate, and indications are that April will show a pronounced gain.

EXTREMES OF REALTY.

The success of investment property sales and some big subdivisions around town show that the market is concerned with the essentials of real estate.

There are two extremes—central property and acreage—and a glance at the county map will show that most wealthy landowners are represented by both central property and acreage.

The success of the Edwin P. Ansley sale of the Alabama street property of the Hemphill estate Tuesday was still discussed in real estate office Wednesday.

Two sales of similar properties, although not on thesamestreet, have also been made, although they are not in shape yet for formal announcement.

The general feeling was that the prices on the Alabama street property were reasonable enough, considering how close in it is and the substantial improvements on it.

Alabama street has taken quite a spurt recently since the produce men moved to Central avenue and brought increased traffic through Alabama street. Some of the most careful investors in Atlanta have bought there in the past few months.

PUBLIC SALE.

E. W. Clapp, of the Smith & Ewing agency, sold before the court house Tuesday for the administrator of the Mrs. A. L. Gilliam estate No. 238 Forrest avenue, a house on a lot 50x133, for $4,000. Mrs. Dora L. Barker was the purchaser.

OUT-OF-TOWN SALE.

CALHOUN, Ga., April 8.—The largest real estate deal ever transacted in Calhoun took place today when Henry Dover, formerly of this place, and now of Montezuma, Ga., sold his entire holdings in this community to Claude David, of the Calhoun National bank. The consideration was $20,000, and the property included the large Dover warehouse, which is now being operated by John T. Holland, of Dalton.

He said he became imbued with the idea of becoming an actress and would dress in very flashy clothes to live the part, thus arousing great attention to herself whenever she appeared in public.

Event to Be Held Here Causes Big Demand for Southern Scenes

Never have Atlanta and the south received such advertising as they are getting now through the fact that the Mecca of Shrinedom is to be located here next month.

For weeks the city's name has been in the publications that each temple in North America issues periodically. Recently its fame has been increasing. Pictures of Atlanta scenes, of scenes in other southern cities, and of views over historic fields of battle, are to be found now in practically every temple bulletin. All are getting ready to send big delegations, patrols, bands, and special feature stunts, to the Atlanta gathering. Each is drumming its members together for the big pilgrimage, and is telling them what they may expect to see at every point along the route of their caravan.

A full page description of Atlanta, with photographs, was offeged recently to all the biggest newspapers on the continent by the Atlanta chamber of commerce. Through the coo-peration of Forrest Adair, the Shrine temple in each city has encouraged the publication of that page.

"They are eating it up," said Forrest Adair, local potentate, referring Wednesday to the newspapers and the Atlanta page. "They all want it. In cases where the page did not fit their measure, they have asked for smaller mats, or for the individual cuts, or for the oroginal pictures from which to make their own cuts. In that one page alone, Atlanta is getting enough national publicity to more than pay her for what she will spend on the Shriners next month."

NEGRO PRISONER MAKES WILD DASH FOR LIBERTY

Mose Heard Flees From Court House With Mob in Pusuit and Gets Away

County policemen, marshals and deputy marshals, witness and other persons in the Thrower building joined in a head long chase down Mitchell street after a negro prisoner who broke loose on the third floor at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, dashed to the street five steps at a time and made a clean getaway toward Central avenue with the speed of a cyclone.

The darkey was Mose Heard, a Thomasville negro who had been bound over for felony before Judge Hathcock in the municipal court on the third floor.

Immediately following his dash for liberty there was so much excitement in the building that the identity of the escaped negro was merged into dozens whose guards rushed frantically around trying to find out if their prisoners had escaped too.

Heard was handed over by Deputy Marshal Dan Goodling to Deputy Hernandez immediately after his trial. Goodling told the other deputy to take the prisoner either to the jail or the prisoner's room on the floor above.

As Hernandez started along the third floor corridor with his prisoner, the darkey wrenched himself free and made a bolt for the stairs. County policemen lounging on the second floor heard crashing footsteps on the stairs. A black shadow hit the floor, took the turn at a bound and made the street in three leaps.

Hernandez was right at his heels, shouting to the negro to halt. Behind Hernandez came a mob of court attaches, deputies and court house idlers. The county police joined in the pursuit and on Mitchell street a dozen pedestrians took up the chase.

By the time Hernandez, who was leading, reached Mitchell street, the fleeing prisoner was a block away and going like the wind.

He was forced to wheel into the middle of the street to get afound three wagons at the curbing, but he turned back to the sidewalk again and was off down Central avenue.

By the time people about the court house had recovered from the confusion, seen that all the other prisoners were safe and found out what it was all about, both Heard and Hernandez had disappeared, with fifteen newsboys, six sidewalk critizens, a soda water clerk and three policemen.

At noon they were still missing.

Hernandez and the others pursued the negro for several blocks down Central avenue, but the black outdistanced them and when last seen was headed west on Trinity avenue at a rate that will get him to Birmingham before Thursday.

BRITISH ARMY AVIATOR IS DASHED TO DEATH

LONDON, April 8.—Sergeant Deane, of the British army flying corps, was instantly killed today at the Brooklands aerodrome while making his final flight as a pupil before receiving his pilot certificate. Deane ascended to a height of 1,200 feet and attempted a sharp spiral descent during which he lost control of the aeroplane.

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE
Are Told How to Regain Strength and Vigor

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Ivey, of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew how good Vinol does old people, I am sure you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before that did me so much good as Vinol. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used in my life."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble old people, and create strength we will return your money. Elkin Drug company, Atlanta.

DR. KRAFT TO LECTURE ON OPERAS IN AUDITORIUM

Organist to Play Selections and Explain "Lohengrin" Tonight

Dr. Edwin Arthur Kraft, city organist, will lecture at the auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock on the Wagner opera, "Lohengrin," which is one of the operas to be presented by the Metropolitan Grand Opera company in Atlanta this season.

This is in accordance with the usual custom of having the Atlanta organist explain and give selections from the grand operas which are presented in Atlanta each season. Dr. Kraft will read and explain the plot of the opera and will play the principal themes from it upon the organ.

Similarly, on Saturday night at 8 o'clock Dr. Kraft will lecture on Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," and will play the principal themes from that opera. Dates of lectures on the other operas to be presented here by the Metropolitan company will be announced later.

Congressman Howard's Argument Against Free Canal Tolls Published

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—William Schley Howard's argument against free Panama canal tolls was published in the Congressional Record today. He said in part:

"First, let us consider the platform of the Democratic party as promulgated at the Baltimore convention. I shall not question how the free-tolls plank for coastwise vessels got into the platform. It is there. Neither shall I question how, in the same paragraph, the solemn declaration against ship subsidy or special privilege got in there. It is also there.

"In connection with the bill now before the house, these two declarations are utterly irreconcilable and inconsistent. It is a human impossibility for me to remain silent and comply with both declarations, and it is also with impossibility to vote and comply with both. How, then, am I to act, what ple, upon the everlasting and indelible records of this congress?

"My sense of duty to those whom I represent compels me to use my best judgment and do that which will be most prudent and which will guard their interests most sacredly. So, Mr. Speaker, I shall do as I did before when this question was up for consideration—vote against any privilege to any person or number of persons that the humblest citizen I represent cannot enjoy and would not enjoy by virtue of granting free tolls to our coastwise vessels.

"If I should come to the forks of a road, and the signboard read, 'take the right or the left,' would I violate my instructions if I took either road?

"When we constructed the Panama canal, did we not accomplish a feat that the shipping trust could not do for itself? Have we not made it possible for coastwise vessels to carry every conceivable class of freight by shortening the distance of travel between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts more than 9,000 miles? Does not this great beneficence on the part of the people of this country outweigh suitable tolls asked for the privileges they will enjoy.

If you have any skin trouble, you want Resinol. You want it because you have known about it for years, because your friends and neighbors have used it successfully, and because you know that physicians have prescribed it for nineteen years in the treatment of eczema, rashes, ringworm, pimples and other distressing eruptions.

You do not want a "substitute" or something that a dealer tells you is "just as good as Resinol." You do not want it because you know nothing of its value. It has nobody's endorsement and for all you can tell it never did anyone any good at all. If a dealer tries to force a "substitute" on you, it is for a very good reason of his own—read about it in the next column.

Most druggists sell Resinol gladly. Small jar 50c, large jar $1; Resinol Soap 25c per cake. For trial size free, write to Dept. 4-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

When a clerk tries to make you take a "substitute" for Resinol, or any other standard article, don't blame him, blame his employer. The clerk probably would rather sell you the genuine Resinol, because he knows even better than you that doctors prescribe it and that it does heal skin troubles. Also, it is easier to give you what you want than to argue you into buying something you DON'T want.

But because some cheapy-made imitation pays a few cents more profit, an unscrupulous dealer here and there gives his clerk an commission if they can force you to buy instead of real Resinol. He soothes the fact that the imitation may do you more harm than good; or perhaps he just doesn't care, as long as he gets your money. How do you feel about it? Almost every town has its "substitutes." look out for him.
